HISTORY AND STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

HISTORY

"When the peculiar circumstances of a community demand it, and their benevolence will justify it, the establishment of a College having the Bible for its first charter, and the prosperity of the Church and our country for its great design, ought to be regarded as an enterprise of no common grandeur."

Davidson's first president, Robert Hall Morrison, in his inaugural address, August 2, 1838

Founded by Concord Presbytery, Davidson College opened as a manual labor institute in 1837. The college's name memorializes General William Lee Davidson, who died at the nearby Revolutionary War battle of Cowan's Ford in 1781. General Davidson's son provided the initial acreage for the campus.

The college seal and the college motto, Alenda Lux Ubi Orta Libertas ("Let Learning Be Cherished Where Liberty Has Arisen"), recall the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence; both seal and motto resulted from the suggestion of Peter Stuart Ney, an elusive Frenchman believed by some to have been Napoleon's Marshal Ney.

Original academic subjects included moral and natural philosophy, evidences of Christianity, classical languages, logic, and mathematics. Three professors, including Morrison, taught this curriculum to Davidson's sixty-five students.

Although Presbyterian-originated, the college maintained from the beginning its intent to educate students without regard to their denominational affiliation. Students came from a variety of religious and regional backgrounds. By 1860, Davidson alumni lived in twelve states and two foreign countries.

A bequest in 1856 from Maxwell Chambers of Salisbury, North Carolina, provided the college with the means to strengthen its base and expand its influence. The gift of a quarter of a million dollars made the institution, for a time, the richest college south of Princeton and helped the college survive through the Civil War years. It also provided for the construction of a central academic building that was named in honor of the college's first substantial benefactor. The present Chambers Building, which replaced the one burned in 1921, also bears his name.

While the college had a student body of only twenty-four men in 1866, during the post-war recovery period there was a gradual expansion of curriculum, faculty, and students. Newly added academic disciplines included chemistry, English, history, and physics. By 1890 the teaching faculty included its first Ph.D.-holding professors. Increasing growth in enrollment gave the college a student body of over 300 by 1910.

In 1911, the college offered the A.B. and the B.S. degrees, with the former requiring study of Greek and Latin, the latter allowing substitution of a modern foreign language in place of Latin. There were fifteen departments, though majors were not part of the curriculum until the 1920s. A strengthened financial base was augmented by the generosity of the Rockefellers who provided funds for replacing the original Chambers building and by annual support from the Duke Endowment which continues today.

The 1920s and 1930s saw courses in accounting, business, economics, and music added to the curriculum, as well as honors programs and seminars. In 1923, Davidson was selected as the third college in North Carolina to be chartered for a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Curricular revisions in the 1960s and 1980s altered the academic calendar and degree requirements, but retained Davidson's emphasis on a broad liberal arts education along with increasing opportunities for specialization, independent academic work, study abroad, and interdisciplinary programs.

First admitting women as degree candidates in 1973, the college has grown to over 1,600 students on campus. The teaching faculty numbers nearly 160. Changes in physical plant begun during the 1990s have supported the college's growth with new and renovated facilities for athletics, the visual arts, the sciences, residential housing, student and community activities, and the performing arts.

Recent academic program changes include the expansion of concentrations and the options for a second major or minor in many departments. Special attention is given to writing across the curriculum and includes small classes designed to help first-year students make the transition to college-level work and writing.

Davidson's underlying philosophy appears in the college's official statement of purpose.

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

Davidson College is an institution of higher learning established in 1837 by Presbyterians of North Carolina. Since its founding, the ties that bind the college to its Presbyterian heritage, including the historic understanding of Christian faith called The Reformed Tradition, have remained close and strong. The college is committed to continuing this vital relationship.

The primary purpose of Davidson College is to assist students in developing humane instincts and disciplined and creative minds for lives of leadership and service. In fulfilling its purpose, Davidson has chosen to be a liberal arts college, to maintain itself as a residential community of scholars, to emphasize the teaching responsibility of all professors, and to ensure the opportunity for personal relationships between students and teachers. Further, Davidson believes it is vital that all students in every class know and study under mature and scholarly teachers who are able and eager to provide for each of them stimulation, instruction, and guidance.

The Christian tradition to which Davidson remains committed recognizes God as the source of all truth, and believes that Jesus Christ is the revelation of that God, a God bound by no church or creed. The loyalty of the college thus extends beyond the Christian community to the whole of humanity and necessarily includes openness to and respect for the world's various religious traditions. Davidson dedicates itself to the quest for truth and encourages teachers and students to explore the whole of reality, whether physical or spiritual, with unlimited employment of their intellectual powers. At Davidson, faith and reason work together in mutual respect and benefit toward growth in learning, understanding, and wisdom.

As a college that welcomes students, faculty and staff from a variety of nationalities, ethnic groups, and traditions, Davidson values diversity, recognizing the dignity and worth of every person. Therefore, Davidson provides a range of opportunities for worship, civil debate, and teaching that enrich mind and spirit. Further, Davidson challenges students to engage in service to prepare themselves for lives of growth and giving.

Davidson seeks students of good character and high academic ability, irrespective of economic circumstances, who share its values and show promise for usefulness to society. In the selection of faculty, the college seeks men and women who respect the purpose of the college, who are outstanding intellectually, who have the best training available in their fields of study, and whose interest in students and teaching is unfeigned and profound. The Trustees commit to being faithful stewards of the traditions of the college. They are charged with governing under the Constitution and By-laws and with providing the financial resources necessary for adequate student aid and appropriate facilities and programs, including furnishing the faculty with the time and opportunity for creative scholarship fundamental to the best teaching.

As a liberal arts college, Davidson emphasizes those studies, disciplines, and activities that are mentally, spiritually, and physically liberating. Thus, the college concentrates upon the study of history, literature and languages, philosophy and religion, music, drama and the visual arts, the natural and social sciences, and mathematics. The college encourages student engagement with other cultures through domestic and international studies. The college also requires physical education, provides for competitive athletics, and encourages a variety of social, cultural, and service activities. While Davidson prepares many of its students for graduate and professional study, it intends to teach all students to think clearly, to make relevant and valid judgments, to discriminate among values, and to communicate freely with others in the realm of ideas.

Davidson holds a priceless heritage bequeathed by those who have dedicated their lives and their possessions for its welfare. To it much has been entrusted, and of it much is required.

ADMISSION AND FINANCIAL AID

Davidson is committed to its responsibility as a liberal arts college and seeks to enroll students from a variety of racial, economic, social, religious, and geographic backgrounds. Davidson seeks to enroll students who will contribute to the life of the college and who have the promise to make good use of their education after graduation. To enroll such students, every application is reviewed with care. Admission to Davidson is highly selective. Decisions are based on many factors, with evaluation in three general areas: (1) academic achievement as indicated by secondary school curriculum, grades and standardized test scores; (2) personal characteristics as evidenced in personal statements and letters of recommendation; and (3) outstanding interests, achievements, and activities, as demonstrated by participation in and contribution to the school, community, or religious organizations.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants must complete secondary school graduation requirements before enrolling at Davidson. Excluding consideration for exceptional circumstances, at least 16 high school units are required, although the student accepted at Davidson usually has taken 20 units. These units should include the following: 4 units of English, 3 units of mathematics, 2 units of the same foreign language, 2 units of science, and 2 units of history/social studies. It is strongly recommended that high school students continue for the third and fourth years in science and in the same foreign language, continue mathematics through calculus, and take additional courses in history.

Candidates considering Davidson should take at least five academic subjects each year in secondary school, unless the school curriculum is structured around four. It is important that a challenging academic program be taken each year, but especially in the junior and senior years.

All applicants are required to take the SAT of the College Entrance Examination Board or the ACT of the American College Testing Program and to have an official score report sent to Davidson. Registration for the test should be completed at least five weeks before the date on which the test is scheduled. Tests may be taken on any of the following test dates:

SAT Test Dates

|------------------|-----------------------|
| October 8, 2005 | SAT and Subject Tests |
| November 5, 2005 | SAT and Subject Tests |
| December 3, 2005 | SAT and Subject Tests |
| January 28, 2006 | SAT and Subject Tests |
| April 1, 2006 | SAT only |
| May 6, 2006 | SAT and Subject Tests |
| June 3, 2006 | SAT and Subject Tests |

ACT Test Dates

|--------------------|
| September 24, 2005 |
| October 22, 2005 |
| December 10, 2005 |
| February 11, 2006 |
| April 8, 2006 |
| June 10, 2006 |

It is recommended that juniors take the SAT or the ACT not later than the end of the junior year. This is especially important for those interested in the Early Decision Plans. Those interested in the Regular Plan must take the test no later than December of the senior year.

It is strongly recommended, but not required, that applicants submitting the SAT also take two subject tests of the College Board not later than the December test date of the senior year. A mathematics test is particularly encouraged. Subject tests in areas which will not be continued in the senior year should be taken in the spring of the junior year.

HOW TO APPLY

Students should notify the Office of Admission and Financial Aid as soon as they become interested in Davidson College. General information about the college will be sent at that time, followed by the preliminary application at the appropriate time.

The preliminary application should be completed and returned to the Admission Office with a $50 nonrefundable application fee. All applicants will then receive application essay questions, a transcript form, and recommendation forms. When all forms are completed and returned, and the results of the SAT or ACT and SAT Subject Tests are received, the applicant will be notified that the application is complete. All admission decisions will be available on the Web site and sent by letter.

Davidson College subscribes to The Common Application, a copy of which may be obtained from the High School Guidance Office. A student who intends to use The Common Application should call the Admission Office (1-800-768-0380) to request our Common Application Supplement or acquire forms from our Web site. A Common Application to Davidson is not complete without the Supplement.

All forms required to complete an application can be found at www.davidson.edu in the Admission section. Students may submit an application by mail or online.

Application deadline dates may vary from year to year. To determine the exact application deadline, please consult either a current copy of the Application for Admission or call the Office of Admission and Financial Aid at 1-800-768-0380. Current admission information may also be obtained from www.davidson.edu.

The Early Decision Plan is binding and is for applicants who are certain they want to attend Davidson College. Early decision applications will be accepted, denied, or deferred into the Regular Decision Plan pool of applicants. Those candidates who are deferred will be re-evaluated during the regular decision selection process. To apply through the Early Decision Plan, the student should:

1. Take the SAT or the ACT in the junior year and have the results sent to Davidson by the appropriate testing agency.
2. Complete all application requirements by the stated deadlines.
3. Submit the Early Decision Candidate's Agreement, which states that Davidson is definitely his/her first choice; and that if accepted, he/she will enroll and withdraw all applications pending elsewhere.

For those applying under the Regular Plan, letters informing applicants of the decision on their applications will be mailed or posted to the Web site prior to April 1. Applicants who are accepted under the Regular Plan are required to make a nonrefundable enrollment deposit by May 1.

CAMPUS VISITS

While not required, a campus visit is strongly encouraged. Evaluative interviews are not used as a part of the selection process. Group and individual information sessions are conducted by an admission officer or a senior admission fellow. The format of the session may be a group setting or an individual conversation; neither is evaluative. Visitors may plan to spend a number of hours on campus attending classes (Monday through Friday), meeting students and faculty members, and taking a campus tour. A limited number of overnight accommodations are available in the Guest House on campus. For reservations call 1-704-894-2127.

The Office of Admission and Financial Aid is open all year and appointments should be made on our Web site or by telephoning 1-704-894-2230 at least two weeks before the proposed visit. The TDD Relay Service available through Southern Bell is 1-800-735-2962. Campus tours and information sessions are scheduled daily and available on Saturday mornings during peak visitation periods (spring and fall). Please call the Admission Office to confirm the time. Detailed visit information is available at www.davidson.edu.

CREDIT EARNED PRIOR TO ENTERING DAVIDSON

First-year students may transfer a maximum of four credits from courses taken prior to entering Davidson. The maximum includes credits from AP, IB, joint enrollment, and summer school courses taken between high school graduation and college entrance.

Advanced Placement

Students who have completed college-level work in secondary school and wish to apply for placement or credit at Davidson should take the appropriate examinations offered by the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board. Interested students whose schools do not administer the examinations should arrange to take them at another school. For further information, call the Advanced Placement Program (AP) at 1-609-771-7300 or consult the AP Web page at <http://www.collegeboard.com/ap/students/index.html>. See the Registrar's Web page on the Davidson College site for specific examinations, scores, and course equivalents.

Academic credit will normally be granted for a score of 4 or 5, for a maximum of four course credits. Davidson does not award sophomore class standing for AP, IB, or joint enrollment credit.

International Baccalaureate Degree Credit

Davidson College recognizes the International Baccalaureate Program Examinations for admission purposes and placement. Placement decisions are made by the Registrar in consultation with the appropriate department chair.

Davidson College will normally offer one course credit to entering students for each Higher Level Examination of the International Baccalaureate Degree passed with a grade of 6 or 7, up to a maximum of four courses. See the Registrar's Web page on the Davidson College site for specific examinations, scores, and course equivalents.

Joint Enrollment

Students may receive credit for a maximum of two courses taken in joint enrollment programs if the courses are equivalent courses and meet all transfer requirements and if they are not used for admission to Davidson College. Transfer evaluation of college courses taken prior to graduation from high school requires:

1. An official transcript from the college or university attended;
2. An official letter from the college or university confirming that the courses were:
 - a. taught on its campus;
 - b. taught by a regular member of its faculty;
 - c. taken in competition with degree candidates of that institution who constitute a majority in those courses; and
 - d. a regular part of the curriculum of the institution.
3. An official letter from the high school principal or guidance counselor confirming that the courses were not used to satisfy high school graduation requirements.

Each joint enrollment program is evaluated on an individual basis after matriculation. The responsibility for having the above documentation sent to the Registrar's Office lies with the student.

TRANSFERRING TO DAVIDSON

Students interested in transferring to Davidson should complete the requirements for admission listed above and submit a complete college transcript and a statement of honorable withdrawal from the college(s) previously attended.

Davidson accepts transfer credit from other colleges and universities approved by a regional accrediting agency, provided each transferred course is consistent with the academic objectives of the college and the grade earned in the transferred course is comparable to a Davidson grade of "C-" or better. Credit for one full academic year at another college or university is normally transferred to Davidson as eight courses. The Registrar determines the amount of credit that may be transferred to Davidson.

Davidson will accept a maximum of 16 transfer courses toward graduation. The maximum number of transfer courses accepted for the major is determined by the major department.

NON-TRADITIONAL APPLICANTS

Non-traditional applicants such as home-schooled students or those seeking early admission to college should contact the Office of Admission prior to submitting an application. Non-traditional applicants should anticipate additional application requirements such as subject level testing in 3-5 areas (SAT) and/or an evaluative on-campus interview with the Dean of Admission and the Dean of Students.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ADMISSION

An increasing number of students from abroad are recognizing the value of a liberal arts education as a means of obtaining first-rate preparation for professional careers or graduate study. Davidson welcomes the presence of such talented international students as a vital part of the campus community. The college's goal is to help pave the way for that highly select group of individuals who will achieve prominence in a variety of fields—medicine, business, law, technology, the arts, and education.

Prior to enrollment at Davidson, an international applicant should have completed a program of study at the secondary school level expected of a student preparing for university entrance in his/her own country. All applicants must take the SAT available through the College Entrance Examination Board in Princeton, New Jersey. Applicants in South America, Central America (except Mexico), Europe, Africa, or Asia (except as noted below), write to CEEB, Box 592, Princeton, N.J. 08541-0592, USA. Applicants in Australia, Japan, Formosa, the Philippines, or Mexico, write to CEEB, Box 1025, Berkeley, Calif. 94701-1025, USA. Non-native English speakers must provide evidence of fluency in English through recommendations, writing samples, and successful performance on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), also available through the College Board. To register for the TOEFL, write to the College Entrance Examination Board, Box 6151, Princeton, N.J. 08540-6151, USA. The College Board number for Davidson College is 5150. Results for the SAT and the TOEFL must be sent directly to Davidson by the testing agency.

Davidson welcomes applications from international students wishing to pursue a four-year undergraduate degree; however, the college is not able to offer substantial financial assistance to students who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents of the U.S. If a student's personal financial situation is such that more than nominal assistance is required, he/she must be aware that competition for the available funds is keen; and it is advised that the student file additional applications to other colleges. International students applying for aid must submit the Foreign Financial Aid Form provided with the admission application material.

STUDENT FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE AND SCHOLARSHIPS

Early decision or regular decision admission to Davidson is offered without regard to financial circumstances except in the case of international students. In 2005–06 Davidson students will receive over $16 million in financial assistance from college sources. These funds are combined with grants, loans, and employment funds from federal, state, and other outside sources to form aid “packages” for Davidson students. While most financial aid is designated for students with demonstrated financial need, Davidson sets aside significant funds for merit-based scholarships. Students receiving need-based packages are eligible for merit-based aid.

Prospective students who wish to be considered for need-based financial aid must complete the CSS/Financial Aid PROFILE and the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Both forms may be completed online.

Financial Aid Policy

Davidson maintains a strong financial aid program to assist students whose families may not be able to finance the entire cost of a Davidson education. Determination of a student's financial need begins with the assumption that the parents and student have the primary responsibility to meet education costs to the extent they are able. Once need is established, Davidson makes every effort to help families meet college expenses through a combination of federal and state programs and Davidson's own financial aid funds.

Merit-based scholarships are offered to a small number of entering students. These awards are made without regard to financial need and are intended to recognize outstanding accomplishments and exceptional potential for future contributions to society.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Standards

In order to receive any grant, loan, or work assistance, a student must maintain satisfactory academic progress in the course of study he/she is pursuing at Davidson College. Students who fail to maintain satisfactory academic progress do not receive the following types of financial aid: Federal Pell Grant; Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant; Federal Work-Study; Federal Perkins Loan; Federal Stafford Loan; Federal PLUS loan; North Carolina Student Incentive Grant; North Carolina State Contractual Scholarship Fund; or Davidson College scholarships, grants, loans, or employment.

Satisfactory academic progress is reviewed annually prior to the beginning of each academic year. Because the definition of satisfactory academic progress for financial aid purposes parallels the definition of “good standing” as defined by the Faculty, a continuing student who is deemed to be in good academic standing also will meet the standards of academic progress for financial aid. First-year students, all of whom are required to meet rigorous admission criteria, are presumed to be in good standing throughout their first year provided they carry at least a half-time course load. Satisfactory progress for these students is assessed at the end of their first year.

Need-based grant support is available for a maximum of eight semesters (pro-rated for transfer students). A student may not receive Federal Title IV assistance for more than twelve semesters.

In cases where a student may be allowed to continue at Davidson even though academic standards have not been met, financial aid may be offered on a probationary basis for one semester if mitigating circumstances so warrant. If standards of progress are not met at the end of that semester, financial aid eligibility is lost until the student regains good standing.

Written notice is given to all students whose financial aid eligibility is rescinded for lack of academic progress. Students may appeal such decisions by writing the Senior Associate Dean of Admission and Financial Aid. Appeals should include an explanation of why satisfactory progress was not maintained; any additional reasons why financial aid should not be withheld; and supporting documentation from the Dean of Students and/or the College Registrar.

After financial aid has been withdrawn for failure to maintain satisfactory academic progress, students may re-establish eligibility by improving their grade point average and grade point totals at their own expense. Approved classes may be taken during summer sessions as well as the academic year. Students wishing to regain financial aid eligibility also must be re-admitted to the college by the Executive Committee of the Faculty and make proper application to the Financial Aid Office for reinstatement of their financial aid eligibility.

Honors, Awards, and Scholarships

A limited number of first-year students are awarded merit-based scholarships. Selection criteria generally are based on scholastic promise, ability, character, leadership, and promise of contribution to society, as evaluated in the application for admission by the admission staff and the Faculty Committee on Admission and Financial Aid. In the case of area or talent specific scholarships, selection also may be based on the outcome of an audition, interview, portfolio review, or writing sample. Scholarship specific application deadlines may apply. Please refer to the admission application for details.

General Scholarship Awards

Every admitted student is considered for general scholarships. Selection is made by the scholarship coordinator and the admission staff on the basis of the strength of the candidate's application for admission. Scholarships can be renewed throughout the recipients' upperclass years, provided grade point average and progress toward degree requirements are met. No separate scholarship application is required for these awards.

Special Competition Scholarships

Each admitted student is considered for the scholarships described below; no separate scholarship application is required. Nominees are selected by the Davidson College admission staff, the Dean of Admission and Financial Aid, and the scholarship coordinator. Finalists will be required to participate in a scholarship interview. The scholarships are renewable, providing the recipients meet grade point average requirements, make standard progress toward their degree, and are significantly involved in the life of the college community.

Thompson S. and Sarah S. Baker Scholarships: These scholarships, valued annually at the level of comprehensive fees, were established by this Class of 1926 alumnus whose prominence at Davidson foreshadowed his later civic and business leadership, and by his wife. They are offered to first-year students whose accomplishments, purposefulness, service, and maturity mark them as capable of the highest achievement.

John Montgomery Belk Scholarships: These scholarships were established by John Montgomery Belk, a member of the Class of 1943, whose career has been marked by extraordinary leadership and service in business, civic affairs, and the church. They are for students whose leadership in academics, student government, athletics, or service distinguish them as capable of the highest achievement; and are valued annually at the level of the college's comprehensive fees.

Lowell L. Bryan Scholarships: Two $25,000 scholarships are offered to first-year students who have the capacity and ability to contribute in a superlative manner to their sport and to the academic and co-curricular life at Davidson. The scholarships were established by Lowell L. Bryan, Class of 1968.

Erwin Scholarship: This tuition award (not to include fees) is offered to a first-year student on the basis of leadership, academic excellence, and integrity. The scholarship was established by Goudyloch Erwin Dyer and her husband Robert C. Dyer, in memory of her brothers George Phifer Erwin and Edward Jones Erwin, Jr.; her father, Davidson professor of English Edward Jones Erwin; and her grandfather George Phifer Erwin. (Not awarded every year.)

Missy and John Kuykendall Scholarships: Three awards are offered annually in each first-year class. Established by the college family in honor of Davidson's fifteenth president, John Kuykendall and his wife Missy, the Kuykendall Scholarships are for students who, through their habits of mind, leadership, and character, offer the potential to provide the college community the kind of servant leadership that characterized the thirteen-year presidency (1984–1997) of John Kuykendall, Davidson Class of 1959. Scholars are chosen for their personal character, academic accomplishments, generosity, thoughtful leadership, humane interests, and sense of kindness. The scholarships are valued at $10,000 each.

Amos Norris Scholarship: This full cost award has been created by Robert Norris, Davidson Class of 1972, in honor of his father, Amos Norris. The award is offered to an outstanding first-year student athlete with integrity, a strong work ethic, and excellent leadership qualities. Nominees are identified by the Dean of Admission and Financial Aid and the Director of Athletics. (Not awarded every year.)

John I. Smith Scholars Program: These two full tuition awards, established by the John I. Smith Charities, Inc. of Greenville, S.C., in honor and memory of College Trustee John I. Smith, Davidson Class of 1924, are offered annually to first-year students on the basis of leadership, academic excellence, and a commitment to community service.

William Holt Terry Scholarships: These two full-tuition awards, created to honor Dean Terry (Davidson Class of 1954 and Dean of Students for 23 years), are offered annually to first-year students who have demonstrated exemplary leadership skills and personal qualities through student government, athletics, service, or other activities.

Special Application Scholarships

These scholarships are defined with specific reference to particular areas of study or talent and require a separate application for consideration. Detailed information is included in each student's admission application materials.

Special application scholarships can be renewed throughout the recipients' upperclass years at the college, provided grade point average and progress toward degree requirements are met. Any additional renewal requirements are listed in the scholarships' descriptions.

Rupert T. Barber Scholarship: One $2000 award will be to a student who demonstrates exceptional talent and passion for theatre upon entering Davidson College. The award is renewable for four years of study at Davidson, based on grade point requirements and active involvement in the theatre program throughout all four years of attendance.

Romare Howard Bearden Scholarship: This $10,000 award is offered to a student with exceptional ability and promise as a studio artist. Preference is given to African-American students. The recipient must declare a major in art (either studio or history) to retain the award for all four years. (Not awarded every year.)

Patricia Cornwell Scholarships in Writing: The $20,000 award was established by Patricia Cornwell, award-winning novelist and member of the Class of 1979. Offered to a first-year student, the Cornwell Scholarship recognizes students with exceptional ability and promise in writing. Cornwell Scholars may be creative writers of poetry or fiction, drama or film; writers who combine creativity with a knowledge of science or technology; journalists; or other writers who demonstrate extraordinary talent. Cornwell Scholars are expected to be actively involved in the writing community.

Julius Dobson Neely and Joseph Dobson Scholarship: $5,000 is awarded to one student in each first-year class who expresses an interest in Latin as a major field of study and who has shown significant experience and success in the field.

First Union Teaching Scholarship: This award is offered annually to exceptional first-year students interested in pursuing a career in teaching. The number and size of awards will vary.

Music Scholarships: The music department offers many scholarships, which are provided through the Vail Family, Donald B. Plott, Zachary F. Long, Jr., J. Estes Millner, and James C. Harper Endowments. The scholarships are awarded on the basis of auditions which are held on specific weekends during the year. The scholarships are renewable subject to annual evaluation. In addition, music majors are eligible to apply for grants to study away from campus.

Pepper Visual Arts Scholarship: One $5,000 award is given each year to a first-year student. Selection is based upon the Art Department's review of slides and/or photographs of the applicant's portfolio. The scholarship is renewable for the sophomore year on the basis of satisfactory academic progress; it is renewable for the junior and senior years if the student declares a major in art.

W. Olin Puckett Scholarship: One $10,000 award is offered in each first-year class to a student leader with academic distinction who is preparing for a career in medicine or the sciences.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Staley Scholarship: One $5,000 award is offered each year to a first-year student interested in pursuing a career in the ministry.

Williams Challenge Scholarship: One $10,000 scholarship is available annually to a first-year student as a challenge to consider the ministry or other church-related vocations. An additional $1,000 annually helps support an internship or conference attendance.

National Merit Scholarships

Three awards are offered annually to first-year students selected from among those who have been identified as National Merit finalists and who have designated Davidson as their first choice college. In compliance with National Merit directives, the size of the award is linked to established financial need: the minimum award is $750; the maximum award is $2,000.

International Scholarships

A limited number of students who are nationals of countries other than the United States receive financial assistance each year. These funds vary in amount and are based on a combination of need and merit. The International Student Financial Aid Application of the College Scholarship Service should be submitted to the Office of Admission and Financial Aid along with Davidson's application for admission.

Children of Presbyterian Ministers

Davidson College, in recognition of its long and significant relationship with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), ensures that all Davidson students who are children of ordained Presbyterian (U.S.A.) ministers will receive at least $1,000 in renewable, annual grants from Davidson College. Students not receiving this amount through other merit-based or need-based grants are funded through the John Richards Hay and Sara Craig Hay Scholarship Program.

The Julian and Robert Lake Scholarship is a $15,000 merit-based scholarship awarded to a member of each first-year class who is the child of a minister in the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.). Selection is made by the Dean of Admission and Financial Aid and the scholarship coordinator based upon the student's application for admission.

Outside Resources

In addition to awards controlled by the college, students at Davidson receive funds from a variety of external sources, including the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), and many others. Information about locating and applying for such assistance may be obtained from high school counselors or the Office of Admission and Financial Aid.

Army ROTC Scholarships: Awarded on merit, not need, to both men and women. Army scholarships pay up to $23,000 for Davidson's tuition, and a personal expense allowance of $350 a month, depending on the cadet's class status, for up to ten months per school year. Two- and three-year scholarships are available to enrolled Davidson students. Students interested in either the two-, three-, or four-year scholarships may obtain an application by contacting the Davidson College Department of Military Studies.

A Davidson student also has access to other military programs, including the Navy and the Air Force with financial assistance being possible as a result of participation in a program. Registration for the Air Force program at UNC Charlotte is possible following the Charlotte Area Educational Consortium (CAEC) cross-registration procedures.

Federal and State Grant Programs

Federal Pell Grants: Pell Grants provided by the federal government are a form of gift aid based on a federal need-analysis formula. They range in value up to $4,050 for 2005–06. Information is available in high school guidance offices, college financial aid offices, and from the U.S. Department of Education.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants: These federal grants of up to $4,000 per year are available to students who demonstrate high financial need according to Davidson's analysis of the FAFSA and the PROFILE .

North Carolina Legislative Tuition Grants: The State Legislature of North Carolina provides a tuition reduction grant each academic year to all full-time undergraduate students who are legal residents of North Carolina attending private institutions in the state. In 2004-05 this grant was $1,800.

North Carolina State Contractual Scholarship Fund: These grants of up to $5,000 per year are available to residents of North Carolina who demonstrate financial need according to Davidson's analysis of the FAFSA and the PROFILE.

North Carolina Student Incentive Grants: Grants of up to $1,500 per year are made by the State of North Carolina to residents who demonstrate high financial need according to the State's analysis of the FAFSA.

Other State Programs: Students who do not live in North Carolina should ask their guidance counselors about possible funding from their own states.

Student Loans

Federal Perkins Loans: The availability of these federal loan funds varies as appropriations and repayments fluctuate. Perkins Loans are made to students as part of a need-based financial aid package. Loans may be made up to $4,000 for each year of college and a maximum of $20,000 total for undergraduate study under the Perkins program. No interest is charged while the student is enrolled at Davidson. Repayment begins nine months after graduation and may extend over a ten-year period. Minimum repayment is $30 per month. During the repayment period, five percent interest is charged on the unpaid balance of the principal of the loan.

Federal Stafford Loans: Through this federal program, participating banks and other lenders make loans of up to $2,625 for the first year of an undergraduate program, $3,500 for the second year, and $5,500 per year for the third and fourth years of undergraduate study. In North Carolina, loans are made by the College Foundation, Inc. Additional information is available from the Office of Admission and Financial Aid.

Federal PLUS Loans: Through this federally guaranteed loan program, parents may borrow up to the cost of attendance minus other aid. The variable interest rate is adjusted annually. Monthly repayment begins within 60 days of disbursement. Applications and more information are available in Davidson's Financial Aid Office.

Other Loan Programs: Students may wish to pursue loans through the GATE Student Loan or through other alternative loan sources. Information about these loan programs is available from the Office of Admission and Financial Aid.

Employment

More than 400 Davidson students have on-campus jobs awarded as part of the need-based financial aid package. Assignment to a specific job is made by the Office of Admission and Financial Aid. Entering students usually are able to work ten to twelve hours a week without handicap to their academic work. Funding is available through the Federal Work-Study Program and from Davidson College. A portion of federal work-study funds is earmarked for students employed in community service activities. Campus work opportunities for students who may not have financial aid eligibility are available in several departments. Students are urged to contact departments directly. Off-campus employment opportunities may be explored through various college publications.

Student employees are paid monthly by direct deposit on the 15th of the month following the pay period.

TUITION AND FEES

During the summer preceding the academic year, each student receives a complete bill for tuition and fees. Scholarship and grant awards from Davidson College, loans for which the parent or student have applied, and federal and state sources are noted on college bills. Outside awards, campus jobs, and loans which have been offered but have not been applied for are not shown as credits. Advance payment by mail is required, as it is easier for both the student and the college.

The fees for the 2005-2006 academic year are as follows:

|---|----------|
| Required Student Charges (tuition, student activity fee) | $28,667 |
| Room (double) | 4,308 |
| Meals (full board) | 3,850 |
| | $36,825 |

Fees are payable in two installments (August 12 and December 22). Please note that Davidson College does not accept credit card payments for tuition, room, meal plans, and fees. An orientation fee for new students ($100 for first-year students and transfers) is included in the fall semester billing. Other fees may also be required. See "Additional fees."

A student who is unable to pay fees in full by the installment due date must contact the Business Services Office prior to that date. No student will be allowed to return for any semester if his/her account is not paid in full or if arrangements to use the college approved payment plan have not been made prior to the due date. There is a $25 penalty charge for late payment. Interest charges at 18 percent per annum are also assessed on late payments.

In order to graduate and receive a diploma, all financial obligations to Davidson College must be paid in full. Furthermore, no official transcripts will be released until a student has met all financial obligations to the college.

Students who enter at the beginning of the spring semester will be billed one-half of the required student charges, room, and meal fees listed above.

After the tenth day of classes, no refunds on tuition or room rent will be made. Fees paid in advance for subsequent semesters for which a student does not register will be refunded in full subject to the notification deadlines specified in the “Academic and Personal Leave” policy that follows. Fees for meals are refunded on a pro-rata basis determined by the week of withdrawal.

The usual fees include:

1. Room: Rent is $4,308 for double occupancy. Singles and suites cost $5,201. Martin Court Apartments are $5,389. All students are required to live on campus for their entire college career unless officially excused by the Director of Residence Life.
2. Meals: A full board plan based on 19 meals per week is required for all first-year students during the fall semester. The second semester, first-year students may choose from the 19-meal plan or an identically priced 16-meal plan. The 16-meal plan provides additional food points (Bonus Bucks) to be used in any of the campus food locations (Commons, Union Café, Wildcat Den, and vending machines). Upperclass students may choose from a variety of meal plan options each semester. The college does not provide meals during semester or holiday recess periods. Meal plans may be changed without penalty during the first week of classes. After that time, a student incurs a 15 percent charge when changing to a lower meal plan or canceling a meal plan altogether.
3. Medical Care: Routine medical care (not full health service) is available at the Student Health Facility. The college contracts with a nearby medical group for provision of part-time medical services at the Student Health Facility. Male and female physicians rotate scheduled appointments during “sick call” on weekday afternoons. They also provide after-hours emergency consultation to our nurses. The college’s professional staff of registered nurses (RNs) are on duty at the Student Health Facility on weekdays from 7:30 a.m. until 9:30 p.m. Overnights and weekends, an on-call nurse is accessible to students by pager (704-337-7047) to assess the need for immediate face-to-face evaluation, regular sick call assessment, or referral to a local hospital emergency room. Outpatient services provided at the Student Health Facility are free of charge, with the exception of laboratory tests and for supplies and medications costing more than $10. Students are also financially responsible for any additional medical services, such as X-rays, performed at other medical facilities. When observational or recuperative needs of an ill student render residence hall housing inadequate, the Student Health Facility has the capacity to accommodate overnight/weekend inpatient (“infirmary”) students. For this, there is a comprehensive charge of $25 per day, which covers meals, routine medications, bandages, and other supplies. All Student Health Facility charges are billed directly to the student’s college account.
4. Laundry: The college laundry furnishes bed linens to students and provides wash, dry, and fold services of everyday laundry. Washing and pressing of shirts and blouses is included in this service. Students who fail to return their bed linens directly to the front counter at year’s end will be charged replacement cost. Dry cleaning, pressing, alterations and the laundering of large pieces (sleeping bags, blankets, quilts, etc.) are available at competitive prices.
5. Mail: A mail box at the Davidson College Post Office.
6. Activity fee: The fee is for student publications, student government, and social and cultural activities.

Additional fees include:

1. Applied music fee: The hour-per-week applied instruction for majors in the Department of Music is covered in the usual fee, but there are separate charges for additional instruction or for private lessons for those who are not music majors. Fees per semester for individual instruction in voice, piano, organ, or orchestral instruments are: one-hour lesson per week $600 and one half-hour lesson per week $340. Charges are $20 per semester for use of practice facilities.
2. Student accident and sickness insurance: All students attending Davidson are automatically enrolled in the insurance plan. The $370 fee is charged to each student's account. Students covered by comparable insurance may be exempted from the student insurance program by submitting a signed waiver request form on or before August 12th.
3. Enrollment deposit: All students are required to make a $300 deposit prior to enrollment. This deposit is maintained on account during the student's enrollment, and is refunded, net of fees and fines, following graduation. A student must maintain the $300 enrollment deposit in order to be granted on-leave status.
4. Study abroad administrative fee: A student studying abroad on a non-Davidson program for a semester or year is charged a non-refundable $350 administrative fee. This amount is billed to the student's account when the completed "leave" request form is submitted to the Registrar.
5. Transcripts: There is a fee of $3 for each transcript. An additional fee will be assessed if special (express) mailing is required.
6. Vehicle registration: A fee of $50.00 will be charged to register each vehicle kept on campus.
7. Miscellaneous fees: Students pay fees for late registration, late drop/add, library fines, damaged property, parking fines, lost post office keys, etc., when incurred. A penalty of $20 will be charged on all returned checks.

Academic and Personal Leave

A student who wishes to take academic or personal leave from Davidson College may do so upon approval from the Registrar and Dean of Students. Guidelines are available from the Registrar. After March 15, a penalty of $250 is charged if a student receives approval for academic or personal leave beginning the following fall semester. A $500 penalty applies after June 15. In like manner, a penalty of $250 is charged if a student notifies the Registrar after November 1 that he or she does not intend to enroll for the spring semester, and a $500 penalty applies after January 1.

A student studying abroad on a non-Davidson program must pay the non-refundable $350 administrative fee. (See 4 above.) A student must pay his or her account in full and maintain the $300 enrollment deposit in order to be granted on-leave status.

Withdrawal

A student is charged $250 if the student notifies the Dean of Students after March 15 that he or she plans to withdraw from the college. After June 15, the charge is $500. If during the fall semester a student notifies the Dean of Students after November 1 of his or her intention to withdraw from the college there is a $250 charge. After January 1, the charge is $500.

In order to receive a refund of the $300 enrollment deposit, a student's account balance must be paid in full.

REFUND POLICY

Davidson's policy is to refund 100 percent of tuition or room rent if a student withdraws before the tenth day of classes. Otherwise, no refund of tuition or room rent is made. Fees for meals are refunded on a pro-rata basis as determined by the date of withdrawal.

The college offers tuition-refund insurance through AWG Dewar, Inc. Detailed information may be obtained by calling 617-774-1555.

Return of Title IV Funds

In accordance with federal law, if a student who is a recipient of Title IV grant and/or loan funds (Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal Perkins Loan, Federal Stafford Loan, Federal PLUS Loan) withdraws during a payment period, Davidson College must determine the amount of Title IV funds the student has earned. That amount is determined by a formula established by federal law.

If a student has received less Title IV funds than the student has earned, the student may receive the additional earned funds. If the student has received more assistance than he or she earned, the excess funds must be returned.

If the student withdraws before completing 60 percent of the payment period, the amount of assistance that a student has earned is determined on a pro-rata basis. For example, if a student completes 30 percent of the payment period, the student has earned 30 percent of the assistance he or she originally was scheduled to receive. Once a student completes more than 60 percent of the payment period, the student has earned all of the assistance.

If a student has received excess funds, Davidson College must return a portion of those funds equal to the lesser of (1) the institutional charges multiplied by the unearned percentage of the student's funds, or (2) the entire amount of the excess funds. After Davidson has allocated the funds for which it is responsible, the student must return the remaining amount.

Unearned Title IV funds returned by the institution and/or student must be returned in the following order: Unsubsidized Federal Stafford loans, Subsidized Federal Stafford loans, Federal Perkins loans, Federal PLUS loans received on behalf of the student, Federal Pell Grants, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity grants, other grant or loan assistance authorized by Title IV.

Detailed rules and laws related to these calculations are available upon request from the Office of Admission and Financial Aid.

Credit Balances

A student generally may receive a distribution of a credit balance from his/her account only once during each semester. After the conclusion of the late drop/add period, a student may request a refund in the Business Services Office. Normally, refunds are issued within two weeks of the request date. However, no funds will be issued until the student has an actual balance on his/her account. Refunds for Federal Title IV recipients are made in accordance with the refund policy specified by the U.S. Department of Education.

GENERAL STUDENT ACCOUNT INFORMATION

Books: Books and other supplies are available at the Davidson College Bookstore. Purchases may be made with cash, check, gift card, traveler's check, VISA, or MasterCard, or through the CatCard Services Office declining balance charge system. The cost of books varies with the course of study and ranges from $900 – $1,000 per year.

CatCard: The 'CatCard' is an all-purpose identification card that can be utilized throughout campus. A magnetic stripe on the CatCard provides access to the residence halls, the Library, Baker Sports Complex (recreation and spectator uses), and several academic buildings. The CatCard also holds meal plan information and declining balance funds. Students and parents may deposit money at the CatCard Services Office (or via phone with a credit card) into a declining balance account that allows students to make purchases without using cash at all on-campus dining and retail locations and in some vending areas. It may be used at the College Union for purchases ranging from concert tickets to video rentals. The CatCard is also accepted by a limited number of local restaurants.

Lost or damaged cards are replaced for a fee at the CatCard Services Office in the lower level of Belk Residence Hall during regular business hours Monday–Friday.

Deferred Payments: Davidson College collects fees in two installments, but it recognizes the need, or preference, of many parents to pay on a monthly basis. Educational Computer Systems, Inc. (ECSI) is the college's approved payment plan company. Information may be obtained at www.ecsi.net or by calling 1-888-549-3274.

Fire or theft: The college assumes no responsibility for damages or loss of personal property due to fire, theft, or other casualties. The student's personal or family property and casualty insurance will normally provide limited coverage for such a loss.

Insurance: All currently enrolled students are required to purchase student health insurance or provide a written waiver verifying adequate coverage by August 12.

Upcharge fee: $10 is taken from the first deposit of each school year. Because federal and state banking regulations govern card transactions, students or parents may withdraw funds from the declining balance account for only two reasons:

1. Graduation or withdrawal of student from Davidson College.
2. For year end refunds (requested during the last 15 days of the academic year).

CAMPUS LIFE

The “Davidson Experience” is not confined to the classroom, and the college offers students a broad environment in which to develop socially, physically, intellectually, and spiritually.

THE HONOR CODE AND THE CODE OF RESPONSIBILITY

As students and alumni proudly attest, the honor system at Davidson is the touchstone of the college life, creating an atmosphere of trust in the college community. In addition to faculty and administration support, the students believe in this system, defend it, and shoulder the responsibility for its implementation. Evidences that the system actually works are the open stacks and unguarded doors of the library, the absence of proctors during tests, the self-scheduled final examinations, and the sense that a person’s word is his or her bond.

The Honor Code is very simply stated:

“Every student shall be honor bound to refrain from cheating (including plagiarism). Every student shall be honor bound to refrain from stealing. Every student shall be honor bound from lying about official college business. Every student shall be honor bound to report immediately all violations of the Honor System which come under his or her observation; failure to do so shall be a violation of the Honor System. Every student found guilty of a violation shall ordinarily be dismissed from the college for a period.”

Entering students sign a pledge that they will live under the system, which includes the condition that they will report an observed violation. A student who does lie, cheat, or steal is tried under the Code of Disciplinary Procedures. Students who admit guilt or who are found guilty by the Honor Council are ordinarily suspended from the college.

The Code of Responsibility is the basis of daily life at Davidson and attempts to foster an atmosphere of good conduct by emphasizing “the responsible use of freedom, as opposed to license.” However, students who violate the rights of others are subject to sanctions as applied under the Code of Disciplinary Procedures.

The college community believes that these two codes are an integral part of the educational experience, helping students to develop an honorable, responsible lifestyle. The codes produce an atmosphere of trust and freedom rarely found among American colleges; they form the cornerstone of this community.

RESIDENCE LIFE

As a four-year residential college community, Davidson houses approximately 95 percent of its student body. Students grow emotionally, spiritually, and intellectually in residence hall settings. Daily interaction of students within the residence halls has helped to build campus traditions unique to Davidson.

The Residence Life staff assigns first-year roommates and rooms with special attention to the learning and leadership styles of each student, as well as family and educational background. All first-year students are required to live on a first-year hall with about thirty classmates for the entire year. Single rooms are not available to first-year students. Two upperclass hall counselors live on each first-year hall and work closely with residents easing their transition into campus life. This is an exciting and challenging period for students, highlighted by hall rivalries, social activities, intramural sports, and community service projects. During this time, first-year students learn the difficulties and rewards of communal living and develop a sensitive appreciation of people with different backgrounds and needs. Close friendships which are established during this year regularly continue throughout a student's Davidson years.

Each spring upperclass students participate in a lottery process to select rooms from among eleven traditional residence halls and six apartment-style residence halls. Most students participate in the lottery in pairs, as most rooms are designed for double occupancy. There are a limited number of single rooms from which to choose. All residence halls are equipped with lounges, some have kitchen facilities, and all are air conditioned. Each apartment contains a living room, kitchen, and four or five single bedrooms. The college provides each student with a bed, mattress, desk, desk chair, chest, and space for hanging clothes. All students share with the college the responsibility to maintain a clean, safe, and enjoyable living environment in the residence halls. A resident advisor is assigned to each upperclass floor or building to promote cooperation and accountability on each hall. Additionally, a courtesy policy protects a student's right to sleep or study at any hour.

Because the college is able to accommodate such a large percentage of its student body in the residence halls, most students are required to live on campus all four years. Upperclass students may live off campus only with the permission of the Residence Life Office. However, fluctuating demand for housing from year to year means that the college cannot guarantee on-campus housing to every student desiring it. In the event students cannot be accommodated, there are apartments and houses for rent in the Davidson community. The Residence Life Office maintains a current listing of off-campus properties for students.

Although Davidson College strives to provide safe and secure residence halls, the college cannot accept responsibility for the loss, damage, or theft of personal property. Students wishing to protect themselves from such loss should cover their belongings with appropriate insurance.

DINING SERVICES

The college operates three dining facilities on campus during the academic year—Vail Commons, the Union Café in the Alvarez Student Union, and the Wildcat Den in Baker Sports Complex.

Vail Commons (renovated in the summer of 2005) offers 19 meals a week. It is an "all you can eat" facility during meal serving periods. The Commons provides a wide range of offerings including multiple entrées at each meal, vegetarian entrée options, a variety of breakfast cereals, pizza made to order, a sandwich bar, a large salad bar, and a choice of desserts, many made from scratch in our bakery. Soft serve ice cream and yogurt are available daily as well. Beverages include soft drinks, fruit juices, milk, coffee, and tea.

The Union Café, located in the Alvarez College Union, has a deli, grill, pizza bar, smoothies, and an array of daily specials. Convenience foods, and snack items are also available.

The Wildcat Den is located on the lower level of Baker Sports Complex. The Den operates as a lunch counter only, providing sandwiches, chips, beverages, and a candy selection. A sandwich special is available during the lunch period five days a week.

First-year students are required to participate in a full-meal plan for the entire year. Upperclass students may select from a variety of meal plans. Each meal plan includes Bonus Bucks that students may use at any dining location as well as in vending machines located throughout campus. Unused Bonus Bucks do not carry over to later semesters. Students may use meal plans at the Café and/or the Wildcat Den on a limited basis and charge up to a pre-set amount for an “equivalent” meal at these locations at designated times of the day.

A registered dietitian is on the Dining Services staff and maintains an office in Vail Commons. The dietitian is available to all students for nutritional counseling.

Dining Services also operates a catering program for college activities and community events. Many students are employed by the catering department throughout the year. No prior experience is necessary.

LAUNDRY

The college operates a central laundry facility where students may drop off laundry and pick it up clean, folded, wrapped, or in the case of dress shirts, pressed and placed on hangers. This service is included in the tuition and fees which all students are required to pay. Large items like blankets, quilts, and sleeping bags can also be laundered for an additional charge. The laundry facility, located behind Cannon and Sentelle Residence Halls, is open five and one-half days a week. Dry cleaning and alteration services are also available for an additional charge payable by cash or against the declining balance account on the CatCard. During the summer prior to the first year, each student receives a laundry number to place in each piece of clothing and on the student’s laundry bag. This number is retained throughout the student’s career at Davidson. At the opening of school, the laundry provides residential students with bed linens which may be exchanged for clean linens as necessary during the year.

PATTERSON COURT

The Patterson Court system provides an outlet for leadership, social, service, athletic, and community-based interaction in a small-group setting. About 70 percent of Davidson women and 42 percent of Davidson men participate in one of the twelve organizations that make up Patterson Court Council: seven fraternities (Alpha Phi Alpha, Kappa Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Sigma Phi Epsilon); four women’s eating houses (Connor, Rusk, Turner, and Warner Hall); and a co-ed eating house (CoHo). Alpha Phi Alpha does not have housing while the remaining organizations rent facilities from the college around the area designated as Patterson Court. All organizations situated on Patterson Court provide meal plan options for upperclass members.

Every first-year student in good academic standing is invited to participate in the membership process known as court selection. In January, first-year students (and interested, unaffiliated upperclass students) may complete a membership form on which they indicate an interest in joining one of the eleven single-gender organizations or the co-ed house. Students may join any organization. This may or may not include the opportunity for national affiliation. Each national fraternity reserves the right to restrict its membership based on its selected criteria. Organizations may orally encourage students to join.

Participation in Patterson Court events is open to those students who have an investment in the risk management obligations of the organizations as demonstrated by the Patterson Court sticker on the student ID. Stickers may be obtained by independents each semester for a nominal fee. System-wide activities, policies, and initiatives are coordinated by the Patterson Court Council. The organizations are accountable for their individual and collective actions to the Patterson Court Judicial Board. Members of Patterson Court organizations who excel in leadership, scholarship, and community involvement are recognized by the Order of Omega National Honor Society.

ART

The Katherine and Tom Belk Visual Arts Center houses two galleries, the William H. Van Every, Jr. Gallery and the Edward M. Smith Gallery. Throughout the year the galleries feature both one-person and group exhibitions that explore a wide range of media and cultural issues. The work of internationally renowned, nationally recognized, emerging, and regional artists is presented in a series of exhibitions that focuses on contemporary art and ideas. Selections from the Davidson College Art Collection of over 2,700 prints, drawings, photographs, paintings, and sculpture that range from old masters to modern and contemporary ones also are exhibited regularly. There is an annual group exhibition featuring student work in the spring and an exhibition of the studio art faculty held traditionally in the fall.

In keeping with the educational mission of Davidson College and the galleries, a series of related programs accompanies the yearly exhibitions and includes individual speakers, panels, or forums. These are comprised of artists, art historians, critical thinkers, and experts in various disciplines who bring unique perspectives to the understanding and appreciation of each exhibition. The programs usually are held in the Visual Art Center's Semans Auditorium, followed by a reception for the artist or speaker in the atrium.

Every spring senior studio art majors present solo exhibitions in the Smith Gallery. Throughout the year students are encouraged to interact on an informal, elective basis with the professional artists working on gallery installations and to seek the input of visiting artists and critics available for individual critiques. In addition, visiting art historians give free public lectures and special seminars singularly designed for art majors. The visits by these artists and art historians are co-sponsored with the Friends of the Arts at Davidson.

MUSIC

The Music Department offers many performing opportunities through various ensembles, several of which tour. Vocal groups include the Concert Choir, Chamber Singers, and the Opera Workshop. Instrumentalists may join the Symphony Orchestra, Wind Ensemble, and Jazz Ensemble. The Chamber Music program involves various student ensembles coached by faculty. Private instruction in voice and all instruments is available. See details under Applied Music.

Campus musical events include the Concert Series; Artists Series; frequent recitals by visiting artists, faculty, vocal and instrumental ensembles, and students; and lectures by visiting musical scholars. In nearby Charlotte, concerts are offered by the Charlotte Symphony Orchestra, Opera Carolina, the Community Concerts Series, the Oratorio Singers, and various other musical organizations.

Students especially gifted in music performance are encouraged to apply for scholarships provided through the Vail Family, Donald B. Plott, Zachary F. Long, Jr., J. Estes Millner, and James C. Harper Endowments. See details under Admission and Financial Aid.

THEATRE

Through its curriculum and production program, the Theatre Department seeks to develop an appreciation and understanding of the theatrical arts for the newcomer and to offer in-depth training for experienced students. The department's program provides many opportunities for student involvement in its production season. Typically, four full-length plays and numerous one-acts are presented annually. Roles are cast by open audition and students are encouraged to try out regardless of experience level.

Theatre Department mainstage productions (one each semester) are performed in the Duke Family Performance Hall, a 600+ seat proscenium theatre in the Knobloch Campus Center. Other performance spaces, located in Cunningham Fine Arts Building include Hodson Hall and a smaller black box facility. Studio productions, student plays, and performance projects are presented in these spaces year-round.

Full-length plays are directed by theatre faculty, guest directors, or advanced theatre students. One-acts are directed by students. Other student performance projects are encouraged and supported by the department. Guest artists, including playwrights, directors, actors, and designers, work with students on a regular basis.

There is ample opportunity to see quality theatre in the area aside from department productions. Davidson's Artist Series regularly brings touring plays into the Duke Family Performance Hall. Many resident companies and university programs produce quality work in the Charlotte area. The department keeps a list of current offerings on file for those interested.

ATHLETICS AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Davidson College is an excellent liberal arts college with a unique tradition of intercollegiate athletic competition. The college considers physical education, recreational sports, and intercollegiate athletics an integral part of every student's educational experience. Davidson supports a competitive athletics program with equal participation opportunities for all students on eleven men's and ten women's intercollegiate teams at the NCAA Division I level. Men and women play varsity basketball, tennis, and soccer; run indoor/outdoor track and cross country; and participate in swimming and diving. Men's sports include wrestling, golf, football, and baseball. Women also play field hockey, lacrosse, and volleyball. The college provides keen competition at a realistic level for every sport and offers a limited number of athletic scholarships in both men's and women's sports.

Davidson students aspire to excellence in athletics, as in academics. The college seeks to maximize opportunities for student participation as athletes and spectators in a variety of sports. A remarkable 85 percent of students participate in the intramural sports program as residence halls, fraternities, eating houses, faculty, and staff field teams in sports including flickerball, three-on-three and five-on-five basketball, softball, small-field soccer, and volleyball. Nineteen club sports pit Davidson teams against club teams of other colleges, and students are responsible for organizing, regulating, and scheduling activities for these teams. Clubs include women's lacrosse and volleyball; men's rugby and weight lifting; and open clubs for men and women in sailing, fencing, water skiing, crew, canoeing, ultimate frisbee, field hockey, tennis, and soccer.

Davidson's physical education program is based upon the belief that physical activity is important to a person's overall development. Mandatory in the first two years, the program emphasizes the value of sports as a lifetime endeavor and courses offered in the physical education curriculum range from aerobics and archery to racquetball and scuba. For additional information see Physical Education in the section: Courses of Instruction.

Davidson has extensive facilities for athletic and physical education. The Baker Sports Complex includes the Ben T. Craig Plaza, the Newell Entrance Court, and the Nisbet Lobby. In the lobby are two racquetball courts, a squash court, a Nautilus center, and the Hall of Fame Room.

The centerpiece of the facility is the John M. Belk Arena, featuring a main varsity court with a hardwood floor. For athletic events, the Belk Arena seats nearly 6,000. When the bleacher seating is retracted, two additional hardwood basketball courts and two volleyball courts are available.

The Charles A. Cannon Pool is an eight-lane pool with a stainless steel movable bulkhead to accommodate competition in both yards and meters. The separate diving well features both one and three meter boards. The design includes a balcony for spectator seating.

The Louis and Carl Knobloch Indoor Tennis Center features a durable acrylic-based hard-court surface covering four courts. They are lit with indirect lighting and have movable screens between them. The center also has locker rooms, offices, and a conference room.

The Finley Physical Education Center incorporates a weight room with both Nautilus and free weights, a state of the art athletic medical facility, a wrestling room, and a dance studio. The center also has locker rooms for student/faculty/staff use and for sports teams, one additional racquetball court, a classroom, and office space.

In addition, Richardson Stadium with the Stephen B. Smith Field and the Irwin Belk Track accommodate football and track competition. The Alumni Soccer Stadium was dedicated in 2004, as was the Carol Grotnes Belk Turf Facility, an artificial turf field used for field hockey, lacrosse, intramural competition and club sports. Wilson Field, dedicated in 2005, serves the college's baseball team. All facilities have lights for evening competition or practice.

RELIGIOUS AND SPIRITUAL LIFE

Religious life at Davidson is celebrated on the affirmation that we are all created in the image of God, whatever our creed, heritage, or beliefs. As a Presbyterian church-related college, Davidson values the life of the spirit and fosters openness to and respect for the world's various faith traditions. With many religious resources and organizations on campus, we seek to be a community where everyone may grow spiritually through worship, fellowship, service, and study.

Davidson's chaplains serve as pastors to the entire college community. They are available to people from any faith tradition, or none at all, for pastoral counseling, spiritual direction, and program planning. They also coordinate a variety of activities including on-campus worship services, international mission/study trips, programs integrating service and social justice, and interfaith dialogue.

Four area churches, all within walking distance of the college, have active campus ministries. Through the Catholic Campus Ministry Mass is celebrated weekly in Lingle Chapel. The local Episcopal Church sponsors a Canterbury Fellowship on campus, the Methodist Church Fellowship meets weekly for discussion of faith and current issues, and the Davidson College Presbyterian Church hosts the Westminster Fellowship for a meal and a program on Sunday afternoons.

The Davidson area has a growing Jewish community. Monthly Sabbath services are held on the college campus with a rabbi from one of the two synagogues in near-by Charlotte conducting the service. These synagogues, one Conservative and one Reform, encourage Davidson students' participation in their community life and worship, especially during the High Holy Days.

Several campus-based groups also flourish. InterVarsity Christian Fellowship, Campus Outreach, Reformed University Fellowship, and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes offer small group Bible studies, a weekly large group meeting, and occasional retreats. Our Jewish Student Union and Muslim Student Association provide opportunities for students to gather to celebrate holy days and participate in fellowship. Integrating faith with social justice and service is the goal of Sanctuary, a student group which sponsors projects such as housing the homeless on campus throughout the winter. The Gospel Choir, rooted in the African-American tradition, offers fellowship and the development of musical talents under the direction of Assistant Dean of Students Ernest Jeffries. Interfaith Fellowship brings together Jewish, Muslim, Christian, Hindu, and Buddhist students, along with those of no specific tradition who are spiritual seekers, for conversation, retreats, and visits to area houses of worship from many traditions.

SOCIAL LIFE

Social life at Davidson takes its cue from the setting: activities are often the result of small-group interests—sailing at the lake campus, entertainment in the Campus Center, going to Charlotte for dinner and other entertainment, bowling in Huntersville, or skiing at Beech Mountain. In addition there are many campus-wide activities which involve large numbers of students as well as other members of the college community. These events are often sponsored by the College Union Board, the Patterson Court Council, the Residence Life Office, and other student organizations. Student groups work cooperatively to sponsor campus events. Spring Frolics, 'Aftermidnight', The Red and Black Ball, Homecoming, major concerts, and the Campus Christmas Party are a few of the major events. Social activities are planned and produced by students.

THE KNOBLOCH CAMPUS CENTER

The Knobloch Campus Center is the center of college community life. The Center combines the Alvarez College Union and the Duke Family Performance Hall. Knobloch is the gathering place for students, faculty, staff, and visitors. It provides opportunities for involvement in formal and informal activities.

Special features abound including the Café in a three-story atrium with skylight, a 600-seat state-of-the-art performance hall, a fitness center, climbing wall, outdoor center, information desk, post office, copy center, meeting rooms, bookstore, student organization offices, and offices for the Chaplain, Career Services, Student Activities, and Community Services. Outdoor features include The Mariam Cannon Hayes Amphitheater on the west side of the building and a terrace overlooking the football field to the south.

A planned program of social and co-curricular activities is initiated by the College Union Board and provided in collaboration with a host of other student organizations and departments. Student committees are responsible for presenting films, speakers, dancers, artists, poets, and musicians of all types. Recent performers include the Black Eyed Peas, Bill Cosby, Ben Folds, Dave Matthews and Tim Reynolds, John Mayer, Ludacris, and the Indigo Girls. Recent Public Lecture Committee and College Union Speakers Committee guest speakers include Fareed Zakaria, Julian Bond, Paul Krugman, Bobby Kennedy Jr., Nikki Giovanni, Cornel West, and Marian Wright Edelman.

Students assisted by faculty and staff, are responsible for the Artist Series which has recently presented "RENT," the Bruce Wood Dance Company, Ailey II, the Poncho Sanchez Latin Jazz Band, Chicago City Limits, Monk on Monk, and Ladysmith Black Mambazo.

The Davidson Outdoors Center invites students to get away from campus on weekend trips for canoeing, rock climbing, camping, hiking, and skiing. Two professional staff members work with a group of twenty student trip leaders to provide outdoor activities. Major trips have taken students canoeing in the Everglades and on the Rio Grande, sailing off the Gulf Coast of Florida, hang gliding at the Outer Banks, sea kayaking off the Georgia Coast, and whitewater rafting on the New and Gauley rivers in West Virginia.

Through its programs, facilities, and services, the Campus Center is the heartbeat of the college and the focal point of out-of-class activity.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

As stated in the by-laws of the Student Government Association (SGA), the purpose of the student government is “to share with the Board of Trustees, the Faculty, and the Administration the responsibility for developing and maintaining Davidson as a superior academic community.”

Based on one of the earlier student government constitutions (1910), Davidson students govern themselves through the senate, headed by the president and vice president of SGA, and the many committees of the SGA. The student senate is made up of three representatives from each class, representatives from each Patterson Court House, and independent representatives. Officers and senators are elected by student vote.

Although activity is centered in the senate, active participation in student government is not restricted to elected officials. Students from all classes serve on numerous committees of the senate and fill student positions on faculty and trustee committees.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Leadership Davidson—Designed to improve students’ overall leadership skill and enable them to use these skills beyond Davidson, Leadership Davidson provides a year-long opportunity for participants to identify, acquire, and hone the skills necessary to lead effectively. Through experiential learning—learning by doing—students build skills in communication, listening, motivation, value clarification, exploring self-identity, and critical thinking. Students are matched one to one with local and Charlotte area professional business and community leaders in mentoring relationships.

Leadership Resource Center—Located in the College Union, the Leadership Resource Center includes books, magazines, videos, interactive exercises, and structured experiences designed to assist and enhance development as a leader and a citizen.

SPECIAL INTEREST GROUPS

New groups are founded each year through the Student Government Association and the College Union to meet student interests and concerns. Students may join existing groups in the following areas: academic specialty clubs and honoraries, club sports, political action groups, religious groups, international clubs, social service groups, hobby clubs, and performing arts organizations. Students may also establish new groups according to their interests.

MINORITY STUDENT PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

On the Davidson College campus, several programs and services are available specifically to assist students from minority groups. A synopsis of each is listed below:

Association of Students Interested in Asia—A student-led organization for all members of the Davidson community interested in the Asian American culture. They sponsor a variety of social and cultural activities throughout the year.

Black Student Coalition—The BSC is a student run organization designed to establish and maintain a spirit of solidarity among African American students. In addition, its purpose is to create a sense of awareness within the Davidson College community regarding the contributions of African Americans, to provide an outlet for the social and cultural needs of African American students, and to support the African American citizens of the town of Davidson in overcoming any problems that they may face. All Davidson College students are eligible to be members of the BSC.

Davidson Africa Students Association—DASA is a student led organization designed to promote African Awareness and culture. Open to all members of the community, DASA sponsors many cultural and social programs throughout the year.

Exchange Programs—Davidson College has cooperative arrangements with Howard University and Morehouse College which provide students opportunities for study at campuses with significant African American student, faculty, and staff populations. Study may be arranged for a year or a semester.

Dr. Martin L. King, Jr./Black History Month Cultural Arts Series—During the months of January and February, an assortment of activities commemorating the history and accomplishments of African Americans are held on campus. Typical activities include a gospel songfest, speeches from political leaders, lectures by historians, art exhibits, films, and literary performances.

OLAS (Organization of Latin American Students)—OLAS is a student-led organization for all members of the Davidson Community interested in the Latin American culture. They sponsor a variety of social and cultural events throughout the year.

Pre-College Enrichment Program—This is a summer pre-orientation experience for incoming students of color. Participants are involved in an assortment of activities designed to facilitate their adjustment to college life.

Second Family Program—African American and Hispanic, first- and second-year students have the option to participate in a “Second Family” program with selected faculty and staff. Under the auspices of the Academic Affairs and Dean of Students Offices, this program facilitates students’ adjustment to campus by giving them an opportunity to develop a rapport with established members of the college. The “second family” and student develop one-to-one relationships via participation in various activities of mutual interest.

S.T.R.I.D.E. (Students Together Reaching for Individual Development in Education—S.T.R.I.D.E. is a support program for first-year, ethnic minority students to assist with their adjustment to Davidson College. A series of designed experiences offer academic, cultural, and social support, as well as, vital information to aid students in understanding and working effectively within the college community.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AT DAVIDSON

Davidson College believes that education should encompass more than academic excellence. Because meaningful and challenging experiences often contribute profoundly to individual development, Davidson aims to incorporate community service into the lives of its students, faculty, and staff.

The increasing need for volunteers in the surrounding community invites student participation at many levels. Students often engage in community service work inside and outside the classroom. Students may enroll in courses which include a community service component; courses of this kind exist in political science, foreign language, biology, economics, English, and psychology. In addition, students may pursue independent study work addressing community concerns. Outside the classroom, United Community Action (UCA), a student-run organization, coordinates many student community service efforts and works to address community needs.

UCA works closely with the staff in the Community Service Office to discuss developments in the community, to plan activities that build self- and community-awareness, and to coordinate on-campus programming related to community service. Projects such as service trips over student breaks, the annual Project Life Bone Marrow Typing Drive, the Ada Jenkins After School Program, tutoring, and weekend construction work with Habitat for Humanity are some examples of UCA's work.

The college employs three staff members who work with students on a regular basis to coordinate and initiate community service efforts or projects. Overall, Davidson provides a wealth of one-time and on-going opportunities for students to work directly in the community in meaningful ways.

Bonner Scholarship Program—The Bonner Scholars Program offers 20 four-year, developmental, field-based community service scholarships each year as an alternative to Federal Work-study placements. The program's mission is to provide opportunities for students with financial need to use their talents in the surrounding community. The Bonner Scholarships integrate individual initiative and leadership with intellectual, spiritual, and emotional growth.

COMMUNICATIONS

Students interested in writing, editing, photography, or broadcasting enjoy working with the following:

The Davidsonian: a weekly newspaper, edited, written, and managed by students. It has received an All-American rating by the Associated College Press numerous times since 1951.

Libertas: a news and arts magazine written, edited, managed, and produced by students. Libertas, established by students in 1996, emphasizes student issues as well as Davidson's place in the larger community.

Quips and Cranks: the college yearbook, a student project.

The Wildcat Handbook: a guide designed to acquaint first-year students with the traditions, policies, activities, and personnel of the college.

Hobart Park: an experimental magazine begun by students in 1979 to encourage writing and graphics by students and faculty.

Woodrow: a literary magazine begun in 2004, written edited, and designed by students.

WDAV-FM: a 100,000 watt classical music/fine arts station for Greater Charlotte and the Piedmont. Training is available for interested students; qualified students hold jobs on the staff.

DCTV: an in-house cable channel broadcasting to the campus. The station is a project of the College Union and welcomes all interested students.

WALT-AM: the student, local-band radio station. WALT has a varied musical format and is entirely student operated.

The Office of College Communications depends upon student employees as writers, designers, and photographers.

CAREER SERVICES

The Office of Career Services exists to aid students in the ongoing and lifelong process of career development. The staff helps students individually to explore their interests and the work around them, define their unique niche, and take meaningful steps toward career preparation. This may include vocational assessment, community service, travel and study abroad, internships, graduate school, or a successful job search.

From their first semester at Davidson, students are encouraged to think about plans for the future, especially summer options and semester internships. An information sheet is kept on each student to help guide the career counseling process.

Exploration of Interests: Davidson students are encouraged to explore their options to discover areas of true interest. Self-assessment—through personality and interest inventories, one-on-one career counseling with staff, and interactive workshops—helps students discover where their career interests lie. Students are then coached to explore these interests through informational interviews, mentorships, and internships.

Seminars and workshops on resumes, cover letter writing, internship and job search techniques, networking, interviewing, and industry panels of alumni prepare students to make career decisions.

Internships and Summer Jobs: All students are encouraged to participate in summer jobs and internships to explore career interests, to gain experience, and to enhance personal development. Through Davidson's relationship with a consortium of leading colleges and universities. Career Services provides an online database of internship, community service, and personal development opportunities. Summer experiences include internships in virtually every career field imaginable.

Alumni and Parent Resources: Students are encouraged to seek information and advice on careers from alumni and parents. Indexes of all alumni are available in the office, citing type and place of employment, to help students understand the range of personal resources available to them.

Career Resources Library: Organized by vocational clusters, the library provides specific career planning and job search resources. These include information on various career fields; internships and summer jobs; service opportunities; and local, national, and international employers. A unique feature of the library is an international section that includes guides for researching overseas job and service opportunities.

Campus Recruiting: Seniors are offered a variety of structured experiences designed to assist with a job search. Alumni and employers offer resume critiques and mock interviews based on students' needs. In the past year 395 organizations requested resumé of Davidson students through Career Services. Seniors also have the opportunity to interview in Chicago, New York City, San Francisco, and Washington, D.C., through the Selective Liberal Arts Consortium. Through a partnership with CSO Interfase, Davidson provides extensive online job search and campus recruiting support to students.

Graduate School Guidance: In close partnership with faculty, Career Services supports students in selecting and applying to graduate and professional programs, and researching sources of financial aid. Each year graduate school recruiters from across the country visit campus to talk with interested students.

Pre-Law, Pre-Medical, Pre-Management and Pre-Ministerial societies are headed by Davidson faculty and supported by a Career Services staff member. In addition, an extensive graduate fellowship file is maintained for opportunities in a variety of fields.

Taking Time Off: Students may wish to spend a semester away from campus to go abroad or enhance their professional development. The career counselors are available to provide counseling and assist with planning.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

The college provides for the health and safety of students through professional services and institutional policies. A few are described below. Complete information is available from the Office of the Dean of Students.

Student Counseling Center—The Student Counseling Center (SCC) offers a broad range of counseling and psychological services. Some students seek consultation at the SCC in learning new skills associated with time management, stress management, and study techniques and habits. Others desire information and assessment regarding interests, abilities, and personality. Counseling is offered regarding a variety of life circumstances, from coping with the difficulties associated with studying and living in a busy environment, dating, or moving away from home, to coping with changes in family life brought on by divorce or death of a family member. Students with a learning disability or Attention Deficit Disorder also benefit from counseling services. Eating disorders, anxiety, depression, or substance abuse can also be addressed at the SCC.

The SCC is located in the same building as the Student Health Service. Staff are doctoral level licensed psychologists and other trained and experienced health professionals. Up to ten sessions per year are available to each student at no charge. (Arrangements can be made for students needing additional sessions.) The relationship between student and counselor is professional and is fully confidential within the confines of safety of self and others. A counselor is “on call” by pager (704-356-2118) after-hours and weekends for psychological emergencies.

In addition to one part-time, private psychiatrist on-site, the SCC has established referral relationships with excellent nearby private psychiatrists. Students are financially responsible for such private services. Entering students who are already receiving counseling or psychiatric services and wish to continue at Davidson are encouraged to contact the director (Dr. David Staton at Box 7188 or at [dastaton@davidson.edu](mailto:dastaton@ davidson.edu)) in the summer before arriving on campus. The SCC provides for education/prevention by presenting talks and workshops to student groups and staff/faculty during the academic year.

Student Health Service—The Davidson College Student Health Service provides routine health care with the services of a full-time nursing staff and part-time staff of physicians contracted with nearby medical groups. The staff includes a full-time health educator who is available for individual consultation and extensive health-related programming. A nutritionist is also accessible for individual consultation in Vail Commons.

The Student Health facility is open weekdays 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., with a registered nurse on duty. Nurses provide routine screening and lab services and run an allergy clinic for students requiring allergy shots. The services of physicians are provided on an appointment basis during “Sick Call,” weekday afternoons. Same day appointments are available for urgent problems.

After-hours and weekends, the nursing staff provides an “on-call nurse,” who is available by pager (704-337-7047), to consult with students by phone about health concerns. The nurse can determine if the student needs to be seen immediately at the Student Health facility, referred to a local emergency room, or seen at the next Sick Call.

All outpatient services are available to students at no additional charge, with the exception of laboratory work, medical supplies, and medication, which are billed to the student’s college account.

The infirmary section of the facility has a limited number of beds available for the care of students who need observation and supervision, for those who have infectious diseases or short-term orthopedic needs, and for others whose illness calls for time away from the residence hall setting. (It is not a hospital; care is similar to what would be received at home.) There is a $25 fee per night for an overnight stay which covers meals, bandages, and other routine medical supplies.

When students require medical care beyond the scope of the Student Health Service, the staff can assist in making arrangements for appropriate care at an area hospital. In emergencies, this may include obtaining local ambulance services. Occasionally, the physician may refer a student to a specialist as needed.

Dental care is available to students at their own expense through two private dental practices in Davidson. An optometric practice is available in the neighboring town of Cornelius. Ophthalmologists are available in Cornelius (4 miles), Mooresville (7 miles), and Charlotte (19 miles). A private physical therapist is available in Davidson.

Services for Disabled Students—The college does not discriminate on the basis of disability in the admission or education of students. The Associate Dean of Students serves as the point of contact for all matters regarding disabled students. Disabled students who request help are able to receive individualized assistance.

The Associate Dean of Students assists disabled students in locating available resources in the college community and ensures that services are provided consistent with applicable law and college policies. Additionally, there are various student organizations that provide support and information to students with disabilities.

Special procedures have been developed for students handicapped by learning disabilities. Students who seek adapted instruction on the basis of a learning disability undergo an evaluation by college-designated learning specialists, usually at the student's expense. The results of the evaluation, made available to the college with the student's permission, may include recommendations for compensatory learning strategies to be used by the student and recommendations for services and accommodations to be provided by the college. Using these recommendations as a guide, strategies are developed to enhance learning strengths and compensate for learning difficulties.

If any adjustments to academic requirements are recommended, they are considered by the Curriculum Requirements Committee. The result may be approval of the recommendations or a substitution for the academic requirement.

A copy of the Policy for Disabled Students at Davidson College and additional information regarding services provided by the college to disabled students are available in the Office of the Dean of Students. Hearing impaired students may contact the office via the TDD Relay Services through Southern Bell at 1-800-735-2962.

Weapons—The Davidson College Campus Police Department enforces state laws concerning the possession of illegal weapons on campus. Weapons, including but not limited to, firearms, explosives, fireworks, and martial arts weaponry are not permitted on any property owned or leased by Davidson College. Violators are subject to disciplinary action and criminal charges. The college also reserves the right to remove from the possession of anyone on campus (or their residence) any item which may be deemed a threat to the safety and well being of others on campus. Such items include, but are not limited to, knives, pellet guns, and other objects, which in and of themselves may not be illegal.

INVOLUNTARY WITHDRAWAL

The college reserves the right to suspend, enforce the withdrawal of, or expel a student whose academic standing is unsatisfactory or a student who violates the Honor Code, the Code of Responsibility, or college regulations. For copies of the codes, write to the Office of the Dean of Students.

The Dean of Students, after consultation with healthcare providers, professors, counselors, or other individuals, as appropriate, may require the temporary withdrawal of a student who is suffering medical or psychological problems. The student will be encouraged to seek professional care and will be considered for readmission when the student's condition has improved and after consultation with the care provider.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM AND POLICIES

Note: Every effort is made to keep the information in this section current. Changes are sometimes made after the catalog goes to press, however, and students should consult their advisors and the Registrar's Office in planning their program. New students in particular should consult the Registrar's Office pages on the Davidson College Web site.

THE CURRICULUM

The liberal arts curriculum at Davidson College is dedicated to the intellectual and personal growth of students. This curriculum affirms the intrinsic worth of a broad exposure to intellectual and artistic achievement and strives to nurture students' capacities for knowledge, understanding, judgment, and compassion. Teaching is the primary activity and responsibility of the faculty, which is also active in research and service. Developing skills in the methods by which knowledge is acquired, evaluated, and appropriately applied is the primary activity and responsibility of students.

Credit is granted on a course credit basis, with a course being equivalent (for transfer purposes) to four semester or six quarter hours. The curriculum consists of six general areas of study: Literature, Fine Arts, History, Religion and Philosophy, Natural Sciences and Mathematics, and the Social Sciences. To encourage the excitement and self-discipline that come from probing a subject in depth, the college requires a major in one of the following departments:

|--------------|-------------|-------------------|
| Anthropology | French | Political Science |
| Art | German | Psychology |
| Biology | History | Religion |
| Chemistry | Mathematics | Sociology |
| Classics | Music | Spanish |
| Economics | Philosophy | Theatre |
| English | Physics | |

Students also may develop an interdisciplinary major through the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies. Davidson allows double majors.

In order to make connections among courses and disciplines, the curriculum includes opportunities for students to pursue a concentration or a minor as well as a major. A concentration is an interdisciplinary cluster of courses which addresses a specific area of study. A student may choose a concentration to complement the major, but concentrations are not required. Davidson offers concentrations in Applied Mathematics, Asian Studies, Computer Science, Education, Ethnic Studies, Film and Media Studies, Gender Studies, Genomics, International Studies, Medical Humanities, Neuroscience, and Southern Studies. Requirements for concentrations are described in a section following the Theatre Department course listings. Students pursuing a concentration may not pursue a double major or a minor.

Some departments offer a minor, a designated set of five or six courses. Students are allowed to declare one and only one minor to the appropriate academic department by no later than October 1 of their senior year. Students declaring a minor may not also declare a concentration or a second major. A minimum overall 2.0 cumulative grade point average and a minimum 2.0 average on all courses counted toward the minor are required. Specific requirements for minors are listed after major requirements in the departments where they are offered.

The college offers courses but no major in Chinese, Communication, Computer Science, Humanities, Military Studies, Physical Education, Pre-medicine, Russian, South Asian Studies, and Education, although students may obtain a teaching license through the Teacher Education Program. Students have various opportunities for independent and interdisciplinary studies, for study abroad, and for participation in off-campus programs.

The Davidson curriculum stresses competence in reading, writing, fundamental mathematical skills, oral communication, and use of computers. Students develop oral communication skills through class discussion, seminar presentations, and formal speech courses. To develop their skills in writing and analysis, students may select one of the following options to satisfy the college composition requirement: English 100W or 101W, the four-course humanities sequence, the two-course Cultures and Civilizations sequence, or a departmental 100W (COMP) First-year Seminar. Departmental first-year seminars (100W or 101W) are discussion-based, writing-intensive courses rooted in a discipline. The courses normally require completion of five to seven shorter writing assignments and a longer research paper. Readings for each course span and exemplify different approaches to writing. The courses address elements of style and revision, processes of peer review, word-processing skills, library-based and web-based research techniques, and conventions of documentation. Some 100W sections may also satisfy a core requirement in the departmental area. Students should check the departmental listing for the core area satisfied. The class schedule for each semester lists current offerings.

Computers are used in most laboratory science courses and mathematics courses, and in individual courses in the social sciences and the humanities. Students interested in the degree of competence expected in individual courses may consult the instructor or the course syllabi located in the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs and the library.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION

Davidson offers a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Science degree. To receive a bachelor's degree the candidate for the degree shall:

1. Be of good character and conduct, as certified by the Dean of Students, and discharge all college financial obligations to the satisfaction of the Controller.
2. Complete satisfactorily 32 courses, at least one-half (16) in residence at Davidson College. The period of residence must include the senior year (at least the final 7 courses). Courses in off-campus programs officially sponsored by Davidson College are considered to be courses in residence.
3. Complete the foreign language requirement by successfully completing the intermediate level (201 or higher) of a Davidson foreign language course, by an approved transfer course at an equivalent level, or by equivalent proficiency as determined and certified by the appropriate Davidson foreign language department. Courses offered through the Self-Instructional Language Program do not satisfy the foreign language requirement. A student who satisfactorily documents that English is not his or her first language satisfies the foreign language requirement through the requirement in composition. It is strongly recommended that the student complete the foreign language requirement before entering the senior year.

4. Complete the composition requirement. by completing successfully by the end of the first year at Davidson College a course designated with a W. Advance Placement or other credits completed prior to college matriculation do not satisfy the composition requirement.
5. Complete all requirements for a major field of study, including an average of 2.0 on all courses in the major. For the computation of the major grade point average, when a course is repeated, only the most recent grade counts.
6. Complete Core Curriculum requirements:
 - a. Literature: one course from among the specified courses in the Departments of Chinese, Classics, English, French, German/Russian, and Spanish.
 - b. Fine Arts: one course from among the specified courses in the Departments of Art, Music, and Theatre.
 - c. History: one course from among the specified courses in the Department of History.
 - d. Religion and Philosophy: two courses, at least one of which must be in Religion, from among specified courses in the Department of Religion and Philosophy.
 - e. Natural Science and Mathematics: three courses, from among the specified courses in the Departments of Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, and Physics. At least one of the three must be a course in Mathematics or Computer Science and at least one must be a science course with a laboratory.
 - f. Social Sciences: two courses from among the specified courses in the Departments of Anthropology, Economics, Education, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology.

At least six of the ten core requirements must be completed for a student to enter the junior year. It is strongly recommended that the student complete all ten core requirements before entering the senior year.

NOTE: The four-course Humanities sequence (150, 151W, 250, 251) satisfies the composition requirement and core requirements as follows: literature (one course); history (one course); and religion and philosophy (two courses including Religion). The two-course Humanities sequence (160, 161) satisfies the composition requirement and the core requirement in literature. A student who withdraws from either Humanities sequence after one semester receives one credit toward graduation, but neither core nor composition credit. A student who withdraws from the four-course sequence after the second semester receives credit only for HUM 151W satisfying the composition requirement, but no core requirement.

7. Complete a course designated as satisfying Cultural Diversity requirement. Such courses deal principally with one or more cultures that differ from the majority cultures of the United States or Europe.
8. No single course satisfies more than one core requirement, but a course may satisfy a core requirement and other requirements such as composition, cultural diversity, major, minor, concentration, and (for courses above the 201 level) foreign language.

The Registrar may designate a transfer credit (including AP or other pre-college credit) as satisfying a foreign language, core, composition, or cultural diversity requirement following, as occasion demands, consultation with appropriate department or program chairs.

9. Satisfy the requirements in physical education as follows: PE 101, team sports (one unit); lifetime sports (one unit); and water-related activities (one unit). A student may be excused from some or all of the Physical Education requirements for medical reasons as certified by a college physician. PE 101 and at least two of the remaining three PE requirements must be completed before the junior year. The Director of Physical Education certifies completion of requirements in Physical Education.

The college awards degrees only at the end of the spring semester during the Commencement Exercises and at the end of the summer (August 31). Students who enter as first-year students must complete the degree within four calendar years; students who transfer to Davidson are expected to complete the degree according to their class standing as they enter. In order to extend study into the fifth year (9th semester), a student must apply to the Curriculum Requirements Committee.

DEPARTMENTAL AND GRADUATION HONORS

Most departments that offer a major also offer an Honors Program. Students with an overall grade point average of 3.2 are eligible for consideration for honors by their department as early as the spring semester of the sophomore year, but no later than the fall semester of the senior year. Each department may impose additional individual requirements for honors; students should consult the major departmental listing in the catalog and their major advisor for details. Candidates for honors who maintain at least a 3.2 overall grade point average and at least a 3.5 average in the major and who receive the recommendation of their major department are graduated with honors or high honors in the department of their major. Each department may impose individual requirements in that department in addition to the requirements here specified.

Latin degree honors are awarded based on cumulative grade point average at graduation:

|---------------|-------|------------------|
| 3.500 – 3.749 | | .cum laude |
| 3.750 – 3.999 | | .magna cum laude |
| 4.00 | | .summa cum laude |

STANDARDS OF PROGRESS

Davidson measures satisfactory academic progress annually prior to the beginning of the fall semester. In order to be eligible for enrollment in the fall semester, students must meet the requirements outlined below:

- A. For entrance to the sophomore class or the third semester, the student must have completed seven courses (8 courses represent normal progress), including the composition (W-course) requirement. A student who has not earned a 1.60 cumulative grade point average by the beginning of the first semester of the sophomore year will be placed on academic probation. A student on academic probation receives special advising services through the Dean of Students' Office and the academic advisor.

- B. At the time of entrance into the fourth semester (second semester sophomore year) a student with a cumulative grade point average of 1.7 or below at the end of the third semester must immediately make an appointment in the office of the Dean of Students to assess clearly steps necessary to achieve the average of 1.8 required for entry into the junior class (fifth semester).
- C. For entrance to the junior class or the fifth semester, the student must have completed 15 courses (16 courses represent normal progress) and must have a cumulative grade point average of at least 1.80. In addition, the student must have completed six of the ten core requirements (described above under “Graduation Requirements”), must have completed three of the four required credits in physical education including PE 101, and must have officially declared a major.
- D. For entrance to the senior class or the seventh semester, the student anticipating graduation in May must have completed 24 courses; the student may become a senior anticipating August graduation with 22 courses.

Students who do not meet the appropriate minimum Standards of Progress are ineligible to return for the fall semester. Some course deficiencies existing at the end of an academic year (May) may be made up in through a summer contract course with a Davidson faculty member or through approved transfer credit. (Note, however, that transfer credits do not affect the grade point average.) The Curriculum Requirements Committee specifies Standards of Progress for students who records are irregular and who do not fit the requirements for one of the categories above.

The Executive Committee of the Faculty may require a student whose academic work is unacceptable to withdraw from Davidson at any time. No student who has been required to withdraw is guaranteed readmission. When a student wishes to apply to the Dean of Students for readmission, the Executive Committee of the Faculty states the minimum conditions under which the student may return.

INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVES

Davidson seeks to lay intellectual foundations on which students build an understanding of the emerging world of the twenty-first century so that they may take their places as leaders in it. Davidson provides all students the experience of studying societies or cultures that differ from those of the United States or Europe. Required study in foreign language and in diverse cultural viewpoints is incorporated into the core curriculum. For students wishing to pursue international studies beyond the general requirements, curricular and programmatic opportunities exist to allow for international emphasis.

The college expects many facets of the Davidson experience—studying abroad, enjoying friendships with international students, hearing speakers of note, taking part in conferences on world affairs themes—to contribute to the process of producing graduates with a world vision. Some of the components of Davidson’s international studies programs are described below.

Dean Rusk International Studies Program

Davidson strives for distinction among national liberal arts colleges in its emphasis on understanding the world at large and preparing students for the challenges of national and international leadership. Recognizing that international awareness is critical in today’s interdependent world, the college inaugurated the Dean Rusk Program in 1985 to provide a cornerstone for efforts to enhance international offerings on campus and to “give each student, first, an informed awareness of our whole planet, and second, direct knowledge of at least one foreign area.” The Program, named for Davidson’s distinguished alumnus who was Secretary of State during the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, serves as an organizing mechanism for expanding internationalism across the Davidson experience, rather than as a separate department or major.

The Dean Rusk Program fosters initiatives designed to ensure that Davidson students leave the college with a broad understanding of all dimensions of global affairs—political, cultural, social, economic, and historical. It sponsors visits by experts on international issues, hosts conferences and cultural events, and counsels students about international travel, internships, and careers. It encourages pursuit of an international curriculum through the college’s concentration in International Studies, a major at the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies, area studies, or courses in various academic departments. The Rusk Program coordinates Davidson’s chapter of the Phi Beta Delta Honor Society for international scholars. In support of international experience, the program provides grants for student and faculty research, study, or service abroad, including medical volunteer work in developing countries. The Dean Rusk Program serves as a catalyst for dialogue on world issues in the greater Charlotte business, professional, cultural, and educational communities through programs it organizes in the Charlotte area and through a speakers program in local schools. It also promotes cultural interaction between American students and foreign nationals studying at the college.

Student and Faculty Advisory Committees help ensure that the Dean Rusk International Studies Program is attuned to student interests and serves the college’s educational objectives. Members of the Student Advisory Committee also organize a number of international activities on campus and in the community. In addition to its grant-making and campus programming activities, the Dean Rusk Program also includes the offices of the Study Abroad Coordinator and the International Student Advisor.

International Students

Davidson College defines international students broadly to include dual citizens. Americans living abroad, foreign nationals, and permanent residents. This broad definition capitalizes on the diversity and wealth of experiences international students bring to campus. The International Student Office provides assistance on immigration and work permits, coordinates international student orientation, aids with student advocacy, and promotes interaction among foreign students, the college, and local communities. Also available is guidance on cultural adjustments as well as academic, personal, and financial concerns. Services offered are as diverse as the students and meant to encourage a meaningful educational experience while students achieve personal and academic goals.

The campus also hosts the Davidson International Association, an organization composed of foreign and American students who are interested in international issues and programming. The group holds weekly meetings, organizes excursions in the surrounding area, and represents international interests on campus.

Study Abroad

Davidson encourages students to study in other countries and offers the following specific opportunities: the junior year or semester in Tours, France; the junior year at Julius-Maximilians-Universität in Würzburg, Germany; a fall semester program in India; and a spring semester program in Classical Antiquity (the Mediterranean). The cost of semester and year-long programs, including tuition, room, board, and some travel expenses, is approximately the same as for a similar period at Davidson. Students receiving financial aid may usually apply part or all of it to the cost of the year or semester study abroad program. The college also offers a summer archaeological dig in Cyprus and summer programs in England, France, Ghana, Kenya, Mexico, Moscow, Spain, and Zambia. See descriptions below. With approval in advance, students also participate in academic study abroad programs sponsored and administered by accredited American colleges or universities. There is a non-refundable administrative fee of $350 for students participating in a non-Davidson program for a semester or year.

DAVIDSON IN TOURS (FRANCE): Davidson students may study for an academic year as fully matriculated students at the Université François Rabelais, or for a semester at the Institut de Touraine in Tours.

With a population of 250,000, Tours is the cultural capital of the Loire Valley. Known for its historic towns, Renaissance châteaux, and striking natural beauty, the Val de Loire has been designated a World Heritage Site by UNESCO. The city of Tours boasts a rich and varied architectural heritage with the old city—Le Vieux Tours—attracting students and visitors alike to its lively Place Plumereau. A network of regional trains connects Tours to Orléans, Chenonceaux, Amboise, and other nearby sites of interest. Paris and its attractions are fifty-five minutes away by high-speed train.

The program begins in September for academic year and fall semester students with a four-week language course in Paris, after which students go to Tours, where they enroll in classes. The program ends around December 20th for fall semester students. Spring semester students are in France from January until April including a two-week stay in Paris. The academic year program ends around mid-June. Students typically earn four course credits for a semester and up to eight course credits for the academic year. A member of the Davidson faculty serves as resident director to assist with academic and personal matters and to teach one course per semester. All students live with families where they have two meals a day. Applications from non-Davidson students are welcome.

DAVIDSON AT THE JULIUS-MAXIMILIANS-UNIVERSITÄT WÜRZBURG (GERMANY): This site of Davidson's Junior Year in Germany program was founded in 1582 and now has about 17,000 students. Würzburg, located on the Main River sixty miles southeast of Frankfurt, has a population of approximately 128,000. Situated in a valley surrounded by vineyards, Würzburg's landmarks include the majestic Marienberg fortress and the baroque palace and gardens built for the prince-bishops of the city. The music school, theater, opera and orchestra, the many museums, frequent festivals, and varied sport facilities make Würzburg a place of many opportunities for students to participate in the diversity of German life.

The program starts in early August with a four-week-long family home stay in northern Germany followed by an intensive language course in Würzburg, after which students enroll at the university, where courses are offered in all disciplines of the humanities and sciences. Students earn eight, sometimes nine, course credits for their year in Würzburg. A resident director, normally a member of the Davidson faculty, serves to assist with academic and personal matters and to teach one course during the fall semester. Students live in dormitories. Numerous group activities and excursions are included in the program. The program concludes at the end of July. Applications from non-Davidson students are welcome.

Semester Programs

DAVIDSON IN INDIA: The South Asian Studies Program offers an opportunity to study and travel in India during the fall semester of even-numbered years. Following a one-week orientation session at Davidson, students travel to India with the Davidson faculty director. There they attend lectures on Indian history, culture, and society by Indian scholars, and take a seminar taught by the director. After twelve weeks in Chennai, they travel together for two weeks visiting important historical, archaeological, and religious sites in other parts of India. Students may earn four course credits. The Semester-in-India program is intended for juniors and seniors; occasionally sophomores have been included. Applications from non-Davidson students are welcome.

DAVIDSON IN LANDS OF CLASSICAL ANTIQUITY: The Department of Classics conducts a semester-long traveling program devoted to the study of classical antiquity. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors are eligible regardless of major. The program is normally limited to a maximum of sixteen participants and is offered in spring semesters of odd-numbered years.

Summer Programs

DAVIDSON IN CYPRUS: Most summers Davidson sponsors a multidisciplinary archaeological project on the island of Cyprus. The program includes hands-on training in the field (excavation and survey), lectures given by the project director and other visiting or resident specialists, visits to archaeological or historical sites and museums on weekends, and extensive interaction with the local residents of Athienou. The seven-week program is open to all classes and carries one course credit. Applications from non-Davidson students are welcome.

DAVIDSON IN ENGLAND (THE CAMBRIDGE PROGRAM): A six-week summer program at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge University is jointly sponsored by the Departments of English and History for up to thirty students. British lecturers and tutors lead the course of study, which explores the history and literature of Britain from the late eighteenth through the early nineteenth century. The curriculum emphasizes topics that take advantage of the students' presence in Britain and ability to experience their subjects first-hand, encouraging them to visit the sites of poets' inspiration, novels' settings, and history's memorable events.

Participants in the program earn one course credit, awarded for either English 370 or History 390, which counts towards major requirements in either department. A Davidson English or History professor serves as resident director. Students majoring in all fields of study are encouraged to apply. Applications from non-Davidson students are welcome.

JUNE IN TOURS (FRANCE): This four-week program is offered at the Institut de Touraine for French language study. The morning language program is enriched by afternoon content courses and cultural activities, plus excursions on Saturday. Students live with families. A member of the Davidson faculty serves as resident director. Applications from non-Davidson students are welcome.

DAVIDSON IN GHANA, WEST AFRICA: This six-week program is designed to immerse students in modern and traditional Ghanaian life. The program includes one course credit, a non-credit performing arts class, a service project, and excursions into other regions of Ghana. The classes are taught by University of Cape Coast professors and artists. The program is limited to fifteen participants and is offered as enrollment warrants. Applications from non-Davidson students are welcome.

DAVIDSON IN KENYA: Each summer, a small group of Davidson students with an interest in medicine spends three or four weeks in Kenya where they work in a hospital and interact with local residents in the town of Kikuyu located 15 miles from Nairobi. In the spring semester before the summer experience, students enroll in Biology 361: The Study and Treatment of Human Disease: Western and Third World Perspectives on the Davidson campus. Each student studies two diseases and consults with an area physician concerning treatment.

DAVIDSON IN MEXICO: The college sponsors a summer program in Monterrey, Mexico. Rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors are eligible, regardless of major. A Davidson professor serves as resident director and is assisted by Mexican professors in teaching and planning activities. Students live with local families or in a university dormitory with international students. Each student may earn up to two course credits. Applications from non-Davidson students are welcome.

DAVIDSON IN MOSCOW: Davidson sponsors a six-week summer program at the prestigious Moscow State Institute for International Affairs (MGIMO). The program includes intensive Russian language instruction and a second course, taught in English, on Russian history, politics, or economics. All courses are taught by native Russian speakers from the MGIMO faculty. Housing is in the MGIMO dormitory. A Davidson professor serves as the resident director. The program includes numerous cultural excursions. Students majoring in all fields of study are encouraged to apply, although preference will be given to those with one or more years of college-level Russian. Participants may earn two course credits, one of which counts toward the minor in Russian.

DAVIDSON IN SPAIN: Davidson offers a five-week summer program in Cádiz, Spain. After a week of group travel through Spain, students take two courses in Cádiz while living with host families. Intermediate students of Spanish receive credit for Spanish 201 and 203 while advanced students receive credit for Spanish 393 and 394. The minimum requirement for participation is Spanish 102, or the equivalent.

DAVIDSON IN ZAMBIA: This three-week summer experience offers students an opportunity to work and study at a mission hospital in Mwandia, Zambia. Mwandia is a community of about 6,000 located on the northern fringes of the Kalahari Desert along the Zambezi River. It is approximately 150 miles west of Livingstone, Zambia, and Victoria Falls, Zimbabwe. Students participating in this experience have the opportunity to work with Zambian doctors and health care staff in the Mwandia mission hospital and in bush clinics in surrounding communities. Students learn about diseases and other health concerns, e.g., malnutrition, that are prevalent in third world Africa. Preparation for the summer experience begins during the spring semester at Davidson. Students enroll in a seminar course, which concentrates on the study of infectious diseases and treatments for those diseases. In addition, students learn about the culture and history of Zambia. Students design an individual project to be completed when in Mwandia. A final paper summarizing the project is required by the end of the summer.

Students may also participate in the following programs with which Davidson College is affiliated:

INTERCOLLEGIATE CENTER FOR CLASSICAL STUDIES IN ROME, ITALY: This program is administered by Duke University. Students study ancient history, archaeology, Greek and Latin literature, and ancient art. Students take classes and live in the Center Building in central Rome.

SWEDISH PROGRAM: Students take special program courses in Swedish language, economics, literature, history, and politics. Students live with families or in student apartments. Group excursions and activities are scheduled.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND SPRING SEMESTER IN ALCALÁ, SPAIN: Students take classes at the Universidad de Alcalá as well as special program courses. Students live in residence halls or with families. A University of Maryland resident director provides orientation as well as academic and personal support for student participants.

WAKE FOREST/SASASAAS FALL SEMESTER IN BEIJING, CHINA: Students begin or continue Chinese language study at the Beijing Institute of Education while taking two courses in Chinese culture taught in English. Students are housed in dormitories on campus. Group activities and excursions are included.

South Asian Studies Program

The South Asian Studies Program is an interdisciplinary program that enables students to study India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Nepal, and Bhutan, which together constitute a region in which a fifth of the world's population is concentrated and which serves as the home of some of the world's oldest and richest cultural expressions.

More than a dozen courses on the region are taught by faculty members representing the academic perspectives of art, history, religion, and sociology. Instruction is also available in Hindi through the Self-instructional Language Program. Davidson offers a Semester-in-India Program based in the Chennai region. In 1970, the college was accepted as a member institution in the Library of Congress Public Law 480 English Language Materials Program, which now brings to Davidson's library numerous books, monographs, and English-language periodicals published in India, Bangladesh, and Sri Lanka.

Self-Instructional Language Program

Competence in a foreign language is essential to international mobility and understanding. While Davidson maintains strong programs in French, German, Spanish, Russian, and Chinese, it also offers a Self-Instructional Language Program (SIL) that enables qualified students to study less commonly taught languages for which classroom instruction is unavailable. Each offering is an intensive audio-lingual course utilizing appropriate texts and audio/video materials, combined with three hours of small group work per week with a native speaker. The emphasis is on the spoken language with some work on basic reading and writing skills. A final oral examination, which forms the basis for the semester grade, is conducted by a specialist, usually invited from another institution. The languages offered depend on the current availability of native speaker conversation partners and appropriate materials. Self-Instructional Language Program courses do not satisfy the foreign language requirement or the cultural diversity requirement. Normally, participants must satisfy the foreign language requirement before enrolling in a SIL course. An additional fee is required. For more information, see the section about the program under Courses of Instruction.

PRE-PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS

Many Davidson graduates continue their education at graduate or professional schools. The sound liberal arts education that Davidson offers serves as an excellent preparation for further study or for entering a career directly following graduation.

Students who have definite plans for graduate or professional school are urged to become familiar with graduate school admission requirements and to consult with their advisors early about the best program to pursue. In general, graduate school standards are high. Applicants are expected to have done undergraduate work of good quality, to have a reading knowledge of at least one foreign language, and to make acceptable scores on the Graduate Record Examination.

PRE-MEDICINE (PRE-DENTISTRY): In general, premedical and pre-dental students complete the same course of study. Medical schools in particular recommend that premedical students be as academically diverse as possible. With its strong tradition in the liberal arts, Davidson College supports this recommendation in three ways. First, all Davidson students are required to take classes in diverse academic disciplines. Second, premedical and pre-dental students may major in the department of their choice. Third, premedical and pre-dental students, whether they major in the sciences or humanities, are encouraged to take a variety of courses outside their major.

A. Required Courses, Tests and Recommendations

1. Course work—Premedical and pre-dental students must take the following courses: Biology 111 and 112; Chemistry 115, 201, 202, and 215; Physics 120, and 220 or 130, and 230. Some medical schools require Mathematics 130 and 135. Many medical schools have additional requirements which are found in the Medical School Admission Requirements, a publication of the Association of American Medical Colleges. Requirements for dental schools are listed in Admission Requirements of U.S. and Canadian Dental Schools, a publication of the American Association of Dental Schools.
2. Medical College Admission Test (MCAT)—Medical schools require all candidates for admission to take the MCAT, an exam which is administered in the spring and summer of each year. This exam, which should not be attempted before all introductory science courses are completed, is typically taken in the spring of the junior year. If not satisfied with their results, students may retake the MCAT in the summer of the rising senior year without delaying application to medical school. Dental students take the Dental Admissions Test (DAT) which is offered year round and is self-scheduled by the student.

3. Premedical Advisory Committee (PAC) Recommendation—The Committee, which is chaired by the Premedical Director, evaluates premedical and pre dental students. It is highly recommended that all of these students take advantage of the PAC evaluation process. This evaluation ordinarily takes place in the junior year.

B. Recommended Courses and Experiences

1. Courses

- a. Humanities and Social Sciences—Academic diversity can be achieved by selecting courses in the languages, fine arts, and social sciences.
- b. Medical Humanities—Students must understand the major controversies and dilemmas facing American medicine. Medical Humanities offers interdisciplinary courses in the theory and practice of medicine.
- c. Advanced Biology, Chemistry, and Neuroscience—The courses in these disciplines help students build vocabulary and concepts which are important in medical and dental studies, particularly during the first year.

2. Experiences

- a. Hospital or Clinical Experience—Enjoying work in a medical setting is essential to a successful medical or dental career. Medical humanities offers “Issues in Medicine” and “Health Care Ethics,” each for one course credit. Included in each course are internships at Charlotte area hospitals and clinics. Physicians in the Charlotte area also provide shadowing opportunities on a volunteer basis. International opportunities are available through the Dean Rusk International Studies Program.
- b. Service Experience—Service to humanity is one of the highest ideals of the medical profession. Students should participate in service organizations including the Premedical Society of Davidson College. The premedical honor society, Alpha Epsilon Delta (AED), recognizes excellent premedical and pre dental students.
- c. Study Abroad—Foreign travel adds immeasurably to a student’s education. Students who plan to study abroad must plan early in their Davidson studies in order to complete all requirements on time.
- d. Research—The advancement of medicine and dentistry depends on an understanding of basic research. Many research opportunities are available in the science departments at Davidson and elsewhere.

C. Services to Premedical Students

1. Premedical Director—The premedical director is the adjunct advisor for all premedical and pre dental students and assists in all matters related to admission to professional school.
2. Premedical Society and AED—These organizations provide opportunities for leadership, citizenship, and education through a variety of programs including a speaker’s series, community service opportunities, social activities, and the AED’s MCAT Forum and practice interviews.

PRE-LAW SOCIETY: The Pre-Law Society works closely with the Careers Office to provide guidance to students interested in pursuing legal careers. Membership in the Pre-Law Society offers students the following: information on legal careers; the law school admission process, and LSAT prep courses; sample LSAT tests; the opportunity to interview with law school admission representatives; access to the Davidson Alumni Attorney Network; the chance to make contacts in the Charlotte legal community; exposure to legal issues through speakers, panel discussions, and other programs on campus; and feedback on drafts of personal statements. Society materials include Davidson Pre-Law handouts, guides to law schools, law school catalogs, books on legal issues, and preparation manuals for the LSAT.

TEACHER EDUCATION: In its mission to prepare successful facilitators of learning, the Department of Education embraces the primary purpose of Davidson College, which is “to assist students in developing humane instincts and disciplined and creative minds for leadership and service.” Further, the Department of Education exults in the choice of the college “to emphasize the teaching responsibility of all professors” and actively recruit faculty “whose interest in students and teaching is unfeigned and profound.” The endorsement that quality teaching is the foundation of a strong liberal arts institution informs the threefold mission of the Department of Education: (1) to provide a course of study leading to a Licensure Concentration in Education, resulting in the attainment of a North Carolina teaching license; (2) to provide a course of study leading to an Interdisciplinary Concentration in the study of Education as a liberal art; and (3) to provide courses that meet the Core Curriculum requirements in the Social Sciences.

Teacher Licensure: Through a series of articulation agreements with Duke University, Queens University of Charlotte, and the North Carolina Department of Instruction, Davidson College provides a course of study leading to North Carolina initial licensure/certification at the secondary level in the fields of English, French (K-12), Latin, Mathematics, Spanish (K-12), Science (which includes majors in Biology, Chemistry, and Physics), and Social Studies (which includes majors in Anthropology, Economics, History, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, and Religion). All course work is completed at Davidson. Through reciprocity agreements, North Carolina licenses are accepted in forty-two additional states. For more detailed information, interested students should contact the chair of the Department of Education during the first or second year. The Teacher Education Program Handbook is available on the Education Department Web site and provides all details related to licensing procedures.

ENGINEERING DUAL DEGREE PROGRAM: Believing that the liberal arts college has a contribution to make toward the education of engineers in a society faced with increasingly complex technological and humanistic problems, Davidson has cooperative dual degree engineering programs with Columbia University in New York and Washington University in St. Louis. The student attends Davidson for three or four years and, if accepted, attends the engineering school for the last two years. Students are guaranteed admission to these two affiliated engineering schools if they complete the science and math prerequisites and achieve a 3.0 GPA.

A student electing the 4/2 path in this program completes a normal Davidson degree program. The required science and math courses can be taken as electives or can be part of a Davidson major course of study. Students electing the 3/2 path attend Davidson for three years and attend the engineering school for the last two years. Davidson academic departments, in consultation with the engineering advisor, will count some engineering courses toward senior-year departmental course requirements. Upon successful completion of the prescribed courses in the dual degree program, the student receives bachelor's degrees from both Davidson and the engineering school.

To receive a Davidson degree under the cooperative dual degree plan a student must:

1. complete at Davidson all core requirements with at least a "C" average;
2. choose a Davidson major and complete a course of study for that major;
3. demonstrate the required proficiency in foreign language, composition, and physical education; and
4. graduate from one of the cooperating schools in an approved engineering curriculum.

Other 4/2 engineering options exist. These include applying to any engineering school for an M.S. or Ph.D. program or an M.B.A. program. Admission to these programs is not guaranteed.

Since many of the required preparatory courses for the 3/2 path must be taken in proper sequence, it is wise, and for some schools and/or curricula essential, for a prospective 3/2 student to begin the program during the first semester at Davidson. For further information and assistance, contact the faculty 3/2 engineering advisor, Dr. Wolfgang Christian.

ARMY RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS (ROTC)

The Army ROTC program at Davidson is designed to enhance a student's college education by providing unique training and practical experience in leadership and management—qualities essential to success in any career. Upon graduation from Davidson, students who have successfully completed ROTC training are awarded a commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army, Army National Guard, or U.S. Army Reserve. To prepare students to become commissioned officers, the ROTC program combines college courses in military studies with summer training. The military studies curriculum consists of a two-year Basic Course and a two-year Advanced Course.

The Basic Course is taken during the first and second years and covers management principles, national defense, military history, leadership development, military courtesy, customs and traditions of the military, and physical training. There is no obligation for participation in the Basic Course. Some or all of the Basic Course requirements may be waived by the Professor of Military Studies for those who have completed Junior ROTC programs or have previous military experience. For more information see the Military Studies section under Courses of Instruction.

The Advanced Course is limited to students who have completed (or have received credit for) the Basic Course and have demonstrated the leadership and scholastic potential to become an officer. The course provides instruction in advanced leadership development, military history, training management, organization and management techniques, tactics, logistics, and the military justice system. All students enrolled in the ROTC Advanced Course received a monthly allowance of $350 for up to ten months of the school year. Advanced Course students must attend the six-week ROTC Leadership Development and Assessment Course (LDAC) at Fort Lewis, Washington, during the summer between their junior and senior year. Students receive travel expenses, room and board, medical and dental care, and a salary while attending the LDAC.

The ROTC program offers Davidson students the opportunity to participate in numerous challenging and rewarding extracurricular activities such as adventure training, social events, and community service activities. Both men and women may enroll in ROTC and apply for Army ROTC Scholarships. High School seniors applying to Davidson

College may compete for four-year merit scholarships. Davidson College students may apply for two- and three-year scholarships. Deadline for two- and three-year scholarships is March 1 of the first or second year at Davidson. Army scholarships provide up to $23,000 toward tuition, an allowance for books, and a personal expense stipend.

A Davidson student may also participate in other military programs. See page 18.

SPECIAL STUDY OPTIONS

THE CENTER FOR INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES: The Center for Interdisciplinary Studies offers students the opportunity to develop independent study courses with members of the Davidson faculty or to design their own interdisciplinary majors. More information is found under the section “Courses of Instruction.”

CHARLOTTE AREA EDUCATIONAL CONSORTIUM (CAEC): The Charlotte Area Educational Consortium is composed of more than 20 colleges and universities in the greater Charlotte area. Through the CAEC students taking a full course load at Davidson may, during the regular academic year, take an additional course (one not normally offered at Davidson) at no extra cost by cross-enrolling at another CAEC institution. Students must provide their own transportation to the institution at which they are cross-enrolling. Additional information is available in the Registrar’s Office.

CONTRACT COURSES: Students may arrange with individual professors to take specific courses on a contract basis during the summer. Tuition for contract courses is announced annually. Contracts are available in the Registrar’s Office. A completed and filed contract constitutes registration.

DAVIDSON-BROUGHTON HOSPITAL ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY PROGRAM: During the summer, Davidson offers a one-course program in Clinical Psychology at Broughton Hospital in Morganton, N.C. Students receive credit for Psychology 290. The program includes supervised work in the service units of the hospital.

DAVIDSON-HOWARD UNIVERSITY PROGRAM: Davidson and Howard University in Washington, D.C., have a cooperative arrangement that allows Davidson students to study for a year at Howard. Additional information is available in the Dean of Students Office.

DAVIDSON-MOREHOUSE COLLEGE EXCHANGE PROGRAM: This program provides an opportunity for students to matriculate at an institution which is culturally and racially different from their home institutions. The exchange of students is on a one-to-one basis for a semester or a year. Additional information is available in the Dean of Students Office.

DAVIDSON IN WASHINGTON PROGRAM: The Political Science Department sponsors the Davidson in Washington program, an eight-week summer session of work and study in Washington, D.C. Students serve as interns in Congressional offices, government agencies, or interest group offices and take part in a symposium conducted by a Davidson faculty member in residence. They earn two course credits. The program is open to a limited number of rising juniors and seniors. Participants must have a 2.5 grade point average.

INDEPENDENT STUDY: Independent studies and tutorials allow students to work on topics of special interest and in exceptional cases to design a personal course of study with the approval of a faculty member who supervises the student and determines the means of evaluation.

MEDICAL INTERNSHIPS: Davidson College has a cooperative arrangement with the Carolinas Medical Center that provides students interested in medicine or medical research with internship and independent study opportunities in a clinical hospital environment. These experiences are normally arranged through the Premedical Studies or Medical Humanities Programs.

SCHOOL FOR FIELD STUDIES: Davidson College is affiliated with the School for Field Studies, enabling students to participate in a semester-long or month-long program studying environmental issues. Students must apply for acceptance to the School for Field Studies.

The semester and summer programs concentrate on international environmental issues at one of five SFS research centers: British West Indies; Baja, Mexico; Costa Rica; Australia; or Kenya. Accepted students register for Biology 381, 382, 383, and 384 for semester programs and for Biology 105 or 385 (for summer programs).

SUMMER RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES: Advanced students may apply for summer research opportunities with faculty who receive externally funded or Davidson College faculty study and research grants. Some research projects result in collaborative papers that are presented at professional conferences. Students may receive a stipend as a research assistant and are also eligible to apply for a limited number of “summer supplemental housing grants” which help defray the expense of remaining on campus for eight to ten weeks. The Abernethy Endowment, The Dean Rusk International Studies Program, and the Kemp Scholars Program also provide students with funding for study and research projects during the summer or the academic year. Application guidelines and due dates for each program are announced annually.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

THE LIBRARY

The E.H. Little Library is located immediately behind Chambers (the central academic building) near the student center and dormitories and is very convenient for the whole academic community. The 100,000 square-foot building is open 106 hours a week. Those wishing to study after the usual 1:00 a.m. closing time may use the 24-hour study room.

Since the founding of the college, the faculty has played a key role in the development of the collection which today stands at over 600,000 volumes, mostly selected by the faculty. The resulting collection is one carefully evaluated by scholars for appropriate use at Davidson. Approximately 2,000 periodicals are received along with 600 serial publications and many daily newspapers. Complete runs of the major local and national papers such as The Charlotte Observer, The New York Times, The Times (London), The Washington Post, and The Atlanta Constitution are available. Evans' Bibliography of Books Printed in America from 1639-1800, and Shaw & Shoemaker's Checklist of American Imprints, 1801–1819 contain on microfiche every book printed during that time period. Early English Books Online (EEBO) contains digitized images of over 125,000 British books, pamphlets, and more published between 1475 and 1700. Since 1883 the library has been a U.S. Government depository and that collection numbers over 200,000 items.

Almost 1,000 students and faculty members come to the building each day, checking out about 90,000 items a year. A professional librarian is on duty most hours the library is open to help students or faculty members find needed materials. Reference librarians are available to speak to classes regarding research methods in the various disciplines. Over fifty students, most on work-study assignments, are employed in the library each year.

The library employs a sophisticated, integrated Web-based computer system. From the library's home page it is easy to search CHAL (Computerized Help at Little Library), named for the late Director Emeritus Dr. Chalmers G. Davidson, which offers computer access to all the library's books and many government documents by author, title, and subject, as well as having keyword and advanced search capabilities. Many periodical indexes (e.g., Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature) are also available electronically. There is online access to daily newspapers from around the country and around the world. The library subscribes to many electronic full-text journals including those from Project Muse and JSTOR. NC-LIVE, a state-wide access to many data bases and thousands of full-text journals, is also available.

Materials that are not found in the library may be obtained through interlibrary loan from a wide variety of libraries across the state and nation. A telefacsimile machine is available for student and faculty use. The internet, as well as the telefacsimile, provides fast delivery of requested copies of articles from other libraries.

Students have access to the campus network via PC's found on each floor of the library. Wireless connectivity is also available. Laptop computers may be checked out at the Circulation desk; a public scanner is available; and there are assisted technology stations available for students with physical, visual, or learning disabilities. Cataloguing and interlibrary loans are facilitated by the library's participation in OCLC, INC. and SOLINET (Southeastern Library Network), national and regional computer networks.

The Davidsoniana Room features several thousand books by and about Davidson alumni and faculty members. Woodrow Wilson, who attended Davidson in 1873-74, Dean Rusk '31, and Davidson's three North Carolina governors are represented. The legendary Peter Stuart Ney, who designed the college seal, is also featured. The Rare Book Room contains many exotic works including incunabula, autographed editions, examples of fine printing, a first edition of the world's first great encyclopedia, Encyclopédie, ou Dictionnaire raisonné des sciences, des arts et des métiers, par une société de gens de lettres (1751–1765) by Diderot, and the Cumming Map Collection.

The building is named for E.H. Little of New York and Mecklenburg County, who gave $1 million towards the construction. At his death, he left $1 million as an endowment for the upkeep of the building. There are endowed book funds for acquisitions that now approach six million dollars.

The music library is located in the Sloan Music Center. Open 87 hours a week, this modern facility houses over 12,000 recordings, scores, videos, and books, all of which are listed in CHAL, the online library catalogue. Listening and viewing stations are available throughout the library.

The recent addition of electronic reserves makes it possible to listen to music reserve materials anywhere on campus. A full-time librarian is available to assist faculty, students, staff, and the greater college community.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SERVICES

Computing is an important activity at Davidson. Computing tools are used extensively in all disciplines of the academic program. A growing number of courses require that students use computers to create Web pages, submit assignments, and prepare presentations. Many more encourage such use and provide opportunities for student involvement in computing.

Computing and networks for instruction, research, and administration are supported by Information Technology Services (ITS). Separate servers are used for administration and instruction in order that optimal services can be given to each without compromise by the other. The ITS staff includes specialists in programming, personal computing, instructional technology, system management, data communication, and telecommunications. Training and support for students, faculty, and staff using personal computers and other college technology resources are important activities of the department.

All computing services for students are free. Every residence hall room includes ethernet jacks for connecting students' personal computers to the campus network. Every student has an electronic mail account. Public-access personal computers are available in several academic buildings including the library. The Student Computing Center houses the largest personal computer lab, which is open more than 100 hours per week. Student assistants are on duty to answer questions, assist new users, and assure proper operation of printers and other equipment. A help desk is also available to troubleshoot student, faculty, and staff computer problems and questions.. Faculty members and departments often arrange for special training programs tailored for a particular course or application. Individual office consultations are available to assist faculty and staff with software applications.

A campus-wide high speed data network connects all buildings and residence halls. The campus is connected to the Internet. Faculty from a variety of departments schedule their classes and laboratory sections in computer classrooms equipped with Macintosh or Windows personal computers, each a node on the campus network. In addition, there are more than 1000 Windows and Apple Macintosh computers on the campus.

EDUCOM CODE: The statement below, known as the EDUCOM Code, is the policy of Davidson College. Members of the college community should inform themselves and abide by its provisions.

Respect for intellectual labor and creativity is vital to academic discourse and enterprise. This principle applies to works of all authors and publishers in all media. It encompasses respect for the right to acknowledgement, right to privacy, and right to determine the form, manner, and terms of publication and distribution. Because electronic information is volatile and easily reproduced, respect for the work and personal expression of others is especially critical in computer environments. Violations of authorial integrity, including plagiarism, invasion of privacy, unauthorized access, and trade secret and copyright violations, may be grounds for sanctions against members of the academic community.

ACADEMIC ASSISTANCE

CHEMISTRY HELP CENTER (located in Martin Chemical Laboratory 328): Select chemistry majors and minors are available Sunday through Thursday evenings, without appointment during the fall and spring semesters, to assist students enrolled in Chemistry 104, 105, 106, 110, 115, 201, 202, and 215 with concepts, problem sets, and laboratory assignments. The Center is funded by the Chemistry Department. The assistance is free for all students.

MATH CENTER: Peer tutors are available evenings during the academic year on a drop-in basis to assist students enrolled in Calculus I and II with concepts, applications, and use of the graphing calculator. The Mathematics Department coordinates the Center and supervises the peer tutors. This assistance is free for all students.

SPEAKING CENTER (located in Chambers North Wing lower-level): Peer tutors are available to assist any student with both general and discipline-specific problems with such curricular and co-curricular presentations as speeches, group projects, and interviews. Resources include assistance in dealing with speech anxiety, topic selection, and effective delivery as well as digital cameras to record presentations for analysis. The Director of the Speaking Center, a professor of Communication Studies, teaches courses in public speaking and communication, and provides training and supervision for the peer tutors. Tutorials are free for all students.

TUTORING PROGRAM: The Office of the Dean of Students coordinates a tutorial program for students desiring academic assistance. Specially trained students who are well-versed in the subject matter are available to tutor in most subject areas. Students pay their tutors directly. Grant subsidies are available for students receiving need-based financial aid.

WRITING CENTER (located in Chambers North Wing lower-level): Peer tutors are available to assist any student with both general and discipline-specific writing problems at any stage in the writing process. The Director of the Writing Center, a member of the English Department, teaches writing courses and provides training and supervision for the peer tutors. Tutorials are free for all students.

LABORATORIES AND STUDIOS

KATHERINE AND TOM BELK VISUAL ARTS CENTER: This 43,000 square foot building, designed by the architect Graham Gund houses classroom facilities for painting, drawing, printmaking, and sculpture. Art history is taught in the Semans Lecture Hall equipped with video and sound technology and in a seminar room, which doubles as a study room for art history slides and images. The Visual Arts Center contains two public galleries, as well as studios and offices for faculty, the gallery director, and staff. Declared majors with an emphasis in studio art may apply for one of the eight individual student studios in the building.

CHARLES A. DANA SCIENCE BUILDING: The Dana Science Building contains classrooms and laboratories for instruction and research on three floors. Two floors house the Physics Department, where there are special facilities for student-faculty research in the areas of atomic and molecular physics, condensed matter physics, laser spectroscopy, theoretical physics, and computational physics. Student laboratories are used for the study of introductory physics, electronics, optics, and advanced physics. All labs contain networked, Pentium-based computers. Major instrumentation includes a diode-pumped Nd:YAG laser coupled to a Ti-sapphire ring cavity, two pulsed Nd:YAG dye laser systems, a CO₂ laser system, a 1.3-m scanning monochromator, a Fourier transform infrared spectrometer, a differential scanning calorimeter, wavemeters and spectrum analyzers, a transient capacitance spectroscopy system, liquid helium and nitrogen cryostats, a Penning ion trap, and a 2-Tesla electromagnet. This equipment is used to study alkali atoms, negative ions, cellular and molecular biophysics, semiconductors, and doped insulators. Dana also houses the Physics Computation Center, which contains high-end workstations for science computation. There are laboratories for instruction and student-faculty research in biochemistry, genetics, molecular and cell biology, microbiology, and developmental biology. Major instrumentation includes an ultracentrifuge, cryostat, -70° freezer, electrophoresis equipment, spectrophotometers, DNA sequencing setup, DNA and RNA hybridization systems, PCR equipment, autoclave, 96-well microplate reader, tissue culture facilities, inverted microscopes, epifluorescence microscopes, and image analysis work stations.

MARTIN CHEMICAL LABORATORY: This building houses a lecture hall, a seminar room, a computer lab, five instructional laboratories, and seven laboratories devoted to student-faculty research, and several instrument rooms. A chemistry library, which features 4,700 books and 75 journal subscriptions, and on line access to all American Chemical Society Journals, is also in this building. Major instrumentation includes a 400 MHz Fourier Transform Nuclear Magnetic Resonance spectrometer, a Fourier Transform Infrared spectrophotometer, and instruments for Atomic Absorption, Ultraviolet-Visible, Circular Dichroism, and Fluorescence spectroscopy. Separation systems, including an Ion Chromatograph, High Performance Liquid Chromatograph, Gas Chromatographs, as well as GC-Mass Spectrometry system, are also available. Other equipment includes electrochemical and electro analytical instruments, a polarized light microscope, a cold room for biochemical studies, and an Aerosol Flow Cell-FTIR to study atmospheric heterogeneous chemical reactions. In addition the building features a computational cluster for molecular mechanics, protein structure determination, and quantum mechanical calculations.

WATSON LIFE SCIENCES BUILDING: The Watson Life Sciences Building houses laboratories for instruction and research in biology and psychology. Special facilities are available for student-faculty research in the areas of anatomy, animal behavior, behavioral neuroscience, botany, cell biology, child development, clinical psychology, ecology, histology, invertebrate and vertebrate zoology, microbiology, physiology, psychopharmacology, sensation-perception, and social psychology. Major instrumentation includes computer stations in teaching laboratories, water purification systems, incubators and growth chambers, standing and countertop centrifuges, phase contrast microscopes, an autoclave, a -70° freezer, ecological sampling equipment, global positioning system, computer based physiology equipment, operant chambers, a computer controlled radial maze, and equipment to measure motor behavior, locomotor activity, and the conditioned rewarding effects of drugs. Watson also houses the animal care facilities.

INSTRUCTIONAL SUPPORT SERVICES (ISS): Located in Chambers Building, the Office of Instructional Support Services provides technical support for all audio/data/video equipment (except computers) installed in classrooms and used for instruction. The staff purchase equipment, maintain it, and arranges for repairs. ISS makes available for classroom use film, slide, and overhead projectors; VCR/DVD players and monitors; and several portable data projectors for short-term loans. It provides off-air and off-satellite recording, audio equipment, and video recording and editing equipment for academic departments. The staff coordinates the renting and purchasing of appropriate educational materials and schedules all academic film screenings. Flat bed scanners and a slide scanner that produces 35mm slides or converts digital images to 35 mm slides are available for academic use.

LANGUAGE RESOURCE CENTER (LRC) and the CENTER FOR INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY (CIT): These facilities are located in adjacent space to ISS in Chambers South Wing—lower level. The LRC serves Davidson's foreign language and classics community and contains a laboratory classroom equipped with 22 multimedia workstations and projection equipment. All workstations provide fast internet access, learning materials related to foreign languages and cultures, and multimedia software and equipment. In addition to hosting language classes, the LRC offers students at all levels the opportunity to listen to, read, write, and produce foreign language materials on their own time.

The CIT is a curricular development center for all Davidson faculty containing multimedia software and equipment for both Macintosh and Windows workstations. The Instructional Technology group (ITG) is composed of staff with expertise to assist faculty as they apply technology to teaching and learning. All members of the ITG are available to faculty for training, consultation, and assistance in preparing materials for classroom use.

MUSIC FACILITIES: The Music Department occupies the recently renovated Sloan Music Center. The departmental and faculty offices, two classrooms, and the Music Library are on the main level. The wing devoted to the Music Library preserves and maintains the collections of music scores, reference books, videos, DVDs and CDs, and has four listening stations, four computer-based multi-media stations, and a small group listening/viewing room.

The Tyler-Tallman Recital Hall on the upper level seats 175 and provides an intimate performance space for student recitals, lectures, and master classes. Available on the stage are a Kingston Harpsichord and two concert grand pianos: a New York Steinway "D" and a Hamburg Steinway "D." A spacious instrumental hall and a large choral room equipped with a Steinway "D" offer students excellent ensemble rehearsal spaces.

The lower level houses piano, voice, and high string studios and includes instructional spaces for string, wind, and brass teachers. A state of the art electronic music studio, a recording studio, and a keyboard laboratory are located here. There are seven spacious practice rooms, fully soundproofed and equipped with pianos and stands, as well as multi-functional classroom/small ensemble rehearsal space. The student lounge with vending areas, lounge chairs, and study tables sits in the center of this level.

Other venues for the Music Department's concerts are the Duke Family Performance Hall with a drop-in acoustical shell and a Steinway "D" concert grand piano, the Carnegie Guest House living room with its Bösendorfer Imperial grand piano, and the sanctuary of the Davidson College Presbyterian Church which is the site of many choral concerts and the annual Christmas Vespers Service.

THEATRE FACILITIES: Mainstage theatre productions take place in the Duke Family Performance Hall. The Hall is a state of the art theatre with a seating capacity of 625 and a 48 line fly system. Our second stage series, including student directed one-acts, are performed in the 289-seat Hodson Hall or the 100-seat black box theatre, both in the Cunningham Fine Arts Building.

GENERAL INFORMATION AND REGULATIONS

Admission and Withdrawal

The Admission and Financial Aid Committee is responsible for setting the criteria for admitting students to Davidson College. All withdrawals, voluntary or involuntary, are processed through the Office of the Dean of Students.

Course Enrollments

The Schedule of Courses for each semester lists the course offerings planned at the time of the publication of the schedule. The document is not a contract; the college reserves the right to alter course offerings if enrollments and/or resources require. Further, the college does not guarantee that a student will be able to enroll in any particular course. Enrollments are guided by stated course ceilings, stated prerequisites, space requirements, a random number registration priority system, and academic quality determinations.

Course Loads

The normal academic load is four or five credit courses per semester. Seniors who have extra credits may elect a three-course load in any one semester of the senior year or spring semester of the junior year. During the regular academic year, there is no reduction in tuition for a reduced course load, nor is there an additional fee for an overload. (Each Davidson course credit is equivalent to four semester hours.)

Class Attendance

Regular class attendance is the student's obligation, and the student is responsible for all the work of all class meetings. A student who is absent from more than one-fourth of the course meetings scheduled by the instructor shall be assigned a grade of "F" unless the instructor specifies a different policy at the beginning of the course. Students should note that each professor has the discretion to establish the attendance policy in each class.

The Committee on Educational Policy reviews schedules for athletic and other college-sponsored extracurricular activities to insure minimal necessary class absences and to require early notification to students and professors of schedule demands that conflict with class times.

Schedule Adjustment Period

At the beginning of each academic year, the Registrar distributes procedures for Schedule Adjustment which may include a pre-semester period and periods during the first week of each semester to drop and add, periods during the second week of each semester to drop and add with written approval of the professor of the course to be added. A $20.00 late fee is charged for courses added or dropped after the first week of the semester. After that time, a student who drops a course without special permission from the Dean of Students (for medical or psychological reasons) or the Dean of the Faculty (for specific educational reasons) receives an “F” in the course.

Grading System

Each instructor reports grades at the end of each semester. The grading system is:

| | | | | | |
|----|------------------|----|------------------|----|------------------|
| A | 4.0 grade points | B- | 2.7 grade points | D+ | 1.3 grade points |
| A- | 3.7 grade points | C+ | 2.3 grade points | D | 1.0 grade point |
| B+ | 3.3 grade points | C | 2.0 grade points | F | 0.0 grade points |
| B | 3.0 grade points | C- | 1.7 grade points | | |

There is no percentage-based institutional numerical standard or equivalent for the grades issued by individual faculty members.

Special grades are issued as follows:

- I Incomplete; student has not completed final work.
- P/FI Pass or Fail for course taken on a Pass/Fail basis; to earn a Pass, the student must perform at the level of “C-” or above. See the Academic Regulations for additional P/F information.
- LA Laboratory—ungraded, no separate credit is awarded.
- WA Authorized Withdrawal; recommended by the Dean of Students or the Dean of the Faculty.
- UG Ungraded credit; credit transferred from another institution or Davidson Study Abroad credit.
- NG No grade received from the professor.

Transfer Credit

The Registrar evaluates all transfer credit. The host college must be regionally accredited for a “liberal arts and general” program or analogously accredited in countries outside the United States. The course must be consistent with the academic objectives of Davidson College. In order to receive credit, the student must earn the grade of “C-” or higher.

Transfer credit assigned at Davidson is on an ungraded basis (UG) and is not used in computing the grade point average. Transfer credit is limited to 16 courses (or no more than one-half of the courses for graduation) and no more than one-half of the courses used to satisfy major requirements. Individual departments may employ additional restrictions. Other guidelines for transfer credit may apply: further details may be found on the "Authorization to Transfer Credit" form in the Registrar's Office.

Davidson does not award dual degrees. A student who has a BA or BS degree from Davidson or from another institution may not receive a second degree from Davidson using transfer credit from a previous degree.

Self-Scheduled Exams

The ultimate expression of Davidson's Honor Code is the self-scheduling of semester examinations for most classes. The academic calendar provides ten or eleven three-hour examination periods at the end of each semester during which students may take examinations on a self-scheduled basis. The Honor Council, the Student Government Association, and the Office of the Registrar administer self-scheduled exams.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

ANTHROPOLOGY

Professors: Fairley, Ringle (Chair)

Assistant Professors: Cho, Lozada

Core Requirements: Any course in anthropology numbered 370 or under may be counted toward fulfillment of the core requirements for social sciences. However, first-year students are encouraged to take 100- and 200-level courses rather than more advanced courses.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: Anthropology 220, 221, 222, 232, 240, 251, 253, 257, 265, 340, 341, 350, 354, and 356 are options for fulfilling the cultural diversity requirement.

Major Requirements: Ten courses, including:

1. Introductory Cultural Anthropology (101),
2. one approved course in biocultural anthropology (e.g., 102, 270, 271, 340, 375),
3. one approved course in archaeology (e.g., 108, 207, 208, 251, 354, 356),
4. Theory in Anthropology (370),
5. a methods course (371),
6. Senior Colloquium in Anthropology (490),
7. four additional courses (at least two numbered 300 or above).

Normally, seven of the ten major courses should be taken in residence at the college. A maximum of three 100-level courses and two independent studies may count toward fulfillment of major requirements. A current list of departmental offerings satisfying the biocultural and archaeological requirements will be posted on the departmental Web page. Courses taken at another institution may be applied to major requirements with prior written permission. College policy is that Pass/Fail courses taken at Davidson may not be applied toward the major without departmental approval.

Minor Requirements: Six courses, at least four of which must be taken in residence at Davidson College, including Anthropology 101 or 102 or 108; 370; and four other courses in anthropology, including one numbered 200 or above and one numbered 300 or above. Normally, courses taken on a Pass/Fail basis at Davidson may not be counted toward the minor.

Honors Requirements: A major desiring to become a candidate for honors in anthropology must apply in writing to the department at the beginning of the fall semester of the senior year. Applicants must have an overall GPA of 3.2 and a GPA of 3.5 in all course work taken in the major at the time of application. To receive honors, a student must, in addition to maintaining this level of performance, receive a grade of at least A- on the honors thesis (499), as well as departmental recommendation. Further conditions are posted on the departmental Web page.

101W (COMP) FIRST-YEAR SEMINAR: SPORTS, CULTURE, AND SOCIETY

Lozada

Survey of the social and cultural impact of sports throughout the world. Topics include the impact of sports on globalization, the commodification of culture, childhood socialization, gender ideologies, national and ethnic identity, and popular culture. Satisfies the core requirement in composition. Open only to first-year students. (Not offered 2005-06.)

101 INTRODUCTORY CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY

Fairley

Cross-cultural study of the nature of systems of knowledge and belief, social and political institutions, economic behavior, and human ecological adaptation. Anthropological approaches to traditional tribal and peasant societies as well as complex contemporary societies. (Fall and Spring)

102 HUMANKIND EVOLVING

Cho

Introduction to humanity's biological heritage. Topics include introductory evolutionary theory, population genetics, primate biology and behavior, and the primate fossil record. Principal emphasis upon fossil evidence for human evolution, with particular focus on biological adaptations and the emergence of culture. (Fall)

108 INTRODUCTION TO ARCHAEOLOGY

Ringle

Introduction to how archaeologists reconstruct the past. Methods of dating, artifact analysis, excavation, and interpretation, using examples drawn from prehistory. Contributions of archaeology to anthropology, as well as the use of other disciplines by archaeologists. One laboratory period each week. (Fall; offered in alternating years.)

205 ETHNIC RELATIONS

Fairley

(Cross-listed Sociology 205) Comparative and historical study of social processes related to ethnic differences in modern complex societies. Readings in theoretical and descriptive literature, focusing on issues of unequal distribution of power and privilege, racism, and ethnic prejudice. (Fall)

207 FORAGERS, FARMERS, AND CHIEFS OF THE ANCIENT WORLD

Ringle

The development of human society from the late Ice Age through complex agricultural communities. Topics include hunting and gathering, post-glacial adaptation, world colonization, causes and consequences of agriculture, and the rise of social inequality. Examples include the Near East, Europe, North America, and Polynesia. (Spring; offered in alternating years.)

208 EARLY CITIES AND STATES

Ringle

Archaeology of prehistoric and early historic complex societies. Early chiefdoms and states of South America, Egypt, and Asia. Anthropological theories of state formation, including the roles of ecology, ideology, technology, warfare, and economic organization. (Not offered 2005-06.)

222 AFRICAN CIVILIZATIONS

Fairley

African civilizations and their influence on the histories of Europe and the Americas. Two major regional civilizations will be examined, including the impact of European colonization in the 19th century. (Fall; offered in alternating years.)

232 CONTEMPORARY GHANAIAN SOCIETY AND CULTURE

Fairley

Examination of the Ghanaian family, gender roles, religious beliefs, social stratification, political economy, and inter-ethnic relations. Special emphasis is placed on understanding the legacy of colonialism and efforts to develop a national culture. (Spring; offered in alternate years as part of the Davidson in Ghana summer program.)

251 MESOAMERICAN CIVILIZATIONS

Ringle

Origins and development of the major civilizations of Mexico, Guatemala, and Belize from the earliest times to the Spanish conquest. Emphasis upon the Olmecs, Mayas, Toltecs, and Aztecs. Examination of social and political organization, economic systems, ecological adaptations, major artistic achievements, and writing systems. (Not offered 2005-06; offered in alternating years.)

257 THE AFRICAN CONTINUUM

Fairley

African cultural influences on the formation of the cultures of the United States, the Caribbean, and Central and South America. Emphasis on the dynamic nature of African culture in the Americas as shaped by historical and social forces. Prerequisite: Anthropology 101. (Not offered 2005-06; offered in alternating years.)

261 SCIENCE, RELIGION, AND SOCIETY

Lozada

Inquiry into the production and cultural meanings of scientific knowledge and technological change. Comparison of the function and rhetoric of scientific "truths" to other modes of truth-production, such as religion, and consideration of the cultural production of the language of science. Topics include the conflict and dialogue between science and religion, rationality, ethics and the practice of science, environmental issues, and social change. (Spring; offered in alternating years.)

265 CONTEMPORARY CHINESE SOCIETY AND CULTURE

Lozada

Examines Chinese society from the bottom up, with an emphasis on the structure of everyday life. The periods under examination include pre-revolutionary China (including Taiwan and Hong Kong), socialist China, and post-socialist China. Topics include marriage and reproductive strategies, lineage organization, inheritance patterns, gender roles, and religion and life cycle rituals. (Not offered 2005-06; offered in alternating years.)

270 BIOCULTURAL PERSPECTIVES ON RACE

Cho

Examines the concept of race from a biocultural perspective, deconstructing race by exploring evidence from population genetics and human origins. Contemporary racial issues such as classification of racial/ethnic groups, intelligence, and achievement are explored. (Not offered in 2005-06; offered in alternating years.)

271 HUMAN VARIATION AND ADAPTATION

Cho

Human biological variation among and within living populations. Evolutionary, genetic, ecological, demographic, and especially cultural factors that contribute to biological variation are explored. Topics include biological adaptations to hot/cold climates, high altitudes, and lactose intolerance, among others. (Spring; in alternating years.)

272 FORENSIC ANTHROPOLOGY

Cho

The application of the techniques used in biological anthropology to the law. Various topics and methodologies related to the identification of human skeletal remains, including the excavation of human remains, estimation of age-at-death, trauma and analysis, cause and manner of death, and mass disasters, are introduced. (Spring)

310 POLITICS, SOCIETY, AND CULTURE

Lozada

Examines authority, organization, and power using the comparative perspective. Topics include the acquisition and legitimation of authority, comparative political systems, local level politics, the connections between local and wider political systems, cultural and symbolic aspects of power and legitimacy, and social movements in a variety of cultural contexts. (Not offered 2004-05.)

340 MEDICAL ANTHROPOLOGY

Cho

Cross-cultural study of belief systems concerning health and illness, practices of diagnosis and treatment, and roles of patients and practitioners. Western biomedicine and non-Western health care systems are examined. The interaction of ecological and cultural actors that influence disease manifestations, and the bio-cultural context of sickness and therapy are explored. (Fall)

341 GLOBALIZATION

Fairley

Explores globalization and the social and cultural processes transforming local life throughout the world. Introduction to the impact of global capitalism, transnational culture and political flows, and the role of global non-government organizations in different regions. Topics include global capitalism, state power and sovereignty, diaspora ethnicity and migration, and the localization of transnational culture. (Spring; offered in alternating years.)

343 GENDER, POWER, AND CULTURE

Lozada

Explores how gender ideologies shape the exercise of power upon men and women in different societies and cultures. Topics include the construction of masculinity and femininity, commodification and consumption of gender, social position, agency, and the political economy of gender. Emphasis on developing an understanding of different theoretical perspectives in the cross-cultural study of gender. Prerequisite: Anthropology 101 or permission of the instructor. (Not offered 2005-06; offered in alternating years.)

350 ART, SOCIETY AND CULTURE

Fairley

Cross-cultural study of the visual and performing art traditions of selected non-western societies. In addition to examining the major theoretical approaches to the study of art, the course will explore non-western aesthetic systems, relationships between art and social structure, gender and artistic production, and art as mediator between the sacred and the secular. Prerequisite: Anthropology 101 or 222. (Not offered 2005-06; offered in alternating years.)

354 ART AND WRITING OF THE ANCIENT MAYA

Ringle

The sculpture and painting of the ancient Maya, including an introduction to hieroglyphic decipherments concerning Maya dynastic history, warfare, and political organization. Other topics include Maya myth, ritual, and astronomical knowledge. (Not offered 2005-06; offered in alternating years.)

356 ART, MYTH, AND HISTORY OF ANCIENT CENTRAL MEXICO

Ringle

Study of Aztec and Mixtec religion, ritual, and philosophy as exemplified in works of art, architecture and civic planning, literary works, and painted books (codices). Case studies include the Aztec Great Temple, the Codex of Borgia, and the Codex Nuttall, as well as the art of the ancestral city of Teotihuacan. (Not offered 2005-06; offered in alternating years.)

370 THEORY IN ANTHROPOLOGY

Lozada

Theoretical and interpretive perspectives in modern cultural anthropology. Issues include functionalism, historical analysis, cultural evolution, ecology, cultural materialism, structuralism, and symbolic analysis. Writings of major thinkers, including Radcliffe-Brown, Harris, Levi-Strauss, Douglas, Geertz, Turner, Godelier, and Sahlins. Prerequisite: Anthropology 101 or permission of instructor. (Fall)

371 ETHNOGRAPHIC WRITING AND RESEARCH

Lozada

Approaches to ethnographic and ethnohistorical research and analysis in cultural anthropology. Examination of selected studies that demonstrate a variety of approaches to the study of single cultures and to cross-cultural comparisons. Students design and complete research projects. An approved off-campus ethnographic field school course may be substituted if applying this course to an anthropology major. Prerequisite: Anthropology 101 or permission of the instructor. (Spring)

375 HUMAN OSTEOLOGY

Cho

Identification of bones in the human skeleton and basic skeletal biology. Osteological methods and analyses applicable to bioarchaeology and forensic anthropology are introduced. Does not satisfy social science core requirement. (Spring; offered in alternating years.)

377 IMAGING THE EARTH

Ringle

The use of geographical information systems (GIS) to analyze, model, and present spatial relationships in the biological and social sciences. Course is computer-based and emphasizes individual research projects. Does not satisfy social science core requirement. (Spring; offered in alternating years.)

380-385 SEMINARS IN ANTHROPOLOGY

Staff

Topics announced in advance. Not open to first-year students.

382 ANTHROPOLOGY OF VISUAL CULTURE

Fairley

An examination of the major theoretical approaches to the study of visual culture. Fieldwork is an essential component of this course, thus students will be trained to produce short ethnographic videos on American culture. Prerequisite: Anthropology 101. (Fall; offered in alternating years.)

395-396 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH IN ANTHROPOLOGY

Staff

Independent research under the direction of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic(s) of the research and determines the means of evaluation. Prerequisites: Sophomore or junior standing, two courses in anthropology, and permission of the instructor. (Fall and Spring)

490 SENIOR COLLOQUIUM IN ANTHROPOLOGY

Ringle

Advanced seminar required of all senior majors, exploring in depth an anthropological issue of critical importance. Students choose a topic related to this issue and prepare seminar presentations and a major research paper. (Fall)

495-496 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH IN ANTHROPOLOGY

Staff

Independent research under the direction of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic(s) of the research and determines the means of evaluation. Prerequisites: Senior standing, two courses in anthropology, and permission of the instructor. (Fall and Spring)

499 HONORS THESIS

Staff

Research and writing of the honor thesis; departmental oral examination. Open to qualifying senior majors. Prerequisite: Departmental permission. (Fall)

ART

Professors: Jackson, Ligo, Serebrennikov (Chair, on leave, Spring),
(S. Smith Acting Chair, Spring), Warren

Associate Professor: Savage (On leave, Fall)

Visiting Assistant Professor: Freeman

Affiliated Professors: Krentz (Classics), Thomas (History), Toumazou (Classics)

Core Requirement: Any course numbered below 320 will satisfy the arts requirement.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: Art 102, 226, 228, and 332 are options for fulfilling the cultural diversity requirement.

Major Requirement: A major is offered in art with emphasis in studio or art history. In either case the requirement is eleven courses, to be divided as follows:

Emphasis in Studio: Two courses in art history, one of which must be Art 100, and nine studio courses, including Art 397 in the junior year and Art 401 in the senior year.

Emphasis in Art History: Two courses in studio below the 300-level, and nine art history courses, including 100, 400, and 402.

Honors Requirement: Students having a 3.2 overall average and at least a 3.5 average in the major may apply to the faculty for participation in the honors program.

Honors in Studio: The exhibition requirement under Art 401 will be completed in the fall semester of the senior year. In the spring semester the student will present a second exhibition of new work based on a consistent series and must score a grade of A on the oral examination. All work for honors in studio will be in addition to both the major requirements and the requirements for graduation from Davidson College.

Honors in Art History: Candidates for honors must have a 3.2 overall GPA by the end of the junior year and a 3.5 GPA in art by the time of graduation. For requirements, see Art 496. If, in the opinion of the faculty the thesis does not warrant "Honors," a grade other than "A" will be assigned for Art 496. Further details can be found on the department's Web pages at www.davidson.edu/art.

The department maintains Web pages that introduce the art department and provide links to other sites of interest to the student of art.

ART HISTORY

100 SURVEY OF WESTERN ART

Staff

History of art from prehistory to the present examined in relation to the cultural background in which it was shaped. (Fall and Spring)

102 SURVEY OF ASIAN ART

Thomas

Introduction to major monuments of Indian, Chinese, and Japanese architecture, sculpture, and painting. (Fall)

124 AMERICAN ART

Smith

American art from the early colonial period to the present. Emphasis on Copley, West, Cole, Eakins, Homer, Bellows, Wood, Hopper, and Pollock. (Fall)

- 200 GREEK ART AND ARCHITECTURE Toumazou
 (Cross-listed Classics 341) Minoan-Mycenaean art and architecture of the Aegean Bronze Age; later Greek art and architecture from the Geometric to the Hellenistic Period. (Fall)
- 202 ROMAN ART AND ARCHITECTURE Toumazou
 (Cross-listed Classics 342). Art and architecture of the Roman Republic and Empire, including influences of earlier Etruscan and Hellenistic Greek art upon the Romans. (Spring)
- 206 FROM CATACOMBS TO CATHEDRAL Serebrennikov
 A survey of Christian art in the Middle Ages including art and architecture from the Early Christian tombs in Rome to the earliest illustrated Bibles, Byzantine mosaics, and the Gothic cathedrals in France. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 208 RENAISSANCE ART IN NORTHERN EUROPE Serebrennikov
 Painting, sculpture, and the graphic arts from Northern Europe, primarily the Low Countries and Germany, from 1400 to 1550. Major artists, development of oil painting, evolution of devotional imagery, emergence of secular art, effect of widely dispersed graphic images on the culture of this period, and outcome of the Protestant Reformation on the art of this region. (Fall)
- 210 RENAISSANCE ART IN ITALY Serebrennikov
 Painting, sculpture, and architecture in Italy from 1300 to approximately 1570. Works by artists such as Giotto, Donatello, Leonardo da Vinci, and Michelangelo, and writers who were their contemporaries: Alberti and Vasari. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 212 SEVENTEENTH-CENTURY ART & ARCHITECTURE Serebrennikov
 Painting, sculpture, architecture in Counter-Reformation Italy and the Golden Age of Protestant Holland. Artists including Caravaggio, Rubens, and Rembrandt, as well as issues such as how the differing demands of a Catholic culture and a Protestant economy affected the art of the period. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 214 EIGHTEENTH-CENTURY ART Smith
 Eroticism and revolution in painting and sculpture from Tiepolo to David. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 216 NINETEENTH-CENTURY PAINTING Ligo
 Developments in the history of painting from 1790–1890. From the emergence of neo-classicism to the variety of responses to the movement which came to be called Impressionism. Emphasis on French painting and parallel developments taking place in England, Germany, and Spain. (Spring)
- 218 MODERN PAINTING AND SCULPTURE Ligo
 Developments in painting and sculpture that occurred from 1890–1955. From the reaction against Impressionism through Abstract Expressionism. Developments in western Europe during this period and parallel developments occurring in Russia and the United States. Participation in a study tour of the appropriate modern art museums in Washington, D.C., and New York during the semester break is an integral part of the course and, as such, is strongly recommended. (Spring)
- 220 MODERN ARCHITECTURE Ligo
 Developments in architecture that occurred between 1850 and the present. Impact of the industrial revolution upon the development of architectural form. Recent architectural developments with emphasis on the works of Le Corbusier and Frank Lloyd Wright. Participants solve an assigned design problem and present it to the class for critique. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 222 PAINTED WOMEN, WOMEN PAINTING Serebrennikov
 As a survey of gender in art, this course's first half examines how women have been represented in Western art and what that implies about the balance of power between the genders over the centuries. The second half of the course deals with the gradual growth of art made by women, the issues addressed by that art, and its reception in American culture of the past century. (Not offered 2005-06.)

224 ART AND ARCHITECTURE OF FRANCE

Smith

A chronological survey of the representative art and architecture of France, this course includes the French art of major historical periods, as well as art located in France but done by artists of other nations. It will be taught from the point of view of French art historians and their translated texts in order to provide a French view of their own art. (Not offered 2005-06.)

228 ISLAMIC ART

Thomas

Architectural and painting traditions under the Umayyad and Abbasid Caliphs and in Moorish Spain, Ottoman Turkey, Safavid Persia, and Mughal India. (Spring)

230 EARTH ART—FROM LASCAUX TO LUTYENS

Ligo

The world history of garden design as a manifestation of humanity's ever changing relationship with the natural world. Important gardens and their creators will be studied in light of the theology, politics, architecture, painting, theatre and stage design, poetry, and philosophy that shaped them. (Not offered 2005-06.)

232 (328) CLASSICS ABROAD: GREEK AND ROMAN ARCHITECTURE

Staff

(Cross-listed Classics 257) Survey of major and minor forms of classical art and architecture. Includes the arts of Byzantium and examples of Medieval and Renaissance art and architecture derived from the classical tradition. (Not offered 2005-06.)

318 CONTEMPORARY ART

Smith

Major developments in 20th-century painting and sculpture from the beginnings of Pop Art (c. 1955) to the present. (Fall)

320-370 SEMINARS

Staff

Courses numbered with even numbers from 320 through 370 are art history seminars limited to ten upperclass students with preference to art majors. They are offered on an irregular basis in areas of special interest to the faculty, including such topics as history of photography, modern and contemporary critical theory, and individual artists.

322 SEMINAR: CLASSICAL GREEK SCULPTURE

Toumazou

(Cross-listed Classics 444) (Further information from Professor Toumazou.) (Not offered 2005-06.)

332 SEMINAR ON INDIAN ART HISTORY

Thomas

The seminar begins with the art nurtured by the Tamil dynasties, continues with the art of the Buddhist cave temples, and concludes with an in-depth study of Mughal art. This specially-designed, weekly seminar is offered as part of the Semester-in-India Program. (Not offered 2005-06.)

390, 392, 394 INDEPENDENT STUDY

Staff

For the student who wishes to pursue some special interest in art history under the supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the student's work on a regularly scheduled basis. The project must be initiated by a qualified student and approved in advance with a substantial paper as the end result. Normally limited to majors.

400 PERSPECTIVES IN ART HISTORY

Serebrennikov

Required during the fall semester for all senior art majors with an emphasis in art history. (Fall)

402 CAPSTONE SEMINAR

Staff

Topics in art history. Required during the spring semester of all senior art majors with an emphasis in art history. May include a study tour of appropriate sites. (Spring)

496 SENIOR HONORS THESIS

Staff

Students submit a written proposal for a topic in the spring of their junior year. If the topic is accepted, the student enrolls in Art 496 during the fall semester of the senior year. A draft of the thesis is submitted by the end of the semester, whereupon an "Incomplete" is assigned. The final draft is defended during the spring semester in a one-hour oral examination. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor/advisor.

STUDIO

- 101 BASIC STUDIO Freeman
Introduction through the studio to the work of the artist—tools, way of seeing, methods and media. Emphasizes basic principles of visual organization. Open to first- and second-year students only. (Fall and Spring)
- 201 BASIC DRAWING Staff
Introduction to the structure and articulation of natural and non-objective forms through the use of line and tone; analysis of composition. Explores a variety of media. (Fall and Spring)
- 203 BASIC PAINTING Jackson
Exploration of oil and acrylic. Emphasis on obtaining a basic understanding of pictorial organization and critical dialogue. (Fall and Spring)
- 205 BASIC PRINTMAKING—ETCHING Warren
Introduction to history and technique of intaglio: etching, dry point, soft ground, and aquatint. (Fall)
- 207 BASIC PRINTMAKING—LITHOGRAPHY Warren
Introduction to history and techniques of lithography. Art of the hand-pulled lithograph explored through stone and plate techniques. (Fall)
- 209 BASIC SCULPTURE Savage
Three-dimensional concepts using a variety of media. Emphasis on material and special relationships, technical processes, and critical dialogue. (Spring)
- 301 ADVANCED DRAWING Savage
Advanced analysis of composition and visual concepts through a variety of drawing media with special projects in media chosen by the student. Prerequisite: Art 201. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 303 ADVANCED PAINTING Jackson
Attention to the individual's personal response to visual elements. Development of a particular medium chosen by the student; special challenges. Prerequisite: Art 203. (Spring)
- 305 ADVANCED PRINTMAKING Warren
Advanced printmaking challenges including multi-color prints and combination of media. Development of a particular medium chosen by the student. Prerequisite: Art 205 or 207. (Spring)
- 309 ADVANCED SCULPTURE Savage
Sculptural concepts with attention to complex processes such as large-scale fabrication and bronze casting. Individual development of particular media chosen by the student. Prerequisite: Art 209. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 321–371 SEMINARS
Courses numbered with odd numbers from 321 through 371 are studio art seminars limited to ten upperclass students with preference to art majors. They are offered on an irregular basis in areas of special interest to the faculty.
- 391, 393, 395 INDEPENDENT STUDY Staff
For the student who wishes to pursue some special interest in studio under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who evaluates the student's work. Evaluation will be based upon the quality of work produced weekly by the student. The project must be initiated by a qualified student and approved in advance. Normally limited to majors.
- 397 JUNIOR ADVANCED STUDY Jackson
Exploration of a specific medium during the junior year, determined upon consultation with the advisor, leading to the senior exhibition and a preliminary oral exam on the material required for Art 401. (Spring)

401 SENIOR EXHIBITION AND EXAMINATION

Staff

Comprehensive oral examination based on a list of 19th- and 20th-century artists together with an exhibition of the student's work. (Spring)

BIOLOGY

Professors: Case (Chair), Putnam

Associate Professors: Bernd, M. Campbell, Dorcas, Hay, Peroni (On leave, Fall), Stanback, Wessner

Assistant Professors: Hales, Lom, Paradise

Lecturer: McNally

Core Requirements: Any 100-level biology course may be counted toward the fulfillment of the area requirement in Natural Science and Mathematics. The department recommends Biology 111 and 112 for students who are in premedical studies or plan to major in biology. Biology 104, 111, and 112 fulfill the core requirement for a laboratory science. Biology 100W and 103 are taught without a laboratory component.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: Students who participate in the School for Field Studies in a non-western country receive Cultural Diversity credit for Biology 384. Cultural diversity credit is also given for the summer programs in Kenya and Zambia (Biology 368).

Major Requirements: The biology major requires eleven courses: Biology 111 and 112; eight biology courses numbered 300 or above; and Chemistry 115. Of the eight biology courses numbered 300 or above, at least one course must be taken from each of the following groups: Group A (301, 302, 303, 306, and 308; Group B (305, 311, 312, 316, and 331); and Group C (314, 315, 321, 322, 323, and 341). Seven of the courses required for the major must be Davidson courses taught by Davidson College faculty.

Chemistry 201, 202; Mathematics 130 and either 135 or 110; and Physics 120/220 or 130/230 are strongly recommended.

Honors Requirements: The departmental honors program is designed to promote individual excellence through directed independent study and research. Twelve lecture and research courses are required, including Biology 111, 112, 371, 372, and Chemistry 115. Students should plan their programs with their faculty advisors such that the combination of courses and research meets, in general, the balance of courses specified for the major. A proposal should be submitted for departmental action in the spring semester of the candidate's junior year. Research results must be presented in writing and orally to the department in the spring semester of the candidate's senior year. The recommendation of the department regarding honors or high honors will be based upon quality of the course work and the research and its presentation. A detailed description of the honors program in biology can be found in the biology department handbook.

School for Field Studies: Davidson College is affiliated with the School for Field Studies, enabling students to participate in a semester-long or month-long program studying environmental issues. Students must apply for acceptance to the School for Field Studies.

The semester and summer programs concentrate on international environmental issues at one of five SFS centers: Baja, Mexico; British West Indies; Costa Rica; Australia; or Kenya. Semester program students receive course credit for Biology 381, 382, 383, and 384. Summer program students receive course credit for Biology 105 or 385.

100W (COMP) FIRST-YEAR WRITING SEMINAR IN BIOLOGY

Staff

A writing intensive study of selected topics in biology. Satisfies the core requirement in composition. Open only to first-year students. (Not offered 2005-06.)

103 SPECIAL TOPICS IN BIOLOGY I

Hay, McNally, Paradise

Introduction to the science of biology designed to meet science requirements of non-science majors. Course content and emphasis will vary with instructor. No laboratory. Not open to students who have credit for Biology 111 or 112, except by permission of the chair. (Fall and Spring)

104 SPECIAL TOPICS IN BIOLOGY II

Hay, McNally

Introduction to the science of biology designed to meet science requirements of non-science majors. Course content and emphasis will vary with instructor. One laboratory meeting per week. Not open to students who have credit for Biology 111 or 112, except by permission of the chair. (Fall and Spring)

111 MOLECULES, GENES, AND CELLS

Staff

Introduction to the unifying principles of biology at the levels of organization from molecules through cells. The main topics are biochemistry and bioenergetics, cell structure and physiology, and Mendelian and molecular genetics. A laboratory, emphasizing planning, performing, and presenting experiments, meets once each week. Not open to seniors except by permission of instructor. (Fall and Spring)

112 ORGANISMS, EVOLUTION, AND ECOSYSTEMS

Staff

Introduction to organismal and superorganismal biology. Topics include evolution, ecology, and animal anatomy and physiology. Laboratory sessions meet once a week and are comprised of investigative exercises and some animal dissections. Not open to seniors except by permission of instructor. Prerequisite: Biology 111. (Fall and Spring)

301 GENETICS

Hales

Examination of classical and molecular genetics, including the physical nature of genetic material, transmission of genetic information, patterns of inheritance, linkage and gene mapping, recombinant DNA technology, gene regulation, and the history of genetics. Attention is paid to issues such as gene therapy, human cloning, and genetically modified crops. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112. Chemistry 115, 160, or 201 recommended. One laboratory meeting per week. Not open to first-year students. (Fall)

302 MICROBIOLOGY

Wessner

An introduction to the diverse world of microorganisms. Topics include the structure, metabolism, identification, and genetics of prokaryotes and viruses. Special emphasis is placed on interactions between microbes and humans, both in terms of pathogenesis and biotechnology. Laboratory focuses on isolating, identifying, and characterizing bacteria and viruses, using a series of classical and molecular techniques. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112. One laboratory meeting per week. (Spring)

303 BIOCHEMISTRY

Hay

Introduction to the principles of biochemistry. Emphasis is placed upon the structure and function of biomolecules, as well as, upon metabolism and bioenergetics. Laboratory emphasizes the purification and characterization of an enzyme. Prerequisites: Biology 111, 112, and Chemistry 201. One laboratory meeting per week. (Fall)

304 MOLECULAR BIOLOGY

Campbell

Molecular (recombinant DNA) methods applied to a variety of biological questions. Course emphasizes experimental methods and design, with particular attention to genomic organisms. Uses primary literature. Extensive participation in class discussions. Web assignments describe the structure/function relationships of a protein, its evolution, and the protein's 3D shape. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112, and one of the following: Chemistry 201, Biology 301, 302, 306, 307, 308, 309. No laboratory. (Not offered 2005-06.)

305 MICROANATOMY OF THE VERTEBRATES (HISTOLOGY)

Putnam

Microanatomy of the cell with particular reference to those organelles which are altered in the process of development of the four major tissues of the body (epithelial, connective, muscular and nervous tissues). Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112, or permission of the instructor. One laboratory meeting per week. (Spring)

306 DEVELOPMENTAL BIOLOGY

Lom

Investigates cellular and molecular mechanisms that regulate animal development covering topics such as fertilization, cleavage, gastrulation, axis specification, and organogenesis via analysis of classical and modern experiments. Laboratory emphasizes direct experimental manipulations of early embryos including student-designed research projects. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112. Biology 301 or 308 recommended. One laboratory meeting per week. (Not offered 2005-06.)

307 IMMUNOLOGY

Campbell

Introduction to the immune system with an emphasis on mammalian models. Course focuses on the cellular and molecular levels of the immune system in health and disease. Topics include recognition of antigens, development of lymphocyte repertoires, and adaptive immune responses. No laboratory. Restricted to juniors and seniors. Prerequisites: Biology 111, 112, and one of the following: Biology 301, 302, 304, 306, 308, 309. (Spring.)

308 CELL BIOLOGY

Bernd

Examination of the multitude of coordinated interactions that must occur between sub-cellular compartments in order for a cell to function and be able to respond to its local environment. Laboratory focuses on the yeast (S. cerevisiae) mating reaction as a model system for studying inter- and intracellular signaling. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112. Biology 301 recommended. One laboratory meeting per week. (Fall)

309 GENOMIC, PROTEOMICS, AND SYSTEMS BIOLOGY

Campbell

Students will utilize print and online resources to understand how genome-scale information (e.g., DNA sequences, genome variations, microarrays, proteomics, and clinical studies) can provide a systems biology perspective. Students will use computers, databases, and bioinformatics tools to analyze data and post their analyses online. A companion laboratory course (BIO 343) is offered spring semester. Prerequisites: Biology 111, 112, and one of the following 301, 302, 304, 306, 308 or 310. (Fall)

310 COMPUTATIONAL BIOLOGY

Heyer

(Cross-listed Mathematics 487) A survey of bioinformatics techniques used to extract meaning from complex biological data. Mathematical, statistical, and computational methods for analyzing genomic and proteomic data will be discussed in class and applied in the computer lab. Interdisciplinary teams of math and biology students will create interactive Web pages using the Perl programming language. Prerequisite: Biology 309 or permission of the instructor. (Spring)

311 COMPARATIVE ANATOMY

Putnam

Major organ systems of the vertebrate body in light of major evolutionary changes from primitive Pisces to the more advanced Amphibia, Reptilia, and Mammalia. Laboratory involves dissection of the shark and the cat. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112 or permission of the instructor. One laboratory meeting per week. (Fall)

312 ANIMAL PHYSIOLOGY

Dorcas

Introduction to the physical and chemical principles governing the lives of animals with an emphasis on understanding the physiological problems animals face, how those problems vary in relation to animals' environments, and the processes by which animals solve their problem. The laboratory focuses on independent investigation. Prerequisite: Biology 111 and 112. One laboratory meeting per week. (Fall)

314 INVERTEBRATE BIOLOGY—LOWER GROUPS

Staff

Functional morphology, ecology, evolution, and systematics of the metazoa from the Porifera through the Mollusca. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112, or permission of the instructor. (Not offered 2005-06.)

315 INVERTEBRATE BIOLOGY—HIGHER GROUPS

Paradise

Functional morphology, ecology, evolution, and systematics of the metazoa from the Annelida through the invertebrate Chordata. Major emphasis in the laboratory work involves field trips and the making of a collection of the local insects. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112, or permission of the instructor. One laboratory meeting per week. (Not offered 2005-06.)

- 316 BOTANY Hay
Introduction to the fundamentals of plant biology. Topics include: anatomy, physiology, taxonomy, and diversity of plants. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112. One laboratory meeting per week. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 321 ECOLOGY Paradise
The study of interactions between organisms and their environment, at the level of populations, communities, and ecosystems. Course includes investigative field labs and some weekend field trips. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112, or permission of the instructor. One laboratory meeting per week. (Fall)
- 322 VERTEBRATE FIELD ZOOLOGY Stanback
Natural history of vertebrates concentrating on the evolution, adaptations, behavior, and ecology of various vertebrate groups, from the fishes through the mammals. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112, or permission of the instructor. One field trip per week. (Spring)
- 323 ANIMAL BEHAVIOR Case
(Cross-listed Psychology 323) Introduction to principles of animal behavior from an evolutionary perspective concentrating on the adaptive nature of social systems. Laboratories include observations of animal behavior in the laboratory and in the field, experimental design, data analysis, and modeling of social organizations. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112, or Psychology 101, or permission of the instructor. (Spring)
- 331 BEHAVIORAL NEUROSCIENCE Ramirez
(Cross-listed Psychology 303) Permission of the instructor required. (Fall)
- 332 ADVANCED NEUROSCIENCE Ramirez
(Cross-listed Psychology 324) Prerequisite: Biology 331 or Psychology 303 and permission of the instructor. (Spring)
- 333 CELLULAR AND MOLECULAR NEUROBIOLOGY Lom
An advanced examination of neurons and synapses at the cellular, molecular, and genetic levels, including molecular basis of neuronal transmission and memory, and genetics of behavior. Laboratories emphasize visualization of neuronal morphology and synapses in model organisms and examine the behavior of simple organisms and growing neurons. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and one of the following: Bio 301, 304, 306, 308, 309, or 331. Not open to first-year students. (Spring)
- 341 BIostatISTICS AND EXPERIMENTAL DESIGN Peroni
Biological research including experimental design, descriptive statistics, inferential statistics, scientific writing, and the use of library resources, computer spreadsheets, and statistical software. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112, or permission of the instructor. Recommended for prevet students and students who plan to enroll in Biology 323, 351, 352, 371, or 372. Lecture and laboratory. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 342 EVOLUTION Stanback
A literature-based discussion of current topics and trends in evolutionary biology. Prerequisites: Biology 111 and 112, or permission of the instructor. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 343 LABORATORY METHODS IN GENOMICS Campbell
A laboratory intensive course. Students design, print, hybridize, scan, and analyze their own DNA microarrays. Students also perform additional genomic data analysis determined by current research trends. Prerequisites: Biology 309 or 310 and permission of the instructor. (Spring)
- 351, 352 GROUP INVESTIGATIONS Staff
Series of courses introducing students to methods and techniques of biological research. Courses serve as background to student decisions for optional senior research. Permission of the instructor required. (Fall and Spring)

361, 362 SEMINAR

Staff

Group study of selected topics of biological interest. See www.bio.davidson.edu for examples of seminar topics. Open to juniors and seniors. Permission of the instructor required. (Fall and Spring)

371, 372, 373 RESEARCH/INDEPENDENT STUDY

Staff

Field and/or laboratory investigative work under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic(s) of the independent study or research. Research is presented at the end of the semester in a scientific paper, with an additional oral presentation in some cases, e.g., requirement for honors thesis, requirement for funded research. The student is encouraged to plan the research project in advance of the semester in which it is to be completed. Permission of the instructor required. (Fall and Spring)

381, 382, 383, 384 COURSES IN INTERNATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL FIELD STUDIES

Dorcas

Twelve-week semester program at one of six School for Field Studies research centers. Grading is Pass/Fail. Biology 381, 382 and 383 may be counted for major credit. Permission of the instructor required. (Fall and Spring)

385 TECHNIQUES IN ENVIRONMENTAL FIELD RESEARCH

Dorcas

One-month intensive field work course for junior or senior science majors during the summer in one of six School for Field Studies locations around the world. Grading is Pass/Fail, but may be counted for major credit. Permission of the instructor required. (Summer)

401 SENIOR COLLOQUIUM

Case

A capstone course in bioethics. Class project includes the design of a Web site, which will focus on a current issue in the discipline of biology or biomedicine. (Fall)

CENTER FOR INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

Director: Professor Denham (German)

Professors: Putnam (Biology), Stell (Philosophy)

Batten Professor of Public Policy: Buckner

Adjunct Lecturers: Konen (Medical Humanities) (Fall), Veilleux (Medical Humanities) (Fall)

Advisory Faculty: Professor Ault (Psychology), Associate Professor: Bernd (Biology)

Assistant Professors M. Foley (Economics), Sachs (French), Wills (Religion)

The Center for Interdisciplinary Studies (CIS), housed in the Carolina Inn on Main Street, offers capable and highly motivated students the opportunity to design their own interdisciplinary majors. In addition, Davidson faculty members (occasionally in cooperation with faculty members from other institutions) may, through the CIS, offer courses not easily aligned with a single department or program.

Permission to develop a major through the CIS is available to those in the first three years of study at Davidson; generally, students in their fourth or fifth semester are best prepared to undertake this task. A potential applicant should first discuss his or her plans with the director. If these ideas seem appropriate, the student will be invited to submit a proposal outlining the major, identifying potential advisors, and detailing the area in which the senior thesis (a requirement for all majors) will be done. Acceptance of the proposal comes when the director, advisors, and members of the CIS faculty agree that the proposal is meritorious. Students majoring through the CIS are expected to satisfy all college graduation requirements. The director certifies the satisfactory completion of each student's major.

365 LITERATURE AND MEDICINE

This course uses literature to construct the theory and probe the practice of western medicine. Particular attention is paid to analyzing the methodology that shapes a variety of pathologies. Readings include Tolstoy's Death of Ivan Ilich, Camus's The Plague, Kafka's Metamorphosis, Price's A Whole New Life, and Styron's Darkness Visible. (Not offered 2005-06.)

380 ISSUES IN MEDICINE

Putnam

This course has two main components. 1) In the classroom, students examine the four principles of medical ethics: patient autonomy, beneficence, non-maleficence, and justice. Guest ethicists/physicians provide lectures and discussions of issues important to the ethical practice of medicine. Each student makes a class presentation on an ethical topic of his or her choice. 2) In area clinics and hospitals, students observe eight medical practices and write both descriptive and reflective summaries of their activities. (Fall)

381 HEALTH REGULATION AND PUBLIC POLICY

Veilleux

Topics in health care law including: HIPPA, EMTALA, ADA, CLIA. (Fall)

390 HEALTH CARE ETHICS

Stell

Introduction to the interdisciplinary nature of ethical thinking and decision making in health care. The course has two components: didactic (lectures, class discussion, library research, paper writing, etc.) and "experiential," involving an externship assignment to a clinical or administrative department at the Carolinas Medical Center. Examples of externship activities include observing on clinical rounds, attending departmental conferences, journal clubs and Grand Rounds, and doing administrative projects. (Fall)

395, 396 INDEPENDENT STUDY

Denham

Independent study under one or more faculty members who approve the topic, help guide the research, review progress regularly, and evaluate the final results or product of the independent study. (Fall, Spring)

397 FUTURE OF AMERICAN HEALTH CARE

Konen

This course reviews the origins and concepts of primary care medicine in America in its present state and proposes models which might better serve a majority of the basic health care needs of America's population in the new millennium. By the end of the course, students are expected to be creative in articulating a workable primary care system for the next century. (Fall)

495 THESIS

Denham

CHEMISTRY

Professors: Beeston (Chair), Carroll, Nutt, Schuh

Associate Professors: Blauch, Stevens, Striplin

Assistant Professor: Hauser

Visiting Associate Professor Professor: Brown

Core Requirements: Chemistry 105, 106, 115, 199c (with lab), and 201 count toward the fulfillment of the requirement of at least one laboratory course in natural science. Chemistry 104, 110, and 199c (non-laboratory courses) count toward the fulfillment of the requirements in natural science. Students who elect to take Chemistry 110 are encouraged to take Chemistry 115 in order to complete their survey of introductory chemistry.

Introductory Chemistry Program: Students who have earned AP credit for Chemistry 115 may begin their study of chemistry with Chemistry 201. Other students should begin with either Chemistry 110 or 115. Chemistry 110 is designed for those students who have not completed at least one year of high school chemistry or who have had high school chemistry but need a more thorough introduction to the subject matter. Chemistry 115 is recommended for students who have a good background from high school chemistry. A student may elect to take either Chemistry 110 or 115 as the first chemistry course at Davidson.

Major Requirements:

1. The following chemistry courses:
 - a. 201 (115 is a prerequisite for this course), 202, 121 or 215, 351, 352, 371
 - b. two courses selected from 381, 391, or 496
 - c. one course selected from 401, 410, 420, 430, 440, or 450
 - d. one additional 300 or 400 level course, excluding 306
2. Supporting and prerequisite courses:
 - a. Mathematics 135
 - b. either Physics 220 or 230
3. Students must attend ten sessions of the chemistry colloquium during their junior and senior years.

Prospective majors are encouraged to discuss their programs with a department representative early in the first year. The prerequisites for advanced courses require careful planning to obtain a feasible schedule.

Minor Requirements: The minor consists of Chemistry 115, 201, 202, 121 or 215, and two additional courses numbered 300 or higher. In addition, students must attend six sessions of the chemistry colloquium during their junior and senior years. At least five courses counted toward the minor must be taken at Davidson. Only Chemistry 490 or 496 may be taken Pass/Fail.

Honors Requirements:

Candidates for honors must take:

1. The following chemistry courses:
 - a. 201 (115 is a prerequisite for this course), 202, 121 or 215, 351, 352, 371
 - b. one course selected from 381 or 391
 - c. two courses selected from 401, 410, 420, 430, 440, or 450
 - d. 496 and 497
2. Supporting and prerequisite courses:
 - a. Mathematics 135
 - b. either Physics 220 or 230
3. Students must attend ten sessions of the chemistry colloquium during their junior and senior years.

American Chemical Society Attainments Program: The following program is certified by the American Chemical Society as a nationally approved undergraduate major in chemistry. This program is strongly recommended to all majors who plan to study chemistry in graduate school or to seek employment as professional chemists.

1. The following chemistry courses:
 - a. 201 (115 is a prerequisite for this course), 202, 121 or 215, 351, 352, 371, 381, 391, 401, 450
 - b. one course selected from 410, 420, 430, or 440
 - c. 496
2. Supporting and prerequisite courses:
 - a. Mathematics 135
 - b. either Physics 220 or 230
3. Students must attend ten sessions of the chemistry colloquium during their junior and senior years.
4. Mathematics 150 and 235 or Physics 201 are strongly recommended.
5. Approved mathematics or physics courses may be substituted for one of the seminar courses numbered 410-440.

104 CHEMISTRY OF THE ENVIRONMENT

Brown, Hauser

Introduction to chemistry and its application to environmental issues. Topics include general, analytical, and organic chemistry; chemical toxicology; air, water, and ground pollution; major classes of pollutants; and current recycling techniques. Designed for students who do not plan to take additional chemistry courses. No prerequisites. May not be taken for credit after Chemistry 110 or 115 has been taken for credit. No laboratory. (Fall)

105 CHEMISTRY AND SOCIETY

Striplin

Introduction to the science of chemistry and its relation to modern society. The laboratory provides experience in the scientific approach to problems with an emphasis on the evaluation and interpretation of experimental data. Designed for students who do not plan to take additional courses in chemistry. No prerequisite. May not be taken for credit after Chemistry 106, 110, or 115 has been taken for credit. One laboratory meeting per week. (Spring)

106 CHEMISTRY OF ART AND ARTIFACTS

Beeston

Fundamental principles of chemistry applied to an understanding of the sources of color; the materials, methods and products of the artist; the analysis of works of art and archaeological artifacts; forgery detection; and conservation/preservation. Designed for students who do not plan to take additional chemistry courses. No prerequisites. May not be taken for credit after Chemistry 105, 110, or 115 has been taken for credit. One laboratory meeting per week. (Fall)

110 INTRODUCTION TO CHEMISTRY

Brown, Striplin

Mathematical background for the study of chemistry. Atomic structure, periodicity, chemical bonding, nomenclature, stoichiometry, and chemical reactions. Properties of gases, liquids, solids, and solutions. Designed for students who desire to continue studying chemistry at Davidson but lack the background needed to begin Chemistry 115. No prerequisites. May not be taken for credit after any other chemistry course has been taken for credit. No laboratory. (Fall)

115 PRINCIPLES OF CHEMISTRY

Nutt, Schuh

Principles of chemistry for students who plan to take additional courses in chemistry. Topics include stoichiometry, chemical thermodynamics, atomic and molecular structure, chemical equilibria, chemical dynamics, and descriptive chemistry of the main group elements. The laboratory illustrates the lecture topics and emphasizes quantitative measurements. Prerequisite: Chemistry 110 or a good background from high school chemistry. One laboratory meeting per week.

201 INTRODUCTORY ORGANIC CHEMISTRY I

Brown, Carroll, Stevens

Introduction to organic chemistry including nomenclature, properties, structure, and synthesis of organic compounds. Laboratory introduces students to basic experimental techniques of organic chemistry. Prerequisite: Chemistry 115. One laboratory meeting per week.

202 INTRODUCTORY ORGANIC CHEMISTRY II

Brown, Carroll, Stevens

A continuation of the study of organic compounds with emphasis on theoretical treatment of structures and reactions. Laboratory includes introduction to spectroscopic determinations of organic structures. Prerequisite: Chemistry 201. One laboratory meeting per week.

215 CHEMICAL EQUILIBRIUM

Blauch, Hauser, Striplin

Aqueous and non-aqueous chemical equilibrium with applications in biochemistry, environmental chemistry, forensic chemistry, archaeological chemistry, and consumer chemistry. Laboratory experiments include qualitative and quantitative analysis using volumetric, potentiometric, chromatographic, and spectroscopic methods. Prerequisite: Chemistry 201 or permission of the instructor. One laboratory meeting per week.

303 BIOORGANIC CHEMISTRY

Stevens

Continuation of introductory organic chemistry with emphasis on structure, synthesis, and reactions of bio-logical compounds. Topics include carbohydrates, lipids, amino acids, proteins, nucleic acids, alkaloids, steroids and terpenes, the mechanism of action of cofactors, and energy storage in the body. Prerequisite: Chemistry 202. No laboratory. (Ordinarily offered in alternate years; Not offered 2005-06.)

304 TOPICS IN ENVIRONMENTAL AND GREEN CHEMISTRY

Brown, Hauser

Introduction to environmental chemical principles and methodology including aspects of the chemistry of air, water, and soil; identities, sources, properties, and reactions of pollutants; green chemical approaches to pollution prevention; environmentally benign synthetic methodologies, design of safer chemical products, alternative solvents and catalyst development, and applications of biomimetic principles. Prerequisite: Chemistry 202. No laboratory. (Ordinarily offered in alternate years; not offered 2005-06.)

306 BIOPHYSICAL CHEMISTRY

Schuh

Physical chemistry and its application to the life sciences. Topics include necessary mathematical background, thermodynamics applied to intermediary metabolism, enzyme kinetics, equilibria, antigen-antibody interactions, chemistry of respiration, and physical properties of proteins. Prerequisite: Chemistry 215 (or 121). Does not count toward a major in chemistry. No laboratory. (Offered as needed; not offered 2005-06.)

308 CHEMISTRY OF BIOMEDICAL POLYMERS

Brown

Introduction to the nomenclature, reactions, synthesis, analysis, and structure-property relationships of synthetic polymers. Biomedical applications of modern polymers in bones, joints, teeth, artificial organs, synthetic skin, and drug delivery systems. Prerequisite: Chemistry 202. No laboratory. (Spring)

309 MEDICINAL CHEMISTRY

Stevens

Chemical basis of pharmaceuticals and pharmaceutical development. Topics include drug discovery, pharmacokinetics (delivery of a drug to the site of its action), pharmacodynamics (mode of action of the drug), drug metabolism, and patent issues that affect the development and manufacture of pharmaceuticals. Prerequisite: Chemistry 202. No laboratory. (Fall)

351 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY: THERMODYNAMICS

Blauch, Striplin

Chemical thermodynamics with an introduction to statistical mechanics and applications to solution chemistry. Prerequisite: Mathematics 135; pre- or co-requisites: Chemistry 215 (or 121) and either Physics 220 or 230. No laboratory. (Fall)

352 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY: KINETICS AND QUANTUM MECHANICS

Striplin

Chemical kinetics followed by a discussion of quantum mechanics and its application to spectroscopy and the structure of matter. Prerequisites: Chemistry 215 (or 121), Mathematics 135, and either Physics 220 or 230. No laboratory. (Spring)

371 INSTRUMENTAL ANALYSIS

Blauch, Hauser

Introduction to analytical methods including spectrometry, separations, and electrochemistry. Emphasis will be placed on the principles behind and components of analytical instrumentation. Prerequisites: Chemistry 202 and 215 (or 121). One laboratory meeting per week. (Fall)

381 CHEMICAL SYNTHESIS AND CHARACTERIZATION

Beeston, Stevens

An introduction to experimental techniques employed in the synthesis, isolation, purification, characterization, and identification of organic, organometallic, and coordination compounds. Prerequisites: Chemistry 202 and 215 (or 121). One laboratory meeting per week. (Spring)

391 EXPERIMENTAL PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY

Blauch, Striplin

Experimental study of topics in thermodynamics, quantum mechanics, and statistical mechanics. Laboratory program involves the measurement of reaction rates and mass transport rates; the determination of thermodynamic, spectroscopic, and electrochemical properties; and the study of phase transitions and the behavior of macromolecules. Prerequisite or corequisite: Chemistry 351 or 352. One laboratory meeting per week. (Spring)

401 INORGANIC CHEMISTRY

Nutt

Application of modern theories of physics and chemistry to the study of bonding, structure, synthesis, and reaction pathways of non-metal, organometallic, and transition metal compounds. Prerequisite: Chemistry 352 or permission of the instructor. No laboratory. (Fall)

405-499 SEMINARS, TUTORIALS

Selected topics in Chemistry. Courses offered 2005-06 are listed below. For other possibilities see the department chairs. Prerequisites and permission will vary by topic.

- 405 SEMINAR Staff
Selected topics in chemistry. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 410 ADVANCED ORGANIC CHEMISTRY Carroll
Selected topics in organic chemistry. Prerequisites: Chemistry 202 and 351 or permission of the instructor. (Fall)
- 420 ADVANCED PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY Blauch, Striplin
Selected topics in physical chemistry. Prerequisites: Chemistry 351 and 352 or permission of the instructor. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 450 ADVANCED BIOCHEMISTRY Schuh
Selected topics in biochemistry. Prerequisites: Chemistry 202 and 351, and Biology 111; or permission of the instructor. (Spring)
- 490 INDIVIDUAL INVESTIGATION Staff
Designed for any qualified student who desires to pursue some special interest in chemistry under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic of the research and who evaluates the student's work. Admission by consent of the faculty member following acceptance of the student's written research proposal. Consult the department's guidelines for the preparation of independent research proposals.
- 496 INTRODUCTION TO RESEARCH Staff
Laboratory, literature, or applied chemistry projects conducted with the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic of the research and who evaluates the student's work. Admission by consent of the faculty member following acceptance of the student's written research proposal. Consult the department's guidelines for the preparation of independent research proposals. This course is designed for declared chemistry majors.
- 497 THESIS RESEARCH Staff
Reading and discussion of selected materials, formulation of a research proposal, research, and preparation of a thesis under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the research topic. Student work is also evaluated by the department. Admission by consent of the faculty member following acceptance of the student's written research proposal. Consult the department's guidelines for the preparation of independent research proposals. Prerequisite: Chemistry 496.

CHINESE

Associate Professor: V. Shen (Chair)

Assistant Professor: Shao

Adjunct Assistant Professor: C. Shen

Foreign Language Requirement: Successful completion of Chinese 201 satisfies the foreign language requirement.

Cultural Diversity: Chinese 120, 121, 206, 207, 224, 405, and 406.

Minor Requirements:

1. Satisfactory completion of six courses numbered above Chinese 102, including:
 - a. two Chinese language courses chosen from: Chinese 201, 202, 301, 302, 303, 350, 351; and
 - b. two courses in Chinese literature, culture, or cinema, with at least one 400-level course chosen from: Chinese 120, 121, 206, 207, 224, 292, 405, 406.

2. Only one of the following courses may be included in the minor: Anthropology 265, History 475, Political Science 332, Religion 280, 281, or 285.

3. With the approval of the Chinese Program Chair and the Registrar up to three Chinese language, literature, cinema, or cultural courses taken outside Davidson College (either from other American institutions or abroad) may be applied toward the minor.

It is strongly recommended that students study abroad in an approved program in a Chinese-speaking country or place.

101 ELEMENTARY CHINESE I

V. Shen

Elementary Chinese is a two-semester course in modern standard Chinese (Mandarin) designed for students who have no previous exposure to the Chinese language. The goal is to develop students' communicative competency in listening, speaking, reading, and writing at the elementary level. (Fall)

102 ELEMENTARY CHINESE II

V. Shen

Continuation of elementary Chinese I. The goal is to develop the students' communicative competency in listening, speaking, reading, and writing at the elementary level. Prerequisite: Chinese 101. (Spring)

120 INTRODUCTION TO MODERN CHINESE CULTURE

V. Shen

Introduces several aspects of Chinese culture including Chinese cultural motifs and their cultural implications, Peking opera, 20th century Chinese drama, Chinese etymology and calligraphy, Chinese popular music, Chinese cinema, Chinese martial arts, and food. Taught in English.

121 INTRODUCTION TO TRADITIONAL CHINESE CULTURE

Shao

Examination of key aspects of traditional Chinese culture, including birth myths, views of the body, women and sexuality, symbols of evil and folklore, feng-shui and divination, martial arts and heroism, gardens and imperial places, and traditional music. Taught in English. (Not offered every year.)

201 INTERMEDIATE CHINESE I

Shao

Intermediate Chinese I is a two-semester course in standard Chinese (Mandarin) designed for students who have had one year of Chinese at the college level. The goal is to develop the students' communicative competency in listening, speaking, reading, and writing at the intermediate level. Prerequisite: Chinese 102. (Fall)

202 INTERMEDIATE CHINESE II

Shao

Continuation of intermediate Chinese I. The goal is to develop the students' communicative competency in listening, speaking, reading, and writing at the intermediate level. Prerequisite: Chinese 201. (Spring)

206 INTRODUCTION TO TRADITIONAL CHINESE LITERATURE

Shao

Selection of poetry, drama and narrative from ancient times up to 1900, with special emphasis on major themes and conventions. Taught in English. (Not offered every year.)

207 ENGENDERING CHINESE CINEMA

V. Shen

Course examines gender relations in 20th century China through cinematic representations. By looking in detail at the films of a few key directors and reading scholarly works, the class discusses the changing social and political positions of women in cinema from the 1920s to the 1990s, and how this change affects gender relations. Taught in English. (Not offered every year.)

234 MARTIAL ARTS AND HEROISM IN CHINESE FICTION AND FILM

Shao

Introduction to the Chinese idea of martial arts heroes and its representation in fiction and film with emphasis on its historical and changing cultural contexts. No knowledge of Chinese is required. (Fall)

301 ADVANCED CHINESE I

C. Shen

Extensive reading and discussion of texts of increased difficulty, exposure to authentic Chinese materials, emphasis on expanding vocabulary, speaking and writing skills and skills that will help further develop proficiency in Chinese. (Fall)

- 302 ADVANCED CHINESE II Staff
 Extensive reading and discussion of texts of great difficulty, exposure to authentic Chinese materials, emphasis on expanding vocabulary, speaking and writing skills and skills that will help further develop proficiency in Chinese. Continuation of Chinese 301. (Spring)
- 303 ADVANCED CONVERSATIONAL CHINESE Staff
 To further improve students' oral proficiency to converse on various topics in daily life, perform various discourse function, and speak appropriately in different social situations. Prerequisite: Chinese 202 or permission of the instructor. (Fall)
- 350, 351, ADVANCED READING AND WRITING Staff
 (Not offered every year.)
- 405 SEMINAR: TOPICS IN CHINESE CINEMA AND MODERN LITERATURE V. Shen
 Reading and discussion of selected works in Chinese literature and cinema. Discussion of individual research projects. Taught in English. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. (Spring)
- 406 SEMINAR IN TRADITIONAL CHINESE LITERATURE Shao
 Critical study of tales, short stories and novels from 1300 to 1900, with special attention to themes, conventions, critical approaches, and the problem of adaptation from fiction to film, theater, and cartoons. Taught in English. (Fall)

CLASSICS

Professors: Krentz (Chair), Toumazou

Associate Professor: Neumann (On leave)

Assistant Professor: Cheshire

Visiting Assistant Professor: Drinkwater

Affiliated Faculty: Ahrensdorf (Political Science), W. T. Foley (Religion), Griffith (Philosophy), Shaw (Political Science), Snyder (Religion)

Core Requirements: Classics 211, 222, 256, and any course in Greek or Latin numbered above 201 satisfy the core requirement in literature. Classics 257, 341, and 342 satisfy the core requirement in fine arts. Any course in classics cross-listed by the Department of History satisfies the core requirement in history. Classics 261 satisfies a core requirement in philosophy. Classics 268 satisfies a core requirement in social science. Classics 378 satisfies a core requirement in religion. Classics 100W satisfies the composition requirement.

Foreign Language Requirement: Any course in Greek or Latin numbered above 200 satisfies the foreign language requirement.

Major Requirements: The Department of Classics offers a major with an emphasis in either classical civilization or classical languages. (Effective with the Class of 2007.)

Emphasis in classical civilization:

1. three courses in Greek and Latin, including one course in each language and one course at the 200 level or above in either language;
2. one course in ancient history (Classics 231, 232);
3. one course in ancient literature (Classics 211, 222);
4. one course in ancient art (Classics 341, 342);
5. five electives at the 200 level or above, including at least one seminar (400-level course).

Emphasis in classical languages:

1. seven language courses, including five at the 200 level or above and at least two in each language;
2. one course in ancient history (Classics 231, 232, or 255);

3. one course in ancient literature (Classics 211, 222);
4. one course in ancient art (Classics 257, 341, or 342);
5. one seminar (400-level course).

Placement: Students who have studied Latin in secondary school must take a placement test before enrolling in Latin at Davidson. By qualifying scores on the placement test a student may be exempted from Latin 101, 102, and 201. Students who receive a score of 4 or 5 on either or both of the Advanced Placement Latin tests, or who receive a score of 6 or 7 on the higher level International Baccalaureate Latin exam, receive automatic credit for Latin 199. Any such student who places out of Latin 201 on our placement test will receive credit for 201 instead of 199.

Students may enroll for one 300-level Greek and one 300-level Latin course at the 200-level if they have not taken a course above 201 in the language before.

Honors Requirements: Candidates may be admitted to the honors program provided they have attained an overall grade point average of at least 3.2, an average of 3.5 or higher in the major, and the unanimous endorsement of the department's faculty. In addition to the regular course requirements for the major, candidates for honors must complete and successfully defend an honors thesis. A student who receives an A- or better on the thesis and maintains the above grade point averages throughout the senior year will receive the department's recommendation for graduation with honors.

GREEK

101 ELEMENTARY GREEK I Toumazou
Introduction to Attic Greek. Requires drill sessions with Apprentice Teachers. (Fall)

102 ELEMENTARY GREEK II Toumazou
Continuing study of Attic Greek. Requires drill sessions with Apprentice Teachers. Prerequisite: Greek 101. (Spring)

201 INTERMEDIATE GREEK Drinkwater
Readings in Greek literature. Prerequisite: Greek 102. (Fall)

210-219 STUDIES IN ADVANCED GREEK
Students who have completed Greek 201 may enroll in their first 300-level course at the 200-level. Prerequisite: Greek 201.

310-319 STUDIES IN ADVANCED GREEK
We offer at least one course in advanced Greek each semester. In the past four years, we have offered courses in Aristophanes, Herodotus, Homer, Pausanias, Plato, Sophocles, and Xenophon. Prerequisite: Greek 201.

216/316 RHETORIC: THE DEMOCRATIC ART Cheshire
Selections from Aristotle, Plato, Demosthenes, Lysias, and/or Andocides. Prerequisite: Greek 201. (Fall)

218/318 NEW TESTAMENT GREEK Krentz
Introduction to the language, text tradition, and exegesis of selected New Testament writings. Prerequisite: Greek 201 or permission of the instructor. (Spring)

399 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN GREEK
Readings and research on Greek texts, under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic(s) and evaluates the student's work. Prerequisites: Greek 201 and permission of the instructor.

499 HONORS THESIS
Writing of a thesis under the supervision of an appropriate professor. Oral defense before the entire classics faculty required. Admission by unanimous consent of the Department of Classics.

101 ELEMENTARY LATIN I

Introduction to classical Latin. Requires drill sessions with Apprentice Teachers. (Fall)

Cheshire

102 ELEMENTARY LATIN II

Continuing study of classical Latin. Requires drill sessions. Prerequisite: Latin 101 or qualifying score on placement test. (Spring)

201 INTERMEDIATE LATIN

Readings in Latin literature. Prerequisite: Latin 102 or qualifying score on placement test. (Fall)

Drinkwater

210-219 STUDIES IN ADVANCED LATIN

Students who have completed Latin 201 may enroll in their first 300-level course at the 200-level. Prerequisite: Latin 201.

224/324 PASTORAL POETRY

Pastoral Poetry and its reinvention by Roman poets of the Augustan Age and beyond. Selections from Vergil, Tibullus, Propertius, and Calpurnius Siculus. Prerequisite: Latin 201. (Spring)

Drinkwater

228/328 SENECA

The tragedies of Seneca, tutor to the Roman emperor Nero, with some attention to Seneca's philosophical writings and to the evidence for his life. Prerequisite: Latin 201. (Fall)

Cheshire

310-319 STUDIES IN ADVANCED LATIN

We offer at least one course in advanced Latin each semester. In the past four years, we have offered courses in Christian Latin writers, Horace, Latin prose composition, Ovid, Sallust, Roman epic, and Roman satire. Prerequisite: Latin 201.

399 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN LATIN

Readings and research on Latin texts, under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic(s) and evaluates the student's work. Prerequisites: Latin 201 and permission of the instructor.

499 HONORS THESIS

Writing of a thesis under the supervision of an appropriate professor. Oral defense before the entire classics faculty required. Admission by unanimous consent of the Department of Classics.

CLASSICAL CIVILIZATION

100W (COMP) FIRST-YEAR SEMINARS IN CLASSICS

Topics such as, "The Trial of Jesus" and "Justice and Piety." Satisfies the core requirement in composition. Open only to first-year students. (Fall or Spring)

211 GREEK LITERATURE IN TRANSLATION

(Cross-listed English 211) Selected works of Greek literature from the early Archaic through the Hellenistic periods. (Spring)

222 ROMAN LITERATURE IN TRANSLATION

(Cross-listed English 222) Selected works of Roman literature from the early Republic through the Empire. (Offered in alternate years.)

231 GREEK HISTORY

(Cross-listed History 109) Introduction to the history and culture of ancient Greece. (Fall)

Krentz

232 ROMAN HISTORY

(Cross-listed History 110) Introduction to the history and culture of the ancient Roman world. (Offered in alternate years.)

250 CLASSICAL MYTHOLOGY

Drinkwater

Greek and Roman mythology, with an emphasis on its varied treatment in literature and art, both ancient and modern. (Spring)

255, 256, 257, 258 SEMESTER ABROAD

Four course-credit program surveying major aspects of classical antiquity. Conducted on location in Crete, Greece, and Italy. All the discretion of the director, sites in Egypt, Jordan, Turkey, Sicily, or southern France may be included. Open to all sophomores, juniors, and seniors; limited to sixteen participants. For classics majors emphasizing classical civilization, three courses will count as electives in the major requirements. Depending on the instructor, the fourth course will count as the required course in history, literature, or art. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. (Offered in alternate years.)

255 GREEK AND ROMAN HISTORY

(Cross-listed History 111)

256 GREEK AND ROMAN LITERATURE

257 GREEK AND ROMAN ART AND ARCHITECTURE

(Cross-listed Art 232)

COMMUNICATION STUDIES

Professor: Turner (Director)

Adjunct Lecturer: P. Baker

101 (SPE 101) INTRODUCTION—PRINCIPLES OF ORAL COMMUNICATION

Baker, Turner

Examination and implementation of both classical and contemporary principles of effective oral communication. Individual presentations informed by readings, discussions, lectures, and examinations of key speeches. (Fall, Spring)

201 INTRODUCTION TO COMMUNICATION STUDIES

Turner

This course provides a survey of the nature and processes of communication. Begins with basic concepts of communication, including language and nonverbal processes, perception, listening, and adaptation to audiences; then examines communication in specific contexts, including intrapersonal, interpersonal, small group, organizational, public, and mass communication. (Spring)

295 INDEPENDENT STUDY

Staff

Independent work under the direction of a faculty member who determines the means of evaluation. Open to advanced students with special projects. Prerequisites: Communication Studies 101 and permission of the instructor. (Fall, Spring)

390 SPECIAL TOPICS IN ORAL COMMUNICATION

Staff

Group study of selected topics in Communication Studies. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. (Spring)ECONOMICS

Professors: Appleyard (Chair), Hess, Kumar (On leave, Fall), Martin, Ross (Dean of Faculty)

Associate Professors: B. Baker, Chaston

Assistant Professors: M. Foley, F. Smith

Core Requirements: Any course except 195 and 196 counts toward fulfillment of the core requirement in social science; however, the department recommends Economics 101.

Major Requirements:

1. Ten economics courses that are distributed as follows:

- a. Economics 101;
- b. Economics 202, 203, 205, and 495 (All four courses must be completed at Davidson College.);
- c. a course from the 210 or 310 series;
- d. a course from the 220 or 320 series;
- e. a course from the 230 or 330 series; and
- f. two other courses above Economics 101, with the exceptions of Economics 130, 195, 196, 199, and 401, and the exception that either Economics 212 or 213 (but not both) may be counted toward the major.

2. At least one of the ten courses in (1) must be a 300-level course.

3. At least one of the ten courses in (1) must be an "S" course.

Courses taken Pass/Fail at Davidson may not be counted towards the major.

An "S" course contains a significant writing component. At least two of the department's courses each semester are offered as "S" courses. Economics 402 will satisfy the "S" requirement; with the approval of the department, Economics 295, 296, 395, or 396 may satisfy the "S" requirement.

The department strongly recommends that students fulfill the core requirements of Economics 202, 203, and 205 early in the major. Some economics courses, including Economics 202 and 203, have Mathematics 130, Mathematics 135, or an equivalent as a prerequisite.

Minor Requirements:

1. Six economics courses that are distributed as follows:

- a. Economics 101;
- b. Economics 105 or 205 (or discontinued course 204);
- c. Economics 202 and 203;
- d. either Economics 130 or a course from the 230 or 330 series; and
- e. one other economics course above Economics 205, except Economics 401.

2. Requirement (1b), (1c), and at least one of the requirements (1d) or (1e) must be completed at Davidson College.

Courses taken Pass/Fail at Davidson College may not be counted towards the minor.

Honors Requirements: In the process of fulfilling the major requirements stated above, honors candidates must pass Economics 401, earn a grade of A- or better in Economics 402, and maintain a grade point average of 3.5 or higher both in the major and overall. Prospective honors candidates should apply in writing to the department chair in the spring semester of the junior year. Note that Economics 401 does not count towards the major, since it is graded on a Pass/Fail basis; however, Economics 402 may be counted as an elective towards the major.

100W (COMP) FIRST-YEAR SEMINARS IN ECONOMICS

Staff

Writing-intensive study of selected topics in economics. Satisfies the core requirements in composition and in social science. Open only to first-year students.

101 INTRODUCTORY ECONOMICS

Staff

Theories and institutions that organize and direct economic activities in contemporary society. Covering both microeconomics and macroeconomics, prepares students for understanding domestic and international economic issues; and serves as a foundation for further work in economics. Meets for extra sessions.

105 STATISTICS

Foley, Martin

Application of probability and statistics to economic analysis. Topics include: probability rules, discrete and continuous random variables, confidence intervals, hypothesis tests, correlation, and regression. One laboratory session per week.

130 SURVEY OF INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS

Appleyard

(Cross-listed CIS 130). Investigation of the causes of and gains from international trade, and of the impact of policies that restrict trade. Analysis of the balance of payments and exchange rates and of their implications for economic policy. Discussion of problems of developing countries and possible strategies for solving those problems. Does not carry major credit. Prerequisite: Economics 101. (Fall)

195, 196 INDEPENDENT STUDY

Staff

Designed for non-economics majors who desire to pursue some special interest in economics on an independent study basis. The proposal must be approved in advance by the faculty member who supervises the student and determines the means of evaluation.

202 INTERMEDIATE MICROECONOMIC THEORY

Chaston, Foley, Smith

Analysis of production and consumption activities of individual economic units. Areas of concentration include the theory of consumer behavior, cost analysis, production and distribution theory, market structure, game theory, general equilibrium, and welfare criteria. Prerequisites: Economics 101 and either AP Calculus or Mathematics 130/135.

203 INTERMEDIATE MACROECONOMIC THEORY

(Spring)

EDUCATION

Associate Professor: Gay (Chair)

Assistant Professor: R. Jackson

Lecturer: Gerdes

Affiliated Professor: Ault (Psychology)

Core Requirements: Education 121, 221, 242, 243, and 250 may be counted toward the fulfillment of the core requirement in Social Science.

In its mission to prepare successful facilitators of learning, the Department of Education embraces the primary purpose of Davidson College, which is “to assist students in developing humane instincts and disciplined and creative minds for leadership and service.” Further, the Department of Education exults in the choice of the college “to emphasize the teaching responsibility of all professors” and recruit actively faculty “whose interest in students and teaching is unfeigned and profound.” The endorsement that quality teaching is the foundation of a strong liberal arts institution informs the three-fold mission of the Department of Education: (1) to provide a course of study leading to a Licensure Concentration in Education, resulting in the attainment of a North Carolina teaching license; (2) to provide a course of study leading to an interdisciplinary concentration in the study of education as a liberal art; and (3) to provide courses that meet the core curriculum requirements in the social sciences.

Goals of the Teacher Education Program: To prepare facilitators of learning for secondary schools, the program addresses the following goals:

1. to provide a program of studies constituting a liberal education;
2. to provide an academic major constituting in-depth knowledge of subject matter appropriate for teaching in secondary schools;
3. to provide a sequence of professional studies courses and experiences leading to pedagogical proficiency.

Teacher Licensure: Through a series of articulation agreements with Duke University, Queens University of Charlotte, and the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction, Davidson College provides a course of study leading to North Carolina initial licensure/certification at the secondary level in the fields of English, French (K-12), Latin, Mathematics, Spanish (K-12), Science (which includes majors in Biology, Chemistry, and Physics), and Social Studies (which includes majors in Anthropology, Economics, History, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, and Religion). All coursework is completed at Davidson. Through reciprocity agreements, North Carolina licenses are accepted in forty-two additional states. For more detailed information, interested students should contact the chair of the Department of Education during the first or second year. The Teacher Education Program Handbook is available on the Education Department Web page and provides all details related to licensing procedures.

General Requirements: In addition to meeting the requirements of the major, students in the Teacher Education Program must take the following courses: Education 121, 242, 243, and Psychology 101. Students must also have minimum scores designated by the State of North Carolina on the Praxis Series prior to applying for a license in North Carolina.

Admission Requirements: Formal admission to the Teacher Education Program usually occurs during the second or third year. Students complete an "Admission to the Teacher Education Program" form and meet the following guidelines:

1. proficiency in oral and written communications through completion of core requirements and interviews with the Education Department faculty;
2. state designated minimum scores on the Praxis I series (Pre-Professional Skills Test);
3. successful completion (grade of "C" or better) of two of the following four courses: Psychology 101; Education 121, 242, or 243;
4. a minimum overall GPA of 2.5;
5. a recommendation from the Dean of Students, the departmental advisor, and one other faculty member regarding the student's interest and suitability for teaching;
6. approval of the Teacher Education Committee; and
7. approval of the Department of Education faculty and chair.

Student Teaching: Students take Education 400, 410–411, and 420 concurrently in one semester during the senior year that is reserved for student teaching. No additional courses can be taken at this time. The criteria for admission to student teaching include:

1. admission to the Teacher Education Program;
2. a minimum overall grade point average of 2.5;
3. a minimum grade point average in the teaching field of 2.0;
4. completion of all professional education courses with no grade below "C;" and
5. recommendation by the chair of the Education Department and approval of the Teacher Education Committee.

Concentration: There are two tracks—a traditional student-teaching track leading to licensure (which is outlined above) and an interdisciplinary track for students who are interested in the study of education, but not currently pursuing licensure. Both of these are described in detail in the separate section of this catalog on concentrations. Early schedule planning with the department chair is necessary to ensure completion of all requirements by graduation.

121 HISTORY OF EDUCATIONAL THEORY AND PRACTICE

Gay

Traces historical development and underlying philosophies of educational institutions and practices in the United States; considers current roles and functions of the school in relation to other social institutions such as state and church. (Fall)

221 CONTEMPORARY EDUCATIONAL THEORY AND PRACTICE

Gay

A course that examines contemporary educational theory and teaching practices. Requires approximately sixty hours of fieldwork in a public or private school, weekly class meetings, and the production of a portfolio containing items determined in consultation with the course instructor. (Fall)

241 CHILD DEVELOPMENT

Ault

(Cross-listed Psychology 241). Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Spring)

242 EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY AND TEACHING EXCEPTIONALITIES

Jackson

Psychology of learning as it relates to teaching. Focus on contemporary theories of learning, retention, transfer, motivation, educational assessment, and adolescent psychology, and their particular application to classroom teaching. Includes special emphasis on teaching exceptional students and appropriate clinical experiences in educational institutions. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Spring)

243 ADOLESCENT DEVELOPMENT

Jackson

(Cross-listed Psychology 243). An in-depth examination of specific theories, concepts, and methods related to the period of adolescence. Students explore a wide range of topics including: cognitive development, moral development, identity formation, gender role, social relationships, and the effects of culture on adolescent development. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Fall)

250 MULTICULTURAL EDUCATION

Jackson

The course examines critical issues related to diversifying today's educational system. Discussion topics include curricular content, assessment techniques, and the educational system's role in preparing its citizens to live and work in a global society. It views multicultural education as encompassing teachers, parents, students, administrators, employees, employers, and society at large. The focus is on examining traditional assumptions, expectations, and biases. Satisfies the cultural diversity requirement. (Fall)

300 SEMINAR: SPECIAL TOPICS IN EDUCATION

Staff

Individual research on topics requested by students under conditions specified in a written contract arranged no later than the end of the first week of the term in which credit is to be authorized. Contract must include project title, summary statement of project objectives and proposed activities, preliminary bibliography, specific evaluation criteria and techniques, and schedule of conferences with the instructor. Prerequisite: Approval of the department chair and acceptance of contract by the faculty sponsor of the department.

301 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN EDUCATION

Staff

Areas of study vary according to educational objectives and preferences of interested students. Includes experiences in school settings (public or private) and any level (elementary or secondary) for any subject. The independent study is under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic(s) of the independent study and evaluates the student's work. Prerequisite: Approval of the instructor.

302 FIELD PLACEMENT IN EDUCATION

Staff

Independent study in the Interdisciplinary Concentration in Education under the supervision of a faculty member who approves the student's topic(s) and evaluates the work. Areas of study and experience vary according to the student's educational objectives and preferences. Requires approximately eight hours per week in a public or private school, weekly meetings with a department faculty member, and production of a portfolio, that synthesizes the completed concentration courses. Prerequisite: Approval of the instructor. (Spring)

400 ORGANIZATION FOR TEACHING

Gay

Procedures for effective organization and presentation of subject matter in particular academic disciplines at the high-school level. Approximately one-third of this course is taken under the direct supervision of one or more Davidson College professors in the academic discipline of anticipated certification. Requires appropriate clinical experiences in schools. Prerequisite: Approval of the instructor. (Spring)

410, 411 INTERNSHIP IN TEACHING

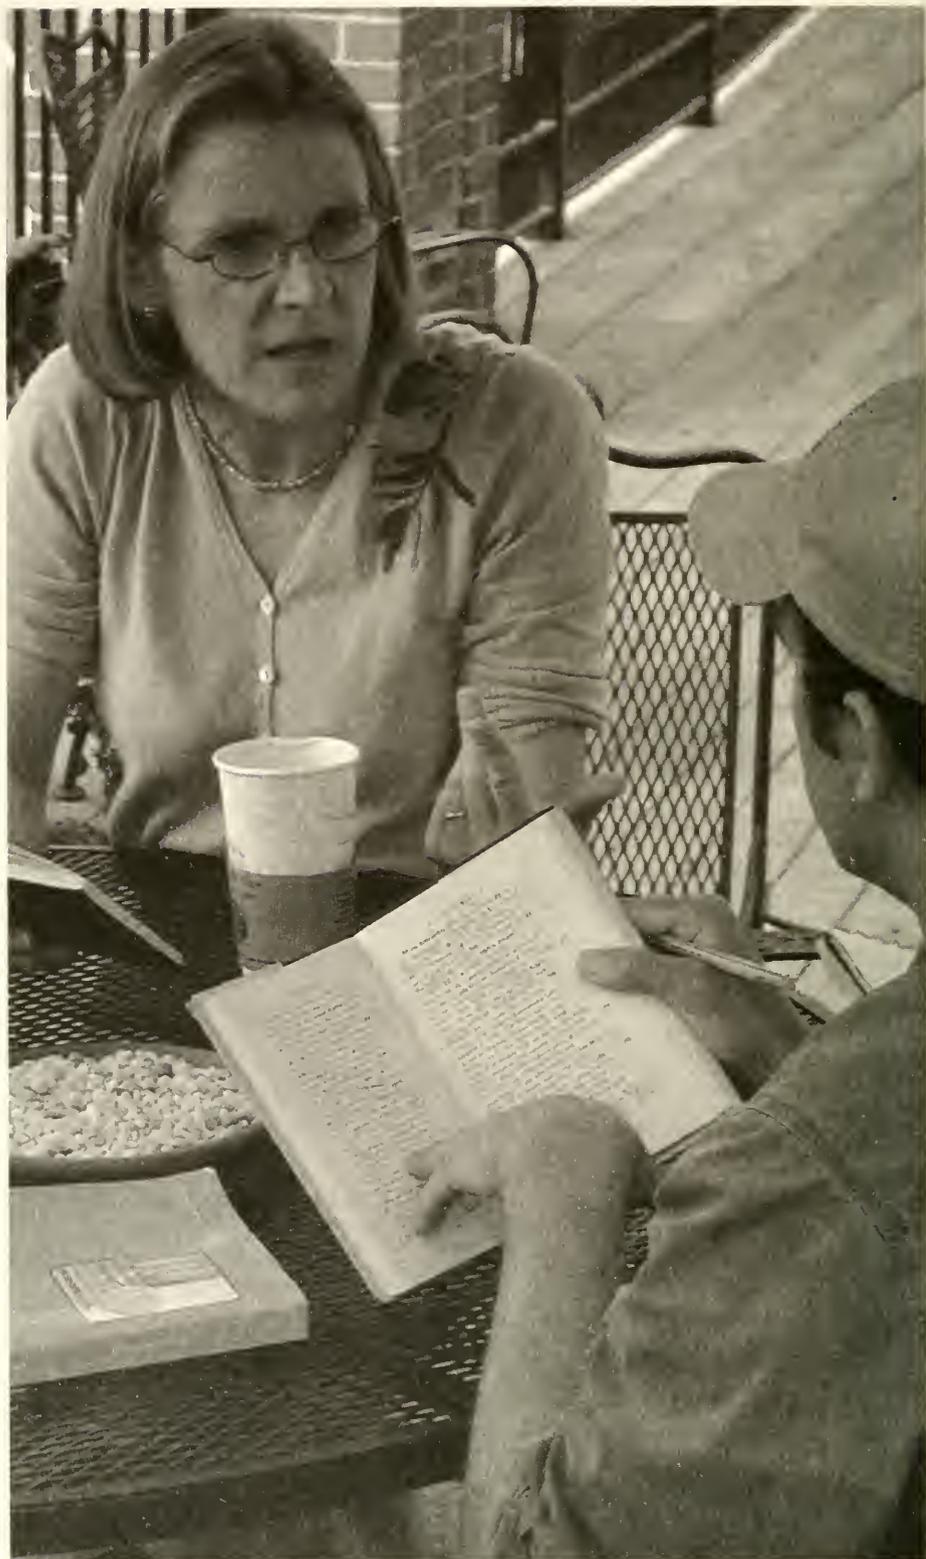

Gay

Ten to twelve weeks of full-time involvement in the secondary school spent in observing, classroom teaching, and other tasks appropriate to accomplished professional teaching. Close classroom supervision by the local secondary school and Davidson professors. Prerequisite: Approval of college committee on teacher education. (Spring)

420 SEMINAR IN SECONDARY EDUCATION

Gerdes

Function of the secondary school, nature of the secondary student, and secondary school curriculum. Emphasis on diagnostic and remedial procedures for secondary students. Discussion includes evaluation and shared experiences resulting from the internship experience. Prerequisite: Approval of the instructor. (Spring)

ENGLISH

Professors: Flanagan, Gibson, Kuzmanovich, Lewis, Mills (Chair),
Nelson (On leave, Spring)

McGee Visiting Professor of Writing: George (Spring)

Associate Professors: S. Campbell, Churchill, Fox, A. Ingram (On leave),
R. Ingram (On leave), Miller, Parker

Assistant Professors: MacKenzie, Vaz

Visiting Assistant Professors: Gazzaniga, James

Adjunct Lecturer: Alvarez (Fall)

Core Requirements: Students may take either English 100W or 101W to satisfy the English composition requirement, but may not take both. English 100 and courses numbered 110 or higher—with the exception of 201, 202, 203, 204, 301, 303, 304, 305, 310, independent studies, tutorials, and 495—may be counted toward the fulfillment of the core requirement in literature.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: English 282, 284, 383, 384 fulfill the cultural diversity requirement.

Major Requirements: Ten courses as follows:

1. English 220. Students who wish to declare a major in English must complete 220 by the end of the sophomore year. Those who do not meet this deadline must make special arrangements with the chair.
2. Four historical period courses, one each in the following fields:
 - British literature to 1660 (e.g., 240, 340);
 - British literature, 1660–1900 (e.g., 260, 360);
 - American literature (e.g., 280, 380);
 - Twentieth-century literature.

These historical requirements can also be fulfilled with two electives that, between them, represent two different phases of a single historical period, e.g., Chaucer (English 343) and either Shakespeare (English 352) or Milton (English 355) for British literature to 1660.
3. A course in theory, language, or major author (e.g., 391, 310, 343, 352, 355).
4. A course in genre or writing (e.g., 201–204, 261, 283, 301, 303, 304, 343, 352, 363, 371, 381, 386, 387).
5. Two electives.
6. English 495 (Senior Colloquium) or a second seminar.
7. At least five of the ten major courses must be at the 300 level or higher; at least one must be a seminar (numbered between 400–494).

Note: With departmental approval, one or two courses from other departments in fields related to the student's program may be substituted for English courses. Students seeking such credit should speak to the relevance of these extra-departmental courses in a letter addressed to the chair of the English Department. No more than two independent studies may be counted toward the major.

Honors Requirements: The Honors Program requires a 3.5 GPA in English courses by the time of graduation and a 3.2 overall GPA at the point of application to the program. It normally comprises twelve courses. These twelve include two in addition to the ten required of all majors: English 498, in which the student researches a thesis and presents plans to a thesis committee; and English 499, in which the student writes the thesis and, at the end, is examined by the thesis committee. Exceptions to the requirement of twelve courses may include the following:

1. Students who apply to the honors program may ask the department to substitute English 498 for an elective.
2. With the department's permission, two courses required of the honors student may come from other departments related to the student's thesis.

A more detailed description of the Honors Program may be found on the departmental Web page. To be awarded honors, students must achieve at least a grade of B+ in both English 498 and English 499.

Transfer Courses: The English Department accepts up to five courses from other colleges and universities as credit toward the major. In no case will the department preapprove transfer credit. To be granted transfer credit toward the major, students must demonstrate to the department that courses taken elsewhere are comparable to Davidson courses in content, contact hours, and workload. At the conclusion of study abroad or study at another accredited U.S. institution, students should make their requests for transfer credit toward the major to the English Department chair and submit for evaluation all relevant course materials.

100W COMPOSITION AND LITERATURE

Staff

Introductory instruction in analyzing and writing about literature. Includes a research paper. Not available to students who are in Humanities or who have otherwise fulfilled the composition requirement, except by permission of the chair during Drop/Add. Open only to first-year students.

101W ENGLISH COMPOSITION I

Staff

Instruction in expository writing and the research paper. Not available to students who are in Humanities or who have otherwise fulfilled the composition requirement, except by permission of the chair during Drop/Add. Open only to first-year students.

101IS INTERCULTURAL ENGLISH COMMUNICATION

Alvarez

Instruction in English for non-native speakers with an emphasis on the grammar, syntax, and vocabulary requisite for communicating at the college level. Not available for students who are eligible to enroll in a W course or in the Humanities sequence.

110 INTRODUCTION TO LITERATURE

Staff

Designed for non-majors. Emphasizes close reading and informed appreciation of literary texts. Topics and readings vary by section. Does not count toward the major.

201 INTERMEDIATE COMPOSITION

Staff

For students who wish a more advanced instruction in writing than English 100W or 101W. The focus of the course may vary from semester to semester.

202 INTRODUCTION TO CREATIVE WRITING

Parker

Practice in the writing of poetry and short fiction with some reading of contemporary American poets and fiction writers. Limited to first-year students and sophomores. (Not offered 2005-06.)

203 INTRODUCTION TO WRITING POETRY

Parker

Ordinarily, taken in the spring of the senior year. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

FRENCH

Professors: Jacobus, Singerman, Slawy-Sutton (On leave, 2005-06), Sutton
(Resident Director, France, 2005-06), Yoder (Acting Chair)

Associate Professor: Kruger

Assistant Professor: Sachs

Visiting Professor: Buckley

Core Requirements: Any course numbered 220–229, or 320–363 may be counted toward the fulfillment of the core requirement in literature.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: French 361 and 363 are options for fulfilling the cultural diversity requirement.

Foreign Language Requirement: Completion of French 201 meets the foreign language requirement for the degree.

Students with prior work in French must take a placement test to assess their language proficiency. Using the results of the placement exam (which tests reading and listening skills) and the high school record, the department places the student at the appropriate level.

Students may satisfy the language requirement by high achievement on the placement exam. Should they wish to continue French, they should enroll in a course numbered 202 or above. Other students may petition the department to satisfy the language requirement on the basis of an oral examination given by a member of the department.

Study Abroad: The department strongly encourages all students, especially French majors or minors, to study abroad for a minimum of one semester. Davidson's own program is located in Tours where students may spend an academic year or either semester (see section on Study Abroad for more details). Students participating in non-Davidson foreign-study programs must secure advance approval from the department for credit toward the major.

Major Requirements: Ten French courses numbered above 202, and including:

1. French 211 or equivalent;
2. French 260 or the equivalent;
3. three 300-level courses including at least one in the 320-359 series and at least one in the 361-379 series;
4. 490 (Senior Seminar);
5. 491 or 499 (Senior Thesis or Honors Thesis).

Note 1: In addition to 490 and 491 (or 499), senior majors are required to take a third course in the department during the senior year.

Note 2: We encourage majors to take courses in French studies offered by other departments. With approval of the French department, one such course may be included as one of the ten required for the major. Examples include ART 224, HIS 228, and HIS 328.

In the spring semester of their senior year, French majors write a senior thesis in French based on a personal reading program developed with the help of a faculty advisor. The reading program may be organized around a literary theme, genre, or movement, as well as a particular author or a civilization topic. Recent topics (translated for convenience) have included: "Economic Development in Senegal," "Images of Homelessness in French literature," "Literary Treatments of Robespierre," "The Novels of Simone Schwarz-Bart," and "Balzac and Ambition."

Students interested in obtaining teacher certification (K–12) in French must satisfy all the education requirements in addition to the major requirements in French, with the exception of French 491 (which is waived to allow the student to complete the education program in the spring semester, including student teaching). Teacher certification candidates submit and present orally a paper on foreign language pedagogy in lieu of the senior thesis.

Minor Requirements: Six courses at the level of French 211 and above. Must include Composition and Conversation (211 or the equivalent), Introduction to French Literature (220–229, or the equivalent), a course in French culture or civilization (260, 360-369, or the equivalent), and three additional courses beyond 211 in French language, literature, and/or civilization, one of which must be at the 300 level or above. At least two of the six courses must be taken at Davidson, one of which must be at the 300 level or above.

Honors Requirements: Candidates for honors take the regular courses for the major, with the exception of French 491. In the Fall, in order to be accepted as candidates for honors, students must, in addition to having a 3.5 GPA in French courses, write an essay demonstrating their ability in written French. Then, with prior departmental approval, candidates for honors register for French 499 in the spring semester of the senior year, write an honors thesis, and complete an oral defense in French before a departmental thesis committee.

100W (COMP) FIRST-YEAR SEMINAR

Buckley

Writing intensive (in English) study of selected topics. Satisfies the core requirements in composition and literature. Open only to first-year students. (Spring 2006)

Approval of project proposal constitutes permission to enroll in 499. An oral defense of the thesis is required.

GERMAN/RUSSIAN

Professors: Denham, Epes, McCulloh

Associate Professors: Henke (Chair), McCarthy

Assistant Professor: Ewington

Visiting Instructor: Wellmon (Resident Director, Germany 2005-06)

Core Requirements: German 100W, 251, 329-349; Russian 100W, 294, 302, 320, 349-361 satisfy the core requirement in literature.

Foreign Language Requirement: German 201 or Russian 201 meets the foreign language requirement for the degree.

Achievement tests are used to place entering students at a level appropriate to their background. Please see the note on placement under each language.

GERMAN

Placement: Students who have studied German prior to entering Davidson but have not been awarded college credit for it will take an online placement test administered by Davidson. They will be placed in German 251 or 252 if their preparation is exceptional; such students may request an additional oral examination to certify completion of the language requirement without additional courses. Students are placed in German 201, if their preparation is strong; in German 102, if less strong. In some cases, the department will recommend that a student who has studied German in high school begin in German 101; no student who has studied German in high school, however, should expect to take German 101 for credit without the express permission of the department.

Major Requirements: Nine courses above German 231 are required for the major in German. They must include: German 251 or a comparable course at a university in a German-speaking country; German 291 or 321; and German 499, the senior comprehensive course. During the senior year at Davidson, students must take at least three courses at the 400 level or above, one of which must be German 499. With departmental approval, one of the courses may be a 300- or 400-level course related to German studies (e.g., European History, Contemporary European Politics, European Art). Students must pass a comprehensive examination based on the departmental reading list. Finally, students must demonstrate proficiency by passing the German university language entrance exam, or DSH, at Würzburg (or the equivalent at another university in a German-speaking country). Other proficiency testing, ordinarily the Test Deutsch als Fremdsprache, will be arranged for those who cannot study abroad but wish to major in German.

Minor Requirements: Six courses above German 231 are required for the minor, at least three of which must be taken at Davidson. These should include: German 251 or 291 (or both), and at least one 400-level course that is not cross-listed with another department. The department strongly recommends study abroad at Würzburg or in an approved program in a German-speaking country.

Honors Requirements: In addition to the major requirements, a student accepted by the department for consideration for honors must write and defend a senior thesis, German 495. To be considered, a student must at the time of application have an overall GPA of 3.2 or better. To receive honors, the student must at the time of graduation have a 3.5 average in all courses counted toward the major, and the department must judge the thesis and its defense worthy of honors.

Study Abroad: A German major should plan to study abroad if at all possible. Students who have completed German 201 are eligible to apply for the Davidson JYA program in Würzburg and should plan to take as many courses as possible from among German 251, 252, and 291 before departure. For students who wish to major in German but are unable to participate in the Junior Year Abroad program in Würzburg, the department will recommend summer or semester program.

HISTORY

Professors: Barnes, Berkey, Edmondson, Krentz, Levering, McMillen (Chair), Thomas

Associate Professors: Aldridge, Dietz, Wertheimer

Assistant Professors: Dennis, Guasco (On leave), Mangan, Tilburg

Core Requirement: Any course in history numbered below 395 may be counted toward the core curriculum requirement in history.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: History 162, 163, 171, 175, 176, 183, 184, 302, 303, 350, 361, 364, 375, 381, 383, 384, 451, 464, or 471 fulfill the cultural diversity requirement.

Advanced Placement Credit: Students normally receive credit for History 122 or 141 when they have earned a score of 5 or 4 on the Advanced Placement Examination in European or American History of the College Entrance Examination Board. (Only a 5 will be accepted beginning with the Class of 2008.) Students normally receive credit for a 100-level course, as appropriate, when they have earned a score of 7 or 6 on The Higher Level Examination in History of the International Baccalaureate Program. No more than two such courses may count toward the major.

Major Requirements: Eleven courses in history, including:

1. At least three, but no more than four, 100-level courses above 101, normally to be completed by the end of the second year, divided among at least three of the following areas (see note 2):
 - a. Pre-Modern Europe (109, 110, 112, 119, Humanities I)
 - b. Modern Europe (120, 121, 122, Humanities II)
 - c. United States (141, 142)
 - d. Latin America, India, Far East, Middle East, China (162, 163, 171, 175, 176, 183, 184)

Note: Students who have completed the Humanities Program receive credit for one 100-level course in either a or b, but not both.

2. One course numbered between 200 and 298, to be taken at Davidson College and normally to be completed by the end of the second year.
3. Five or six courses between 299 and 479, at least one of which must be a topical seminar at the 400-level. See note (2) below (excluding 480 and the Kelley Program).
4. History 480 (Senior Research Seminar), or History 488/489 (Kelley Honors Seminar).

Notes:

- (1) One regular course applied to the major must deal substantially with the pre-modern period (109–119, 162, 171, 175, 183, 215, 311–319, 321, 322, 414, 416, 421, 422, 475, HUM I or suitable transfer course).
- (2) Most courses numbered below 300 are not open to seniors; those 300 and above are normally not open to first-year students. Seminars are open only to juniors and seniors.
- (3) History majors may elect to apply the following course toward requirements at the 300 level: GER 231 (only the Denham/Holocaust section).
- (4) Normally, at least seven (7) of the courses used to satisfy the major are to be taken at Davidson.
- (5) If you go abroad or attend another institution, you can receive up to two credits for a semester away from Davidson: for a year, up to three courses. Any history course taken at another institution for which you desire credit toward the major must be discussed with the department chair before you leave and after you return.
- (6) Davidson's Cambridge Summer Program counts as one history credit at the 300-level.

Honors Requirements: Candidates for admission to the honors program in history must have an overall grade point average of 3.2 after the fall semester of the junior year. Honors candidates must write an honors thesis and defend it orally, in History 488/489 (the Kelley Seminar) during the senior year. To qualify for honors at graduation, candidates must have earned an average of 3.5 or above in the major, an "A" or "A-" on the thesis (History 489), and an overall average of 3.2 or above.

The Kendrick K. Kelley Program in Historical Studies represents a living memorial to Ken Kelley, Class of '63, an honors history graduate who was killed while serving in Vietnam in 1968. The Kelley Program seeks to enrich the academic experience of students majoring in history and to encourage them to emulate Ken Kelley's virtues and achievements.

The program has three components. First, junior history majors who have a minimum overall grade point average of 3.2 are invited to apply to the Kelley Scholars program during the spring semester. Those admitted to the program enroll in a year-long Kelley Seminar (History 488/489) for seniors which culminates in the writing of a thesis, which authors defend orally. Travel funds enable Kelley Scholars to pursue research in distant libraries and archives. Second, the Kelley Lecture Series brings distinguished historians to the Davidson campus. Third, the Kelley Award annually recognizes the senior history major who best exemplifies Ken Kelley's personal qualities—superior academic performance, self-effacing leadership, and personal integrity.

An examination of how 17th-century English men and women turned their world "upside down." Emphasis on the political, social, and religious causes and consequences of the Great Rebellion of 1640–1660. (Not offered 2005–06.)

Dietz

421 EVERYDAY LIFE IN REFORMATION EUROPE

Material circumstances, customs, and assumptions of daily living in the 16th and 17th centuries, especially among common folk. Possible topics include: family life, sexual mores, popular entertainment, magic, witchcraft, crime and punishment. (Fall)

Barnes

422 GENDER IN EARLY MODERN EUROPE (c. 15TH – 18TH CENTURIES)

From Christine de Pisan to Mary Wollstonecraft. An examination of changing roles, expectations, and desires of men and women, with particular emphasis on their interaction. (Not offered 2005–06.)

Dietz

424 THE FRENCH REVOLUTION

This seminar will explore the history and historiography of the French Revolution through books, paintings, music, and film. (Spring)

Tilburg

426 VICTORIAN PEOPLE

Society and culture of Victorian Britain through the lens of some of its more captivating personalities and their writings. Possible figures include: Charles Darwin, George Eliot, William Gladstone, William Morris, and Sidney and Beatrice Webb. (Not offered 2005–06.)

Dietz

433 TWENTIETH-CENTURY GERMANY

Selected topics. (Not offered 2005–06.)

Edmondson

435 THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION

Intensive study of key personalities, ideas, and events. (Spring)

Edmondson

440 SLAVERY IN THE AMERICAS

Comparative exploration of the foundation and development of slavery in the western hemisphere since 1492. Topics include the transatlantic slave trade, work and labor, resistance and rebellion, and the articulation of African culture throughout the Americas. (Not offered 2005–06.)

Guasco

441 NATIVES AND NEWCOMERS IN EARLY AMERICA

Examination of the encounter between indigenous peoples and English, French, and Spanish newcomers in North America. Special emphasis is on the clash of cultures in spiritual, material, and physical realms and how Europeans and Indians contributed to the creation of a distinctive American landscape by the end of the eighteenth century. (Not offered 2005–06.)

Guasco

445 AMERICA IN THE 1940s

Levering

Study of America's involvement in World War II and its leadership during the early years of the Cold War. Although readings emphasize U.S. foreign policy and attitudes toward other nations, students may write research papers on topics in either domestic affairs or foreign relations. (Spring)

448 THE 1950s: A CRITICAL DECADE

McMillen

From Korea to Montgomery, McCarthy to Elvis: an exploration of the events, personalities, and culture of the 1950s in United States history. (Spring)

451 AFRICAN AMERICAN CULTURAL HISTORY

Aldridge

A study of African American cultural history with particular focus on the 20th century. Specific artistic and cultural forms studied may include the visual arts, music, dance, film, and television in their historical context. (Spring)

455 LAW AND SOCIETY IN AMERICAN HISTORY

Wertheimer

Selected topics in U.S. legal history. Seminar members will work collaboratively on a large-scale research project. (Not offered 2005-06.)

464 RELIGION AND SOCIAL CHANGE IN LATIN AMERICA

Mangan

Exploration of the nexus between religion and social upheaval through topics including conquest, rebellion, liberation theology, and religious tradition new to the region, such as Evangelicalism. (Fall)

471 GANDHI

Thomas

Mohandas Gandhi's life, philosophy of non-violence, approaches to conflict resolution, and views on economic and social change. (Fall)

480 SENIOR RESEARCH SEMINAR

Aldridge, Berkey, McMillen, Tilburg

Capstone course for history majors. After discussion of the nature of primary sources and of different historiographic approaches, students define, research, and write a major research paper. Required of senior majors not enrolled in History 488/489. (Fall)

488, 489 KELLEY HONORS SEMINAR: RESEARCH AND THESIS

Wertheimer and Staff

Two-semester research seminar for senior history majors who qualify for honors work and who are selected as Kelley Scholars. Group meetings and individual tutorials, readings in historiography, discussions of current research in the field, and lectures by various members of the department as well as visiting historians. Culminates in the writing of a thesis. Admission by invitation of the history department. (Fall and Spring)

HUMANITIES

Program Director: Associate Professor Dietz (History)

The Western Tradition: First Year

Directors: Professors Berkey (History) and S. Smith (Art)

The Western Tradition: Second Year

Directors: Associate Professor Robb (Philosophy) and Professor Edmondson (History)

Cultures & Civilizations: One-year Sequence

Director: Professor Berkey (History)

Faculty Affiliated with the Humanities Program

Professor Emeritus: Abbott (English)

Professors: Barnes (History), Berkey (History), Denham (German), Edmondson (History), Epes (German), Flanagan (English), Gibson (English), Goldstein (Philosophy), Krentz (Classics), Ligo (Art), Mahony (Religion), Sabaratnam (Sociology), S. Smith (Art)

Associate Professors: Churchill (English), Dietz (History), Gay (Education), R. Ingram (English), Lerner (Music), Munger (Psychology), Parker (English), Rigger (Political Science), Robb (Philosophy), Snyder (Religion), Swallow (Mathematics)

Assistant Professors: Cheshire (Classics), Sachs (French), Wills (Religion)

Adjunct Assistant Professor: Higham (History)

The Humanities program offers two separate course sequences, The Western Tradition and Cultures & Civilizations. The Western Tradition, a two-year, four-course sequence, is an interdisciplinary study of texts and contexts of the West, from the ancient world to the present. Cultures & Civilizations, a one-year, two-course sequence, is a comparative, interdisciplinary study of western and non-western texts.

Satisfactory completion of the four-course Western Tradition sequence enables a student to satisfy the composition (W-course) requirement and receive credit for four courses in the core as follows: literature (one course), history (one course), philosophy and religion (two courses). Enrollment is limited to 80 students, chosen at random from those entering students who list Humanities 150 as their first preference in registration.

Satisfactory completion of the two-course Cultures & Civilizations sequence enables a student to satisfy the composition (W-course) requirement, the cultural diversity requirement, and to receive credit for the core requirement in literature. Enrollment is limited to 32 students, chosen at random from those entering students who list Humanities 160 as their first preference in registration.

To receive core credit for either Humanities sequence, a student must pass all courses in that sequence. Students may not change sequences.

In the Western Tradition sequence, classes meet together for lectures and in groups of 16 students for discussions led by individual instructors. In the Cultures & Civilizations sequence, two discussion groups (of 16 students) usually meet jointly with both instructors. Humanities courses encourage and reward clear thinking, speaking, and writing.

THE WESTERN TRADITION

150 THE WESTERN TRADITION: THE ANCIENT WORLD Berkey, Dietz, Epes, Higham, Wills
Interdisciplinary study of texts and contexts of the Hebrew Old Testament and the ancient and classical world.

151W (COMP) THE WESTERN TRADITION: LATE ANTIQUITY AND THE MEDIEVAL WORLD
Barnes, Dietz, Epes, Gay, Smith
Interdisciplinary study of texts and contexts of the Roman Empire, the Christian New Testament, and medieval Europe. Prerequisite: Humanities 150.

250 THE WESTERN TRADITION: THE RENAISSANCE TO THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY
Abbott, Ligo, Munger, Robb, Sachs
Interdisciplinary study of texts and contexts of western culture from the Renaissance to the late 18th century. Prerequisites: Humanities 150 and 151W.

251 THE WESTERN TRADITION: THE MODERN WORLD Denham, Edmondson,
Goldstein, Higham, Lerner
Interdisciplinary study of texts and contexts of western culture in the 19th and 20th centuries.
Prerequisite: Humanities 150, 151W, and 250.

CULTURES & CIVILIZATIONS

160 CULTURES & CIVILIZATIONS I Lerner, Mahony
Comparative, interdisciplinary study of texts from western and non-western cultures. Creative and critical thinking about what constitutes a civilization, how a cultural tradition defines itself and how it relates to those identified as different.

161W (COMP) CULTURES & CIVILIZATIONS II Berkey, Parker
Comparative, interdisciplinary study of texts from western and non-western cultures. Creative and critical thinking about what constitutes a civilization, how a cultural tradition defines itself and how it relates to those identified as different. Prerequisite: Humanities 160.

MATHEMATICS

Professors: Bivens, Davis, Klein, Neidinger (Chair)
Associate Professors: Molinek, Swallow (On Leave)
Visiting Associate Professor: Whitton
Assistant Professors: Chartier, Heyer, Mossinghoff

Core Requirements: Mathematics 110, 118, 130, 135, 150, and Computer Science 121 count towards the fulfillment of the core requirements in natural science and mathematics; specifically, each fulfills the requirement of one course in mathematics. Credit for Mathematics 130 can be obtained by departmental approval of a student's performance on one of the Advanced Placement Examinations in Mathematics. Credit for Computer Science 121 can be obtained by departmental approval of a student's performance on one of the Advanced Placement Examinations in Computer Science.

Information for Prospective Mathematics Majors: Prospective mathematics majors should complete the following five mathematics courses (or their high school equivalents) by the end of the sophomore year: Mathematics 130, 135, 150, 235 and 300. Note that Mathematics 130, 135, 150, and 235 are sequenced, although the last two may be taken together. These courses, along with Mathematics 300, are prerequisites for many electives in mathematics, a number of which are offered only in alternate years. Students who are interested in computer science electives should complete Computer Science 121, or otherwise satisfy the prerequisites for Computer Science 231, by the end of the sophomore year.

Major Requirements: The major in mathematics consists of eleven mathematics or computer science courses: Mathematics 135, 150, 235, 300, 355, one course from each of Group A, B, and C listed below, and three additional mathematics or computer science courses numbered above 200.

Group A: Computer Science 223 (Introduction to Object-Oriented Programming) and 231(Data Structures), and 325 (Numerical Analysis); Mathematics 210 (Mathematical Modeling) and 341 (Mathematical Statistics)

Group B: Mathematics 221 (Discrete Methods), 255 (Elementary Number Theory), and 365 (Geometry)

Group C: Mathematics 335 (Vector Calculus and Partial Differential Equations), 340 (Probability), and 435 (Complex Analysis)

At least five courses in the major must be at the 300- or 400-level. At most three computer science courses may be included in the major. Computer science independent studies may not be included unless the specific instance is approved by the department. Groups A, B, and C establish breadth in three areas of mathematics, and students are encouraged, therefore, to consider courses outside these groups as potential electives for inclusion in their majors.

Minor Requirements: A minor in mathematics consists of six mathematics courses: Mathematics 135, 150, 235, 300, and two additional mathematics courses numbered above 200, one of which must have Mathematics 300 as a prerequisite. Unless a specific exception is approved by the department, the five courses numbered above 135 must be taken at Davidson and may not include independent studies or computer science courses other than Computer Science 325.

No pass-fail course may be applied toward the minor. College requirements specify a grade point average of 2.0 for those courses which constitute a student's minor and an overall grade point average of 2.0 for all courses.

Honors Requirements: Candidates for honors in mathematics may emphasize either pure or applied mathematics. In meeting the major requirements stated above, honors candidates emphasizing pure mathematics must include Mathematics 221, 335, 340, 360, 430, 435 and either 450 or 455 in their programs. Course work for those emphasizing applied mathematics must include Mathematics 210, 221, 335, Computer Science 325, a two-course sequence consisting of Mathematics 340 and 341 or of Mathematics 430 and 435, and one additional course chosen from Mathematics 340, 430, 435, 437, or an approved seminar. All honors candidates must participate in an independent study course in which they prepare an honors thesis that is defended orally before the mathematics faculty. The final recommendation of the department for graduation with honors is determined by the quality of the honors thesis, the oral defense and the complete overall academic record of the candidate. At the department's discretion, high honors may be awarded when the candidate's academic record is truly exceptional and his or her thesis is of the highest quality and includes original mathematical concepts or results.

Any student considering an honors program should notify his or her academic advisor and the chair of the department during the spring semester of the sophomore year or as soon as possible thereafter. During the junior year, the student should identify an area of mathematics he or she would like to explore and should seek out a member of the department to serve as the potential honors supervisor. Formal application for honors should be made in writing to the chair of the department no later than April 30 of the junior year. Early application is encouraged. Applications must include the name of the honors supervisor, the general area of investigation, and a semester by semester schedule for the required course work and independent study.

Graduate School: A student who intends to go to graduate school in mathematics should: (1) take the course work portion of the honors requirements in either pure mathematics or applied mathematics, (2) take the Graduate Record Examination, including the Advanced Test in Mathematics, during the fall semester of the senior year, and (3) acquire a reading proficiency in French, German, or Russian.

Certificate for Secondary School Teaching: Mathematics 340 and 365 are required for students who intend to seek North Carolina certification in the teaching of secondary school mathematics. Mathematics 210 and 481 are also recommended for such students.

Applied Mathematics Concentration: This concentration offers a track for students interested primarily in the natural sciences and another track for students interested primarily in the social sciences. The concentration is described in detail in a separate section of this catalog.

Computer Science: Students who are interested in computer science are encouraged to consider the Computer Science Concentration. The concentration is described in detail in a separate section of this catalog. In addition, valuable experience can be gained by serving as a student assistant for Information Technology Services. Inquiries concerning these opportunities should be made at the User Services Building.

The student who intends to pursue graduate study in computer science should augment the Computer Science Concentration with Mathematics 150, 235, 300, 340, and 355. The Graduate Record Examination should be taken during the fall semester of the senior year.

COMPUTER SCIENCE (CSC)

- 121 PROGRAMMING AND PROBLEM SOLVING Staff
An introduction to computer science and structured programming using the Java programming language. (Fall)
- 200 COMPUTATIONAL PHYSICS Staff
(Cross-listed Physics 200)
- 231 (321) DATA STRUCTURES Staff
A study of abstract data types, including lists, stacks, queues, and search tables, and their supporting data structures, including arrays, linked lists, binary search trees, and hash tables. Implications of the choice of data structure on the efficiency of the implementation of an algorithm. Efficient methods of sorting and searching. Programs are written in Java or in C++. Prerequisite: Computer Science 121 or 200 or permission of instructor. (Spring)
- 310 BIOINFORMATICS Staff
(Cross-listed as Biology 310.) A survey of computational techniques used to extract meaning from biological data. Algorithms and statistical procedures for analyzing genomic and proteomic data will be discussed in class and applied in the computer lab using Perl. Interdisciplinary teams will explore a particular topic in depth. Prerequisite: One of the following: Mathematics 210, Computer Science 121, Physics 200, Biology 309, or permission of the instructor. (Alternate years: offered Spring 2006.)
- 323 (223) OBJECT-ORIENTED PROGRAMMING Staff
Techniques of object-oriented programming, including abstraction, information hiding, encapsulation, composition, aggregation, inheritance, polymorphism, and design patterns. Prerequisite: Computer Science 231 or permission of instructor. Not open to students with credit for Computer Science 223. (Alternate years: offered Fall 2005.)
- 325 NUMERICAL ANALYSIS Staff
Survey of methods to approximate numerical solutions of problems in root-finding, differentiation, integration, curve-fitting, differential equations, and systems of equations. Derivations, limitations, and efficiency of different algorithms are considered. Prerequisites: Mathematics 150 and 235. (Alternate years: offered Spring 2006.)
- 331 DESIGN AND ANALYSIS OF ALGORITHMS Staff
Algorithm design strategies, including greedy, divide-and-conquer, and dynamic programming methods. Advanced data structures, including balanced search trees, graphs, heaps, and priority queues. Advanced methods of searching and sorting. Computational complexity and analysis of algorithms. NP-complete problems. Prerequisite: Computer Science 231. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 221 or permission of instructor. (Alternate years: next offered Fall 2006.)
- 395, 396 INDEPENDENT STUDY Staff
Independent study under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic(s) of the independent study and who determines the basis for the evaluation of students' work. Open to qualified students with the permission of the department chair. Eligible for major credit by departmental approval.
- 397 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN ADVANCED SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT IN SCIENCE Staff
(Cross-listed Physics 397)
- 482 COMPUTER SCIENCE SEMINAR Staff

MATHEMATICS110 APPLICATIONS OF FINITE MATHEMATICS WITH COMPUTING

Staff

Mathematical techniques which have been used, productively and extensively, during the last thirty years and which do not involve the use of calculus. Probability, linear programming, matrix algebra, Markov chains, game theory, and graph theory are representative topics. In the computer laboratory students learn to use computer software, including a spreadsheet, to solve problems. One 75-minute computer laboratory meeting per week. Not open to students with credit for Mathematics 150, 221, or 340. (Fall)

118 EXPLORING MATHEMATICAL IDEAS

Staff

Survey of intriguing mathematical concepts normally in more advanced courses, considered from an elementary viewpoint. Topics may include the nature of number, infinity, dimension, spatial shapes, chaos, fractals, probability, networks, and game theory. Course emphasizes clarity of reasoning and expression based on mathematical principles. Little background is assumed. This course is not a practical preparation for later courses in mathematics. Not open to students with credit for, or enrolled in, Mathematics 300.

130 CALCULUS I

Staff

An introduction to the differential and integral calculus of algebraic, trigonometric, exponential, and inverse trigonometric functions with applications including graphical analysis, optimization and numerical methods. Fall sections designated 130X are not open to anyone with one semester of a high school or college course about calculus. Other fall sections do not presume proficiency in calculus, but are for students with previous exposure to some calculus concepts.

135 CALCULUS II: MULTIVARIABLE CALCULUS

Staff

An introduction to techniques and applications of single-variable integration followed by the calculus of functions of several variables, including partial derivatives and multiple integrals. Tools of analysis include polar, cylindrical, and spherical coordinates; parametric equations; and vectors, lines, and planes in space. Prerequisite: Mathematics 130 or one year of high school calculus.

139 ADVANCED PLACEMENT/TRANSFER CREDIT: CALCULUS II

A second course in calculus awarded for qualifying scores on the Advanced Placement Calculus BC examination, or for eligible transfer courses. Credit for Mathematics 139 is forfeited by a student who enrolls in Mathematics 235.

150 LINEAR ALGEBRA AND MATHEMATICA WITH APPLICATIONS

Staff

An introduction to systems of linear equations, matrices, determinants, vector spaces, and eigenvectors in an interactive learning environment provided by the computer algebra system Mathematica. Applications are chosen from linear programming, least squares approximation, graph theory, cryptography, tomography, fractals, and other topics. Prerequisites: Mathematics 135 or Mathematics 130 and prior experience with vectors.

191 INDEPENDENT STUDY

Staff

Independent study under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic(s) of the independent study and who determines the basis for the evaluation of students' work. Open to qualified students with permission of the department chair. Does not count towards a mathematics major.

210 MATHEMATICAL MODELING

Staff

A survey of discrete mathematical modeling techniques and their application to the natural and social sciences. Mathematical tools are selected from Monte Carlo simulation, queuing theory, Markov Chains, optimization, discrete dynamical systems, artificial intelligence, and game theory. Emphasis is on formulating models, investigating them analytically and computationally, and communicating the results. Prerequisite: Mathematics 150 or permission of the instructor. (Spring)

221 DISCRETE METHODS

Staff

An introduction to the basic techniques of problem solving in discrete mathematics. Topics include counting methods for arrangements and selections, generating functions, recurrence relations and inclusion-exclusion, covering circuits, graph coloring, trees and searching, and network algorithms. Prerequisite: Mathematics 135 or 150 or permission of the instructor. (Fall)

235 DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS AND INFINITE SERIES

Staff

A study of solution techniques and applications for ordinary differential equations including first order equations, linear differential equations, series solutions, and basic concepts of numerical and graphical techniques applied to equations and systems. An introduction to infinite series and power series is included. Optional topics include Laplace transforms and Bessel functions. Prerequisite: Mathematics 135. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 150.

255 ELEMENTARY NUMBER THEORY

Staff

Introduction to elementary additive and multiplicative number theory, including divisibility properties of integers, congruence modulo n , linear and quadratic congruences, some Diophantine equations, distribution of primes, and additive arithmetic problems. Prerequisite: Mathematics 150 or permission of the instructor. (Offered Spring 2006; alternate years starting Spring 2007.)

291 INDEPENDENT STUDY

Staff

Independent study under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic(s) of the independent study and who determines the basis for the evaluation of students' work. Open to qualified students with permission of the department chair. Major credit is awarded for this course.

300 INTRODUCTION TO PROOF, ANALYSIS AND TOPOLOGY

Staff

An introduction to proof techniques (including quantifiers and induction), elementary set theory, equivalence relations, and cardinality; followed by an introduction to the topology of the real numbers and elementary real analysis, including rigorous topological and analytic treatments of convergence of sequences and continuity of functions. Prerequisite: One of Mathematics 150, 221, and 235 or permission of the instructor.

335 VECTOR CALCULUS AND PARTIAL DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS

Staff

A study of the calculus of vector-valued functions and vector fields and an introduction to partial differential equations. Topics include curves in space, Lagrange multipliers, Green's theorem, divergence theorem, Stokes' theorem, Fourier series, separation of variables, boundary value problems, and applications to physics. Prerequisite: Mathematics 235. (Spring)

340 PROBABILITY

Staff

A study of probability theory relative to both discrete and continuous probability laws. Topics include independence and dependence, mean, variance and expectation, random variables, jointly distributed probability laws, Chebyshev's Inequality and a version of the Central Limit Theorem. Applications of probability theory are approached through a variety of idealized problems. Prerequisite: Mathematics 135. (Fall)

341 MATHEMATICAL STATISTICS

Staff

A mathematical approach to statistical theory. Includes a study of distribution theory, important properties of estimators, interval estimation and hypothesis testing, regression and correlation, and selected topics from non-parametric statistics. Prerequisite: Mathematics 340. (Alternate years: next offered Spring 2007.)

355 ABSTRACT ALGEBRA I

Staff

An introduction to the theory of groups, rings and fields. Topics include normal subgroups, quotient groups, homomorphisms, Cayley's theorem, permutation groups, ideals, the field of quotients of an integral domain, and polynomial rings. Prerequisites: Mathematics 150 and 300. (Fall)

360 INTRODUCTION TO TOPOLOGY

Staff

An introduction to metric and topological spaces. Topics include concepts of completeness, compactness, connectedness and fixed point theorems. Prerequisite: Mathematics 300 or permission of the instructor. (Alternate years: offered Spring 2006.)

365 GEOMETRY

Staff

A rigorous treatment of Euclidean geometry and an introduction to hyperbolic geometry. Neutral geometry is developed synthetically via a modified version of Hilbert's axioms. The Poincare and Beltrami-Klein models are used to establish the relative consistency of hyperbolic geometry. Prerequisite: Mathematics 300. (Fall)

391, 392 INDEPENDENT STUDY Staff
 Independent study under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic(s) of the independent study and who determines the basis for the evaluation of students' work. Open to qualified students with permission of the department chair. Major credit is awarded for both of these courses.

430 REAL ANALYSIS Staff
 A rigorous treatment of one-variable calculus including: metric spaces, sequences and series, continuity, differentiation, the Riemann integral, sequences and series of functions. Prerequisites: Mathematics 235 and 300. (Fall)

435 COMPLEX ANALYSIS Staff
 The algebra and geometry of complex numbers, sequences and series of complex numbers, derivatives and integrals of functions of a complex variable. The Cauchy-Goursat Theorem, the Cauchy Integral Formula and its consequences, Taylor series, classification of singularities, the Residue Theorem, Laurent series, harmonic functions, conformal mappings, and, if time permits, miscellaneous applications. Prerequisites: Mathematics 235 and 300. (Spring)

437 DYNAMICAL SYSTEMS Staff
 A study of the iteration of systems, typically arising from physical or biological models, and the resulting long term behavior. Periodic and chaotic dynamics as well as fractal graphics will be investigated. Prerequisites: Mathematics 235 and 300 or permission of the instructor. (Alternate years: next offered Spring 2007.)

450 ADVANCED LINEAR ALGEBRA Staff
 A further study of vector spaces, dual spaces, inner product spaces, modules, linear transformations, characteristic roots, matrices, canonical forms, trace, transpose, determinants, normal transformations and quadratic forms. Prerequisite: Mathematics 355 or permission of the instructor. (Alternate years: next offered Spring 2007.)

455 ABSTRACT ALGEBRA II Staff
 A continuation of Mathematics 355 including additional topics in group theory and ring theory, extension fields, straight-edge and compass constructions, Galois Theory and solvability by radicals. Prerequisite: Mathematics 355. (Alternate years: offered Spring 2006.)

Seminars

Mathematics 481 is offered each year, typically in the fall. Other seminars are offered as appropriate, typically in the Spring. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

481 SEMINAR IN PROBLEM SOLVING AND HISTORY OF MATHEMATICS Staff

483 ANALYSIS SEMINAR Staff

485 ALGEBRA SEMINAR Staff

486 TOPOLOGY SEMINAR Staff

487 SPECIAL TOPICS SEMINAR Staff

491, 492 INDEPENDENT STUDY Staff
 Independent study under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic(s) of the independent study and who determines the basis for the evaluation of students' work. Open to qualified students with permission of the department chair. Major credit is awarded for both of these courses.

MILITARY STUDIES

Chair: Lieutenant Colonel McCall (On location at UNC Charlotte)

Assistant Professor: Captain Kolouch (Officer-in-charge at Davidson)

Note: The ROTC Program at Davidson College is under the auspices of the Department of the Army which is responsible for making program decisions.

The Department of Military Studies—also known as the ROTC (Reserve Officers' Training Corps) Department—offers qualified students the opportunity to obtain a commission as an officer in the United States Army, Army Reserve, or Army National Guard while they are earning a college degree. ROTC helps students to build for their future in any career by developing confidence, responsibility, self-discipline and leadership abilities. This opportunity is open to both men and women. Students may pursue either a four-year or a two-year program of military studies instruction leading to a commission as an Army Second Lieutenant.

The Four-year Program is divided into two parts: the Basic Course and the Advanced Course.

The Basic Course is usually taken during the first and second years, and covers such subjects as management principles, national defense, military history, leadership development, and physical fitness training. Enrollment in the Basic Course can begin in any term in the first and second years. No military commitment is incurred for participation in the Basic Course. After completing the Basic Course, students who have demonstrated the potential to become officers and who have met the physical and scholastic standards for commissioning are eligible to enroll in the Advanced Course. Basic Course students (first- and second-year students) must complete Military Studies 101, 102, 201, and 202.

The Advanced Course is taken during the last two years. It includes instruction in organization and management, principles of training management, tactics, ethics and professionalism, further leadership development, and advanced physical fitness training. During the summer between their third and fourth years, Advanced Course students attend a fully-paid, six-week, Leadership Development and Assessment Course at Fort Lewis, WA. This course gives cadets the chance to put into practice the leadership theories and principles, and military skills learned in the classroom, and introduces them to how the Army functions in a field environment. Advanced Course students must complete Military Studies 301, 302, 401, and 402.

The Two-year Program is designed for juniors who did not take ROTC during the first two years of college. To enter the two-year program, students must attend a fully-paid, six-week, Leadership Training Course at Fort Knox, Kentucky, during the summer between the second and third years. After successfully completing the Leadership Training course, students who meet scholastic requirements may enroll in the Advanced Course. The Professor of Military Studies may waive any, or all, Basic Course and Basic Camp requirements for students who have had high school Junior ROTC experiences or prior military service.

ROTC students enroll in a military studies course each term. See the military studies advisor for specific details. Military Studies 301 is a credit course. All other military studies courses listed are non-credit courses.

101 FOUNDATIONS OF OFFICERSHIP I

Kolouch

Overview of the constitutional foundations upon which the United States military is based. Purpose and organization of the U.S. defense establishment, with emphasis on the Army. Introduction to leadership principles, motivation theory, and factors affecting leadership development. Includes instruction in rappelling, map reading, drill and ceremony, and customs and traditions of the military. Open to all Davidson students. (Fall and Spring)

102 BASIC LEADERSHIP

Kolouch

Introduction to, and practical application of, basic military skills (land navigation, first aid, radio and wire communications, weapons proficiency, patrolling, drill and ceremony). Emphasis on teamwork and confidence building through participation in leadership activities. Course meets for three hours on Tuesday afternoons. Completion of MIL 101 is desirable, but not mandatory. Military Studies 101 and 102 may be taken concurrently. (Spring)

201 INDIVIDUAL LEADERSHIP STUDIES

Kolouch

Introduction to map reading, terrain interpretation and use of the military compass, first aid, small unit tactics, movement techniques, and other skills that junior army officers must master to serve effectively as platoon leaders. Includes both lectures and practical exercises. May be taken concurrently with Military Studies 101. (Fall and Spring)

202 LEADERSHIP AND TEAMWORK

Kolouch

Continued instruction in and practical application of small unit leadership techniques, with emphasis on development of technical and tactical proficiency required of junior military officers. Mandatory for second-year ROTC cadets. (Offered spring semester only.)

301 LEADERSHIP AND PROBLEM SOLVING

Kolouch

Introduction to the ROTC Advanced Course; refresher and advanced training on land navigation, marksmanship and physical fitness. Detailed study of planning and organizing military missions and leadership development. Introduction to squad tactics. Course meets three class hours per week. Mandatory for third-year ROTC students. Prerequisite: ROTC Basic Course (or Leadership Training Course) or consent of the instructor. Credit Course. (Fall)

302 LEADERSHIP AND ETHICS

Kolouch

Classroom and field instruction and practical exercise in planning, organizing and executing tactical maneuvers. Students are assigned leadership positions on a rotating basis and are evaluated on their ability to influence others to accomplish given missions. Designed to prepare third-year students to perform effectively at the Leadership Development and Assessment Course (LDAC). Mandatory for junior ROTC students. Prerequisite: Military Studies 301 or consent of the instructor. (Spring)

401 THE MILITARY PROFESSION

McCall

Overview of the army training management, administrative, judicial, and logistical systems. Instruction on ethical standards, ethical decision-making process, and professional and moral obligations of military officers. Continued instruction and practical work in leadership, with emphasis on problem solving and planning. Course meets three class hours per week. Mandatory for all senior ROTC students. Prerequisite: Military Studies 302. (Fall)

402 OFFICERSHIP

McCall

Instruction and practical exercises in planning, organizing, and executing training programs. Emphasis on the role of the leader as a trainer. Students prepare lesson plans and conduct training in technical and tactical subjects mastered in earlier ROTC courses. Evaluations are on their ability to carry out detailed training programs with minimal guidance. One three-hour leadership laboratory and one-hour classroom per week. Mandatory for all senior ROTC students. Prerequisite: Military Studies 401. (Spring)

MUSIC

Professors: B. Lawing, Sprague (Chair)

Associate Professors: Botelho, Lerner, Stasack (On leave, Fall)

Instructor: Villa (On leave, Fall)

Adjunct Instructor: Oster (Fall)

Artist Associates: Cooper, Culpepper, Koljonen, C. Lawing, Rowland, Thornton

Core Requirements: Music 100W, 101, 121, 122, 141, 201, 221—246, 261, 325, and 328 satisfy the core requirement in Fine Arts.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: Music 141, 241, 242, 245, 246, and 263 are options for fulfilling the cultural diversity requirement.

Major Requirements: Ten courses to include:

1. three courses in music theory: 201, 202, 302;
2. two courses in music history: 325, 328;
3. one course in U.S. or world music: 122, 141, 228, 241, 242, 245, 246, 263;
4. three electives at the 200 level or higher;
5. senior seminar: 401;
6. applied study (continuously while declared and in residence);
7. ensemble participation (continuously while declared and in residence); and
8. keyboard proficiency.

Minor Requirements: Six courses total,

1. four from Music 101 or 201, 121, 122, 141;
2. two electives at the 200 level or higher; and
3. at least two semesters of ensemble participation or of applied lessons.

Honors Requirements: The departmental honors program encourages the attainment of excellence in the major.

Please consult the department's Handbook for Music Majors, Music Minors, Applied Music Students and Award Recipients for specific details and expectations regarding each of the above requirements.

| 101 FUNDAMENTALS OF MUSIC Introduction to music theory and analysis, with emphasis on intervals, modes, scales, rhythm, meter, and form. No prerequisite. No music training required. (Fall) | Botelho |
| 121 INTRODUCTION TO MUSIC IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION Designed for students who have had but slight contact with the art. Works of important masters from all periods. Develops wider understanding of music through intelligent listening. No prerequisite. No music training required. (Fall) | Staff |
| 122 MUSIC OF THE UNITED STATES The cultivated and vernacular traditions of American music from the Colonial period to the present. Focus on close listening and cultural trends. Topics include: parlor song, minstrelsy, Tin Pan Alley, ragtime, blues, jazz, modernism, country, film music, rock, postmodernism. No prerequisite. No music training required. (Fall) | Lerner |
| 141 WORLD MUSICS Exploration of selected musical systems of the world, approached through study of their basic stylistic elements. Discussion centers on the music and instruments indigenous to each system and includes extra-musical cultural associations such as religion and theatre. Listening drawn from field and studio recordings of native performers. No prerequisite. No music training required. | Stasack |
| 155 APPLIED MUSIC: 1 credit for 2 consecutive semesters Applied instruction designed for students with previous vocal or instrumental training. Must successfully complete jury at end of each semester of study. Additional fee required. Prerequisite: By audition or permission of the instructor. | Staff |
| 195 INDEPENDENT STUDY Independent study in music under the direction of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic, and determines the means of evaluation. Open to qualified students with permission of the chair. | Staff |
| 201 THEORY I: HARMONY Introduction to the grammar of tonal music through part-writing and analysis. Includes scales, intervals, triads, seventh chords, and their inversions. Ear training in intervals, chords, melody, and rhythm. No prerequisite. Knowledge of scales and key signatures required. (Fall) | Botelho |
| 202 THEORY II: ADVANCED HARMONY Continuation of Music 201: Contrapuntal techniques within a diatonic framework, including sequences, melodic and rhythmic figuration; modal mixture, applied chords, modulation, and the neopolitan- and augmented-sixth chords. Ear training includes one- and two-part exercises. Prerequisite: Music 201. (Spring) | Botelho |
| 211 ELECTRONIC MUSIC Introduction to the use of computers and computer-assisted equipment in music composition and performance. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. (Fall) | B. Lawing |

221–223 STUDIES OF COMPOSERS AND STYLES

Staff

Courses concentrating upon specific topics in music history. No prerequisite.

224 THE SYMPHONY

B. Lawing

History of the symphony and its literature from pre-classical examples to the present. (Normally offered in alternate years.)

226 OPERA

Staff

Opera from the Italian Renaissance through the 20th century. (Normally offered in alternate years.)

228 FILM MUSIC

Lerner

Historical, stylistic, and analytic study of film music from the origins of cinema in the 1890s to the present, focusing on fictional Hollywood narratives while also considering music's function in documentary and avant-garde filmmaking. Emphasizes close reading of music in relation to film, and vice versa. Weekly screenings. No prerequisite. (Fall)

230 CHORAL LITERATURE

Sprague

A survey of the history of choral literature with an emphasis on those larger works which are landmarks in the evolution of choral music and which are considered part of today's standard repertoire. Emphasis on close listening and analysis of text music relationships will be correlated with analyses of structural and stylistic elements in the music. Some prior knowledge of music is desirable, but not required. (Normally offered in alternate years.)

231 THE CONCERTO

Sprague

A survey of the evolution and literature of this popular instrumental form. Topics of inquiry will include discussion of stylistic changes and solo-tutti relationships, as well as musical structure. Some prior knowledge of music is desirable, but not required. (Normally offered in alternate years.)

232 JAZZ

B. Lawing

A general introduction to jazz. The class will explore the roots of jazz, will critically examine jazz improvisation, and will present a history of jazz from its beginnings to the 1990s.

241 MUSIC OF LATIN AMERICA

Botelho

An introduction to the music of Hispanic- and Luso-American countries and cultures from colonial times to the present. No prerequisite. (Normally offered in alternate years, Spring.)

242 MUSIC OF ASIA

Stasack

Indigenous classical and folk music of China, Japan, Korea, and India. Includes vocal and instrumental music, as well as prominent dance and theatre forms. Considers aspects of musical systems, aesthetics, and performance practice. Emphasis on historical traditions. No prerequisite. (Normally offered in alternate years.)

245 MUSIC IN WORLD RELIGIONS

Stasack

Cross-cultural study of musical styles, roles, and performance practices in religious belief systems and sacred rituals around the world. Thematic issues include: explicit and implicit relationships between musical substance and ideology; music as a tool for expressing, preserving, and empowering sacred texts; music as a means of structuring ritual; and the power of music to transform experience.

246 MUSIC OF BRAZIL

Botelho

A survey of cultivated and vernacular traditions of Brazilian music from colonial times to the present. Topics include: sacred and secular colonial music, the barrôco mineiro, nationalism, the avant-garde, samba, bossa nova, MPB, candomblé, jazz, tropical rock, and rap. No prerequisites. (Normally offered in alternate years, Spring.)

255 APPLIED MUSIC, INTERMEDIATE: 1 credit for 2 consecutive semesters

Staff

Applied instruction designed for students with previous vocal or instrumental training. Must successfully complete jury at the end of each semester of study. See department for competency levels and literature requirements. Additional fee required. Prerequisite: Music 155.

- 256 APPLIED MUSIC, ADVANCED INTERMEDIATE: 1 credit for 2 consecutive semesters Staff
Applied instruction designed for students with previous vocal or instrumental training. Must successfully complete jury at end of each semester of study. See department for competency levels and literature requirements. Additional fee required. Prerequisite: Music 255.
- 261 INTRODUCTION TO COMPOSITION Stasack
A course exploring the sounds and architectures of contemporary musical styles while cultivating individual projects in composition, with opportunities for performance of works in a class recital. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. (Fall)
- 263 COMPOSITION IN NON-WESTERN STYLES Stasack
Study and appreciation of compositional techniques employed in musical systems of non-European cultures. Student focus on a particular area. Prerequisite: Music 261. (Normally offered in alternate years.)
- 295 INDEPENDENT STUDY Staff
Independent study under the direction of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic, and determines the means of evaluation. Open to qualified students with permission of the chair.
- 302 FORM AND ANALYSIS Botelho
Analytical techniques and formal processes of tonal music, including expressive styles and topics, binary and ternary forms, variation, fugue, and sonata form. Prerequisite: Music 202. (Fall)
- 325 MUSIC HISTORY I: ANTIQUITY TO 1800 Oster
The history of music in medieval and early modern Europe in its cultural and social context, emphasizing musical style, notation, and performance practice. Periods include Medieval, Renaissance, Baroque, and Classical through Beethoven's first stylistic period. No prerequisite. Ability to read music expected. (Fall)
- 328 MUSIC HISTORY II: AFTER 1800 Lerner, Sprague
The history of music in modern Europe and the United States in its cultural and social context, emphasizing musical style, notations, and performance practice. Periods include Romantic, Post-romantic, Modern, and Postmodern. No prerequisite. Ability to read music expected. (Spring)
- 355 APPLIED MUSIC ADVANCED: 1 credit for 2 consecutive semesters Staff
Applied instruction designed for students with previous vocal or instrumental training. Must successfully complete jury at end of each semester of study. See department for competency levels and literature requirements. Additional fee required. Prerequisite: Music 256.
- 361 ADVANCED STUDIES IN COMPOSITION Stasack
Development of creative and technical skills in music composition. Considers all parameters of sound—pitch, rhythm, texture, dynamics, form and orchestration. Emphasis on exploring the unique sensibilities of the individual. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.
- 380-382 ADVANCED TOPICS IN MUSIC HISTORY Staff
Specialized study of a composer, period, or genre, utilizing a variety of specialized notational, analytical, and theoretical methodologies. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Normally, students will have had at least one prior semester of college-level music or related study.
- 395, 396 INDEPENDENT STUDY Staff
Independent study under the direction of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic, and determines the means of evaluation. Open to qualified students with permission of the chair.
- 401 SENIOR SEMINAR Staff
A capstone seminar synthesizing historical inquiry, analytical methods, and performance practice along with techniques of music research, writing, and close listening. Topics chosen by the course instructor(s). Prerequisite: Limited to senior music majors; open to other qualified students by permission of the instructor. (Spring)

Vocal and Instrumental Study

Vocal and instrumental study are offered as follows:

Bassoon—Ann Shoemaker
 Banjo, mandolin and fiddle —Jon Singleton
 Cello—John Cloer
 Clarinet—Wendy Hartzheim
 Contrabass—Jeff Ferdon
 Flute—Amy Orsinger Whitehead
 Guitar—Jim Duckworth
 Harpsichord—Neil Lerner
 Horn—Frank Portone
 Oboe—Janet Carpenter
 Organ—Michael Rowland
 Non-western percussion—Adam Snow
 Percussion—Adam Snow
 Piano—Ruskin Cooper, Cynthia Lawing
 Saxophone—Tim Gordon
 Trumpet—William Lawing
 Trombone and Tuba—Bryan French
 Viola—Piotr Swic
 Violin—Martha Koljonen
 Voice—Jacqueline Culpepper, Diane Thornton, Jennifer Hough, Sabrina Hill

PHILOSOPHY

Professors: Goldstein, Stell

Associate Professor: Robb (Chair)

Assistant Professors: Griffith, McKeever, Studtmann

Core Requirement: Any philosophy course numbered below 400 counts toward fulfillment of the core requirement in Philosophy and Religion.

Major Requirements: Ten courses in philosophy including 105, 106, 200, 215, 450, and 451 and four additional courses above 106. Majors are strongly advised to complete Philosophy 200 by the end of their sophomore year.

Minor Requirements: Any five courses in philosophy including 105, 106, 200, and one additional course at the 200 level or above. Minors are strongly advised to complete Philosophy 200 by the end of their sophomore year.

Senior Thesis: To be certified for graduation, each major must complete a thesis of acceptable quality on an approved topic. A thesis prospectus, including a partial bibliography, must be submitted to the department and to the thesis advisor by the end of the first week of the fall semester of the senior year. Completion of the thesis is a requirement for Philosophy 450.

Honors: Majors who achieve a 3.2 overall GPA and at least a 3.5 average in philosophy and who complete an honors thesis of high quality may petition the department for the opportunity to defend it orally. Majors who defend their theses with distinction are awarded "Honors in Philosophy." This designation appears on the diploma.

100W (COMP) FIRST-YEAR SEMINAR

Topical introduction to philosophy. Topics include minds and computers; philosophy and literature; nihilism and the meaning of life; pleasure and pain; sociobiology and morality. Open only to first-year students. (Fall)

Staff

- 101 REASON AND ARGUMENT Studtmann, Robb
 Topics include: deductive and inductive reasoning, fallacy recognition, techniques of persuasion, the psychology of human reasoning, and selected philosophical topics.
- 105 HISTORY OF ANCIENT PHILOSOPHY Griffith, Studtmann
 (Cross-listed Classics 161) Introduction to the origins and development of philosophy with special emphasis on Plato and Aristotle. (Fall)
- 106 HISTORY OF MODERN PHILOSOPHY Robb
 Introduction to early modern philosophy. Emphasis on metaphysical and epistemological issues in Locke, Berkeley, Hume, Descartes, Spinoza, Leibniz, and Kant. (Fall)
- 120 APPLIED ETHICS Goldstein, McKeever
 Introduction to the philosophical analysis of contemporary social and moral controversies. Topics include: abortion, euthanasia, feminism, world hunger, business ethics, nuclear war, human rights. (Fall)
- 130 MEDICAL ETHICS Stell
 Ethical analysis of patient-physician relationship; contraception, abortion, sterilization, artificial insemination, in vitro fertilization, surrogate motherhood; euthanasia and the care of dying patients; refusal of medical treatment and the use of "unorthodox" medical treatment; experimentation on human subjects; human genetic control; allocation of scarce medical resources; and health care delivery systems. (Fall).
- 160 GREAT PHILOSOPHERS Staff
 Introduction to philosophy through intensive study of the work of one philosopher. The philosopher selected varies from year to year. Examples: Aristotle, Plato, Descartes, Hobbes, Locke, Hume, Berkeley, Kant, Smith, Bentham, Mill.
- 200 SYMBOLIC LOGIC Studtmann
 Systematic study of symbolic logic and formal reasoning. Topics include: truth-functional analysis, quantification theory, natural deduction, axiomatics, metalogic, and modal logic. (Fall)
- 210 GAMES AND DECISIONS Staff
 Introduction to the formal analysis of games and rational decision making. Topics include: decision making under risk, ignorance, and certainty as applied in morals, politics, and religion.
- 211 THEORY OF KNOWLEDGE Robb, Studtmann
 Central epistemological themes including: skepticism, the problem of justification, rationality, and truth.
- 212 METAPHYSICS Robb, Studtmann, Griffith
 Discussion of fundamental issues in ontology including: abstract and concrete entities; causation; space and time; necessity; freedom and determinism; identity of objects, persons, and events over time. (Fall)
- 213 PHILOSOPHY OF NATURAL SCIENCE Robb
 Analysis of the nature of scientific knowledge, how it is acquired and justified; the structure of scientific explanation; the construction of scientific theories.
- 214 PHILOSOPHY OF SOCIAL SCIENCE Staff
 Investigation of issues central to the philosophy of the social sciences including: the nature and explanation of human behavior, possibility of objective understanding of persons and institutions belonging to cultures different from one's own, and the character of human rationality.
- 215 ETHICS Goldstein, Stell, McKeever
 Critical introduction to theories of value and obligation; the nature and validity of moral judgments; analysis of the meaning and function of moral language. Some discussion of contemporary moral controversies. (Fall)

216 PHILOSOPHY OF LANGUAGE

Studtmann

Discussion of theories of translation and interpretation; linguistic meaning; truth. Topics include: metaphor, modality, naming and describing, reference, vagueness, realism and anti-realism.

217 PHILOSOPHY OF MIND

Robb

Investigation of the nature of mental properties, states, events, and processes; the character of psychological explanation and psychology's relation to biology and to other sciences; reductionism; minds and computing machines; the place of meaning and consciousness in the natural world.

220 POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY

Stell, McKeever, Griffith.

Introduction to philosophical evaluation of political power and the social and economic institutions through which it is exercised. Discussion of such questions as: What justification is there for government? What moral duties do citizens have? Are there moral limits to government authority? Analysis of such concepts as freedom, rights, justice, and equality. (Fall)

225 PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION

Robb, Griffith, McKeever

Introduction to basic problems in classical and contemporary religious thought. Topics include: validity of religious claims, relation of faith to knowledge, arguments for the existence of God, divine attributes, life after death, problem of evil, status of religious language, relation of religion to morality, alternatives to theism.

235 EXISTENTIALISM

Griffith

Analysis of the existential conditions of human life: death, the fragility and finiteness of life, freedom, commitment, the need for God, and the quest for meaning, worth and dignity. Readings are from both philosophy and literature.

275 MIND AND EMOTION

Goldstein

Interconnected questions in philosophy of mind, including: Can we know what other people feel? Why do people prefer pleasure to pain? What are emotions? Why do emotional people behave as they do? What makes a person the same person over time? Prerequisite: One philosophy course or permission of the instructor. (Fall)

350–353 SEMINAR IN PHILOSOPHY

Staff

Topics vary with instructor and student interests. Recent seminar topics include: theories of rights, limits of reason, philosophy of David Hume, irrationality, deviant logics.

365 PHILOSOPHY OF MATHEMATICS

Studtmann

Analysis of philosophical foundations of mathematics. Topics discussed include the nature of mathematical truth, pure versus applied mathematics, the reality of mathematical entities, infinity, paradoxes, axiomatic systems, formal number theory, Gödel's Theorem.

399 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH IN PHILOSOPHY

Staff

Independent research under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves a research topic, and who determines the means of evaluation.

450 ADVANCED PHILOSOPHICAL WRITING AND SENIOR THESIS

Staff

Required of all senior philosophy majors. Analysis of techniques philosophers use to articulate, defend, and criticize theses. Emphasis on skills required to pursue an extended writing project. Students complete senior theses during the semester. (Fall)

451 SENIOR COLLOQUIUM IN PHILOSOPHY

Staff

Required of all senior philosophy majors. Centering on a different theme each year. Sample themes: determinism, free will, and responsibility; skepticism; the nature of rationality and irrationality; metaphysics and cosmology; sociobiology and morality; Davidson and his critics. (Spring)

495 HONORS THESIS

Staff

Open only to philosophy majors eligible for honors. Required of all honors candidates.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Athletic Director: Murphy

Graduation Requirement: The college maintains a physical education requirement for graduation; however, the program carries no academic credit. A total of four courses is required: PE 101 (required of all students, including transfers, during their first semester at Davidson); one lifetime credit (PE 2*); one water credit (PE 3*); and one team credit (PE 4*). The requirement must be completed by the end of the sophomore year. Students receive credit for a team sport by participating on a varsity or junior varsity athletic team or by participating in 75 percent of games in a club or intramural sport. Lifetime credit will be given to students who participate in one of the lifetime physical education classes. A swim evaluation is administered during orientation to determine swimming ability and to offer guidance in course selection. Students who do not successfully complete a swim evaluation must register for an appropriate swimming class.

101 PHYSICAL EDUCATION

A twelve-hour course offered in the fall of each year which consists of ten core hours and two electives. Core topics include Alcohol and Drugs, Sexuality, Adult CPR, Standard First Aid, Career and Life Planning and Psychological Health. Two hours of electives include topics of Nutrition, Stress Management, Time Management, Religion, Think Smart, Infant/Child CPR, Myers-Briggs Type Indicator, and Fitness. Required of all first-year and transfer students during the first semester at Davidson.

PE 2 Lifetime Sports Credit: One course required.

| | | |
|------------------------|-------------------------|---------------------------|
| 201 Aerobics | 217 Dance—Jazz | 236 Rock Climbing |
| 202 Archery | 218 Dance—Modern | 237 Self Defense |
| 204 Backpacking | 219 Dance—Tap | 241 Squash |
| 205 Badminton | 220 Fencing | 2242 Tennis |
| 208 CPR—Adult | 222 First Aid—Community | 245 Wilderness Leadership |
| 209 CPR—Child & Infant | 226 Golf | 248 Cardio Kick-Boxing |

| 305 Lifeguard Training | 312 Swim Level 4 – 6 | 319 Boat Smart |
| 306 Lifeguard Instructor | 313 Swim Level 6 – 7 | 321 Fitness Swimming |

PE 4 Team Sports Credit: 75% participation in an intramural team, club sports team, or intercollegiate varsity or junior varsity team.

PHYSICS

Professors: Boye, Cain (Chair), Christian

Associate Professors: Belloni (On leave), Gfroerer, Yukich

Visiting Assistant Professor: Peterson

Core Requirements: Any course in physics numbered 103 or above may be counted toward the fulfillment of the core requirement in Natural Science and Mathematics. Physics 120, 220, 130, or 230 satisfies the core requirement in laboratory science. AP credit for Physics 118 or 119 does not satisfy the core requirement in laboratory science.

Major Requirements: Physics 120 or 130 is a prerequisite to a major in physics. Only with specific permission of the department chair can Physics 118 satisfy this prerequisite. The major consists of ten physics courses: 220 or 230, 200, 310, 320, 330, 335, 350, and 360; the mathematics requirement; and one course chosen from courses numbered 400 to 460. If Physics 201 is not taken to fulfill the mathematics requirement, then an additional physics course is required at the 400 level with the approval of the department.

Major Requirements (3/2 Engineering Track): Students seeking to complete the 3/2 engineering track are required to take the following courses in order to receive a B.S. degree in Physics from Davidson: Physics 230, 310, 320, 335; the mathematics requirement; and two courses chosen from 330, 350, and 360.

Mathematics Requirement: Either Physics 201 or both Mathematics 150 and 235 will satisfy the mathematics requirement.

Honors Requirements: In addition to completing the requirements for a major in physics, a candidate for honors in physics must submit a written thesis covering an independent research project. Such a project may be based upon work completed in Physics 495, 496, or in an undergraduate research program on or away from campus that is approved by the department. Applications for honors in physics should be made in writing to the chair of the department no later than the end of the junior year.

The awarding of honors in physics is based on:

1. An overall average of at least 3.2, with an average of at least 3.5 in physics courses taken at Davidson.
2. An acceptable score on the Graduate Record Examination in Physics.
3. An oral presentation of the research in a departmental seminar.
4. The favorable vote of the physics faculty concerning the qualities of the candidate, the course of study, the written thesis, and the oral defense.

Applied Mathematics Concentration: Students who are interested in applied mathematics are encouraged to consider the Applied Mathematics Concentration. The concentration offers a track for students interested primarily in the natural sciences and another track for students interested primarily in the social sciences. The concentration is described in detail in this catalog under concentrations.

Computer Science Concentration: Students who are interested in computer science are invited to investigate the Computer Science Concentration. This concentration is described in detail in this catalog under concentrations. Physics courses involved in the computer science concentration are Physics 200, 310, and 397. Mathematics courses in the concentration are listed under the Mathematics Department. The student who intends to pursue graduate study in computer science should major in physics or mathematics or take upper-level physics and math courses to augment the Computer Science Concentration. Examples of student computational work can be found at <http://webphysics.davidson.edu>.

103 PHYSICS OF THE ENVIRONMENT

Cain

A study of the physical laws and processes that underlie environmental phenomena with a special focus on energy and radiation. Technical, economic and social consequences of these laws and processes will be examined to better delineate the complex decisions related to environmental issues. No laboratory. (Not offered 2005-06.)

105 ASTRONOMY

Cain

A survey of the current scientific view of the Universe. Emphasis on the physical and mathematical principles necessary to understand how astronomers observe and interpret phenomena. Topics include the historical development of major astronomical theories, the interaction of light and matter, the life cycle of stars, and the structure and evolution of the Universe. No laboratory. Not open to seniors. (Fall, Spring)

110 THE PHYSICS AROUND YOU

Cain, Peterson, Yukich

A descriptive course, intended primarily for non-science majors, concerning the laws of mechanics, heat, electricity, light, and the atom as applied to the devices used and the natural occurrences observed in everyday experience. No laboratory. Not open to students with credit for Physics 120, 220, 130 or 230. (Fall)

115 MUSICAL TECHNOLOGY

Boye

The physical principles of sound, light, and electricity are developed and explored in order to understand their application in such technologies as digital audio recording and reproduction, synthesis of musical instruments, CD's, lasers, and room acoustics. Designed for non-science majors. No laboratory. (Spring)

118 ADVANCED PLACEMENT CREDIT: MECHANICS

Course credit for appropriate scores on the AP Physics B exam or the AP Physics C (mechanics) exam. The course does not satisfy the lab science core requirement. Only with specific permission of the chair may the course serve as prerequisite to other courses in Physics. Credit for Physics 118 is forfeited by a student who elects to take Physics 120 or 130.

119 ADVANCED PLACEMENT CREDIT: ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM

Course credit for appropriate scores on the AP Physics C (electricity and magnetism) exam. The course does not satisfy the lab science core requirement. Only with specific permission of the chair may the course serve as prerequisite to other courses in Physics. Credit for Physics 119 is forfeited by a student who elects to take Physics 220 or 230.

120, 220 GENERAL PHYSICS

Boye, Cain, Gfroerer, Peterson, Yukich

Mechanics, heat, sound, electricity and magnetism, optics and modern physics. One laboratory period each week. Physics 120 or permission of the instructor is prerequisite for Physics 220. Physics 120 (Fall and Spring); Physics 220 (Fall and Spring)

130, 230 GENERAL PHYSICS WITH CALCULUS

Belloni, Cain, Christian, Yukich

Mechanics, heat, sound, electricity and magnetism, optics and modern physics. More comprehensive than Physics 120, 220 and designed for students who intend to major in chemistry, mathematics, physics, or 3-2 Engineering. Corequisite for Physics 130: Math 130. Prerequisite for Physics 230: Physics 130 or permission of the instructor. One laboratory period weekly (Physics 130, Fall; Physics 230, Spring.)

200 COMPUTATIONAL PHYSICS

Boye, Christian

(Cross-listed Computer Science 200) Introduction to computer programming using the LabVIEW or Java programming language. Assignments will be based on simulations emphasizing problem solving in science, program writing, and numerical methods in science. A final project of the student's choice is presented in an end-of-term poster session and published on the Physics Department web server. Prerequisite: Physics 120 or 130 at Davidson or permission of the instructor. (Spring)

201 MATHEMATICAL METHODS FOR SCIENTISTS

Belloni, Gfroerer

Designed to develop a basic competence in many areas of mathematics needed for junior/senior level work in the sciences. Basic methods of power series, complex numbers, Fourier analysis, linear algebra, ordinary and partial differential equations and vector calculus covered clearly and carefully but without detailed proofs. Symbolic computation and scientific visualization tools used as appropriate.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 135. (Spring)

310 ELECTRONICS AND INSTRUMENTATION

Boye, Yukich

Analog and digital circuits and their use in computers and as instrument building blocks. Circuit theory developed for diodes, transistors, operational amplifiers and logic gates. Integration of these components to construct power supplies, oscillators, amplifiers and microcomputer data acquisition systems. Two laboratory periods each week. Prerequisite: Physics 220 or 230. (Fall)

320 INTRODUCTION TO MODERN PHYSICS

Boye, Cain, Gfroerer

Atomic view of matter, electricity and radiation, atomic models, relativity, x-rays, waves and particles, wave mechanics, and radioactivity and nuclear processes. Two laboratory periods each week.

Prerequisite: Physics 220 or 230. (Fall)

330 INTERMEDIATE MECHANICS

Belloni, Gfroerer, Peterson

Using the Lagrangian formalism and the principles of vector calculus, Newtonian principles are applied to the analysis of oscillating systems and central forces. Emphasis on energy as the single most useful concept in understanding the physical universe. Prerequisites: Physics 220 or 230 and Mathematics 135, or permission of the instructor. (Fall)

335 INTERMEDIATE LABORATORY

Christian, Gfroerer

Introduces physics majors to advanced laboratory experiments and research techniques, including writing and oral communication skills. Lecture and laboratory. Prerequisites: Physics 220 or 230 and Physics 320. Physics 310 is recommended. (Spring)

350 ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM

Belloni, Cain, Yukich

Electrostatics, magnetostatics, and electromagnetic waves, with emphasis on the application of Maxwell's equations. Prerequisite: Physics 330 or permission of the instructor. (Spring)

360 QUANTUM MECHANICS I

Belloni, Christian

Quantum mechanics with applications to exactly-solvable systems. Prerequisites: Physics 330 and 350 or permission of the instructor. (Fall)

391, 392 SPECIAL TOPICS IN PHYSICS

Staff

Open to qualified students with permission of instructor. Topics announced in advance of registration.

395, 396 INDEPENDENT STUDY

Staff

Open to students with substantial backgrounds in physics with written permission from a supervising professor who reviews and approves the study topic. The independent study typically culminates in a written paper and/or an oral presentation.

397 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN ADVANCED SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT IN SCIENCE

Christian

(Cross-listed Computer Science 397) Independent study using computers to model dynamical systems in the natural sciences under the supervision of the instructor who approves the topic of study. Emphasis is on the use of object-oriented programming and web-based protocols to investigate both dynamical systems and the representation of those systems as data structures and algorithms. Prerequisites: CSC/PHY 200 or CSC 121 and one of PHY 310, CSC 231 or CSC 325, or permission of the instructor.

Courses numbered 400 to 460 are taught by members of the department on a rotating basis depending on teaching assignments in a given year. Faculty members who offer courses at this level will seek student input as to which courses might be offered. Other courses taught in the past at this level have included Electromagnetic Theory (Electricity and Magnetism II) and Quantum Mechanics II.

400 STATISTICAL AND THERMAL PHYSICS

Cain, Gfroerer

An introduction to thermal physics using a statistical approach to describe systems composed of very many particles. The conclusions of classical thermodynamics are derived from statistical results. Prerequisite: Physics 330 or permission of the instructor. (Spring)

410 INTERMEDIATE ASTROPHYSICS

Belloni

Astrophysical concepts are considered using the techniques of classical mechanics, electromagnetic theory, statistical mechanics, and quantum mechanics. Topics include: star formation, the structure and evolution of degenerate stars, supernova explosions, special and general relativity, and cosmology. Prerequisites: Two or more of Physics 330, 350, 360, and 400. (Not offered 2005-06.)

415 OPTICS AND LASERS

Yukich

Applications of electromagnetic theory to modern optics and lasers. Topics include electromagnetic wave propagation and superposition, optical elements and devices, Fourier transforms, diffraction, polarization, interference, and coherence theory. Specific applications are made to lasers, spectrometers, interferometers, and optical systems. (Fall)

430 ADVANCED MECHANICS

Boye

Continuation of Physics 330, including motion in non-inertial reference frames, rigid-body motion, Hamiltonian formalism, coupled oscillations and other selected topics. Prerequisite: Physics 330. (Not offered 2005-06.)

495, 496 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH

Staff

Open to students with substantial backgrounds in physics with written permission of the supervising professor who reviews and approves the research topic. Satisfactory completion of a project includes a presentation at a departmental seminar.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Professors: Ahrens Dorf, Menkhaus (On leave), Ortmayer, Shaw, Thornberry
(Chair)

Associate Professors: Alexander, Rigger (On leave), Roberts (On leave, Fall), Sellers

Assistant Professor: Crandall

Visiting Assistant Professor: Oakes

Adjunct Lecturer: Davidson

Core Requirements: Only courses numbered 100 to 350 count toward the core requirement in Social Science.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: Political Science 233, 240, 241, 332, 333, 337, 471, 475, and 479 are options for fulfilling the cultural diversity requirement.

Major Requirements: Ten courses in political science, including:

1. At least one course in each of the following sub-fields: (Seminars do not count toward sub-field requirements.)
 - a. Political Theory—Political Science 102, 205, 208, 209, 300, 301, 302, 303;
 - b. American Politics—Political Science 111, 210, 215, 311, 312, 314, 315, 316, 318, 319, 323;
 - c. Comparative Politics—Political Science 130, 230, 233, 240, 241, 331, 332, 333, 335, 336, 337;
 - d. International Politics—Political Science 141, 240, 241, 340, 345, 346, 347, 348.

2. Political Science 221.

3. A seminar numbered 450 to 489. Seminars may have specific prerequisites and usually require prior course work in that sub-field.
4. A major paper. This paper will be written under the supervision of a Davidson College Political Science faculty member. An oral defense may be expected. This requirement can be met by the completion of an honors thesis or by the writing of a paper (at least 20 pages) done in the context of a seminar or an independent study. Not all seminars will offer this option; check with the faculty member offering the course. A grade of C or better must be earned on the paper to satisfy this requirement.

Note that Political Science 221 and seminars must be taken at Davidson.

Honors Requirements: Juniors or seniors who meet the general college honors requirements, who have made a 3.5 G.P.A. on at least four political science courses, and who can furnish convincing evidence of a special interest in and capacity for research may be admitted to the departmental honors program. Each successful applicant will develop an individualized plan of work in consultation with a professor in the department. This plan must include, in addition to the normal major requirements, the preparation of an honors thesis (Political Science 498). Those who maintain a 3.5 G.P.A. in all political science courses through the senior year and who produce a thesis that is judged of high quality by the entire department will be awarded "Honors in Political Science."

100W (COMP) FIRST-YEAR WRITING SEMINAR

Roberts, Shaw

Topics covered include "The American Dream of Success" and "Justice and Piety." Satisfies the core requirement in composition. Open only to first-year students. (Offered every year.)

102 (101) CONTEMPORARY POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES

Ahrendorf

Introduction to liberal democracy, communism, fascism, and other contemporary political ideologies. Not open to juniors and seniors. (Offered every year.)

111 INTRODUCTION TO AMERICAN POLITICS

Roberts, Sellers

Introduction to the study of American political processes and institutions, including Congress, the Presidency, the courts, political parties, elections, and related topics. Not open to juniors and seniors. (Offered every semester.)

130 INTRODUCTION TO COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Menkhaus, Oakes, Rigger

Introduction to the comparative study of political institutions, selected public policy challenges, and political trends in selected countries and regions around the world. Students are introduced to aspects of critical analysis and comparative methods as part of exploration of topics such as comparative electoral systems, executive-legislative relations, health care policies, gun control, immigration, taxation, and the democratization. Not open to juniors and seniors. (Offered every semester.)

141 INTERNATIONAL POLITICS

Alexander, Crandall, Oakes, Ortmayer

Contemporary global issues, foreign policy, and the structures and processes of conflict and cooperation in a dynamically changing world environment. Not open to juniors and seniors. (Offered every semester.)

205 FAMILY AND JUSTICE

Shaw

Examination of the ways in which families and political and economic institutions shape one another, with special emphasis on policies that promote marriage over 'alternative' family arrangements; state-mandated family leave policies; 'family-friendly' corporate employment practices; same-sex marriage; divorce law; and welfare reform. (Fall)

208 CLASSICAL POLITICAL THEORY

Ahrendorf

Major political philosophers from the 5th century B.C. to the end of the Middle Ages. (Offered every year.)

209 MEDIEVAL POLITICAL THEORY

Ahrendorf, Shaw

Major political thinkers of medieval Christianity, Islam, and Judaism. (Offered alternate years.)

210 PARTIES AND INTEREST GROUPS

Roberts

Analysis of the internal operation of parties and interest groups and their role in the American electoral and legislative process. Not open to juniors and seniors except by permission of the instructor. (Offered every year.)

- 215 THE POLITICS OF FEMINISM Roberts, Thornberry
 Philosophical origins of the feminist movement and its impact on the current American political scene. Not open to first-year students. (Offered alternate years.)
- 221 METHODS AND STATISTICS IN POLITICAL SCIENCE Sellers, Thornberry
 The framework of social science analysis, and the use of statistics for studying political problems. Topics range from research design and hypothesis testing to correlation and multiple regression. Not open to first-year students. (Offered every semester.)
- 230 WEST EUROPEAN POLITICS Ortmayer
 Comparative analysis of the political culture, party systems, political economy, and foreign policies of France, Germany, the United Kingdom, and other selected Western European states. (Offered every year.)
- 233 POLITICS OF LATIN AMERICA Crandall
 An introduction to the politics of Latin American countries. The course considers alternative theoretical explanation for patterns of politics. (Offered every year.)
- 240 POLITICS OF AFRICA Menkhaus
 Survey of contemporary political and economic issues facing the African continent, including international relations of Africa. (Not offered in 2005-06.)
- 241 POLITICS OF THE MIDDLE EAST Menkhaus
 Survey of contemporary political and economic issues facing the Middle East, including international relations of the Middle East. (Not offered in 2005-06.)
- 294 DAVIDSON IN WASHINGTON INDEPENDENT STUDY Staff
 Project involving student research conducted in Washington, D.C., as part of the summer program of Davidson in Washington. Must have a significant political component. (Offered every year.)
- 295 INDEPENDENT STUDY Staff
 Research leading to the submission of a major paper under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic of the independent study and evaluates the student's work. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. (Offered every semester.)
- 300 MODERN POLITICAL THEORY Shaw
 Leading political philosophers from the Renaissance to the latter part of the 19th century. (Offered every year.)
- 301 CONTEMPORARY POLITICAL THEORY Shaw
 Major political philosophers from Nietzsche to the present. (Offered every year.)
- 302 SPECIAL TOPICS IN CLASSICAL POLITICAL THEORY Ahrensdorf
 This course explores such central themes of classical political thought as "education and politics," "idealism and realism," and "politics and literature." (Offered alternate years.)
- 303 SPECIAL TOPICS IN CONTEMPORARY POLITICAL THEORY Shaw
 The course explores topics of special relevance to debates in contemporary political theory such as "multicultural citizenship," "democratic theory," and "postmodern theory." (Offered alternate years.)
- 311 THE LEGISLATIVE PROCESS Roberts, Sellers
 Legislative behavior and policy-making in the United States, with particular emphasis on the Congress. (Offered every year.)
- 312 THE PRESIDENCY Roberts
 The modern American presidency from a policy-making perspective, including consideration of the various internal and external factors which constrain the behavior of incumbent presidents. (Offered every year.)

- 314 PUBLIC POLICY Roberts, Sellers, Thornberry
Formation, implementation and evaluation of governmental responses to public needs. Focus on special topics such as education, hunger and health care. (Offered alternate years.)
- 315 CONSTITUTIONAL LAW Thornberry
Development and interpretation of the Constitution of the United States through analysis of the decisions of the Supreme Court. Not open to first- and second-year students. (Offered alternate years.)
- 316 CIVIL LIBERTIES Thornberry
Analysis of Constitutional guarantees of civil liberties in the United States with special focus on the Bill of Rights and the 14th Amendment. Not open to first- and second-year students. (Offered alternate years.)
- 318 STRATEGY AND ETHICS IN CAMPAIGNS Sellers
This course will explore the vocation of political candidates, by discussing strategic and ethical dilemmas that they face in election campaigns. Students in the course will examine why politicians run for office, how they try to win office, and whether their decisions in these areas are normatively desirable. Not open to first year students. (Offered alternate years.)
- 319 PUBLIC OPINION Sellers
Formation, change and measurement of political attitudes. Prerequisite: Political Science 221. (Offered alternate years.)
- 324 PHILANTHROPY AND THE NON-PROFIT SECTOR Menkhaus
Exploration of the emerging role of the non-profit sector and charitable organizations in community development and advocacy. Permission required. (Offered alternate years.)
- 331 THE RISE OF NEW DEMOCRACIES Crandall, Rigger
The study of selected countries undergoing democratic transitions using theories of democratization in contemporary societies as a framework. (Offered alternate years.)
- 332 CHINESE POLITICS Rigger
Introduces the political institutions and behavior of the People's Republic of China and Hong Kong. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 333 THE POLITICS OF JAPAN AND THE EAST ASIAN DRAGONS Rigger
Introduces the political institutions and behavior of Japan, Taiwan, and South Korea. (Not offered 2005-06.)
- 336 RUSSIAN/POST-SOVIET STATES' POLITICS Ortmayer
Comparative analysis of the political systems, political economies, and foreign policies of Russia and former Soviet republics, including Ukraine, the Caucasian republics, and Central Asian states (Offered alternate years.)
- 337 POLITICS OF DEVELOPMENT Menkhaus
Theories of development and underdevelopment, selected issues affecting Third World states, and the comparative study of change in countries of Latin America, Asia, Africa, and the Middle East. (Offered alternate years.)
- 340 INTERNATIONAL POLITICAL ECONOMY Crandall
Survey of theories of international political economy and study of the politics of international trade, foreign aid, debt, and north-south relations. Prerequisite: Economics 101. (Offered alternate years.)
- 345 CONTEMPORARY UNITED STATES-LATIN AMERICAN RELATIONS Crandall
This course traces the evolution of United States involvement in Latin America beginning with the War of 1898 and continuing through the present day. It focuses on recent US-Latin American issues such as the war on drugs, undocumented immigration, and intermittent U.S. interventions in the hemisphere. (Offered every year.)

346 AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY

Oakes, Ortmayer

Analysis of the foreign policy process, bureaucratic politics, executive-congressional relations and selected foreign policy problems in a discussion-intensive approach using case studies (e.g. interventions in Haiti and Somalia, South African sanctions, Cuba Missile Crisis). (Offered every year.)

347 INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION

Menkhaus

Survey of theories of international cooperation, conflict, and organization; the historical evolution, functions, and current politics of key international organizations, especially the United Nations; U.S. foreign policy toward the U.N.; and selected issues and case studies with a focus on the politics of intervention and international peacekeeping. (Offered alternate years.)

348 CONTEMPORARY NATIONAL SECURITY

Menkhaus, Oakes, Ortmayer

Analysis of global security threats, the nature of contemporary warfare, and debates over U.S. national security policies. Emphasis will be on case studies from the post-Cold War era. (Offered alternate years.)

390 TUTORIAL

Staff

Individual programs of supervised study conducted through the preparation and discussion of a series of essays under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic of the tutorial. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. (Offered every semester.)

393 SYMPOSIUM: DAVIDSON IN WASHINGTON

Staff

A symposium on topics of contemporary politics conducted in Washington as part of the summer program of Davidson in Washington. Possible topics include: National Security, Citizenship in the 21st Century, Justice and the Family.

SEMINARS: Reading, research, reports, and discussions on selected topics within each of the following sub-fields. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Note: Individual courses may have additional prerequisites. At least one seminar is offered in each sub-field every year.

450-459 POLITICAL THEORY

Ahrensdorf, Shaw

Past seminars include "Lincoln and the Crisis of American Democracy" and "The City and Justice."

460-469 AMERICAN POLITICS

Roberts, Sellers, Thornberry

Past seminars include "Politics of Reproduction," "Southern Politics," and "Political Manipulation of the News."

470-479 COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Crandall, Menkhaus, Rigger

Past seminars include "Conflict in the Andes," "European Integration," and "US-Taiwan-China Triangle."

480-489 INTERNATIONAL POLITICS

Ortmayer, Rigger

Past seminars include: "International Political Economy," "U.S. National Security Policy," "Conflict Resolution," and "Humanitarianism and War."

495 ADVANCED INDEPENDENT STUDY

Staff

Research leading to the submission of a major paper under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic of the independent study. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. (Offered every semester.)

498 HONORS THESIS

Staff

Required of and limited to seniors in the Honors Program. Thesis is written under supervision of an appropriate instructor and is defended orally before at least three members of the political science faculty. (Offered every year.)

PSYCHOLOGY

Professors: Ault (Chair), Barton, Kello, Palmer, Ramirez

Associate Professors: Multhaup, Munger, M. Smith

Assistant Professor: Tonidandel

Adjunct Assistant Professor: McElhaney

Adjunct Lecturer: Huddleston (On location at Broughton Hospital)

Affiliated Faculty: R. Jackson (Education)

Core Requirement: Psychology 101, 199c, and any course numbered between 230 and 284 are courses which may be counted toward fulfillment of the core requirement in Social Science.

Note on prerequisites: Occasionally, under extraordinary circumstance, the department chair may waive a specific prerequisite for a particular course.

Major Requirements: Ten courses are required including 101; 310; and 400, 401, or 402. Three courses must be methods courses: one must be 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, or 323; and one must be 314, 315, 316, 318, or 319; the third can be from either sequence. Of the ten courses, students must take at least one in each of the following areas:

Animal Behavior/Physiological courses: 282, 284, 302, 303, 305, 323, 324, seminars TBA

Cognitive courses: 276, 301, 304, seminars TBA

Developmental courses: 234, 241, 243, 245, 315, 319, seminars TBA

Clinical/Industrial-Organizational/Social/Personality courses: 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 250, 254, 314, 316, 318, 326, seminars TBA

One of the ten courses must be a seminar; listings of current seminars and the area they fit within will be listed on the department Web page and in the Psychology Department Office.

In addition, all seniors must satisfactorily complete an oral interview conducted by a psychologist who is not a member of the department.

(Courses 295–298 are reserved for transfer credits.)

Honors Requirements: The Department of Psychology grants honors to those senior majors who meet the general college requirements with a minimum 3.2 GPA overall, meet the stated requirements for a major in Psychology with a minimum 3.5 GPA, and complete a senior thesis (PSY 400). Completion of these courses does not guarantee a recommendation for graduation with honors. The student's work must be of superior quality. Evidence for such superior quality consists of generally high degrees of proficiency or exceptional creativity in course work, thesis, papers and projects.

Davidson-Broughton Summer Program: Each summer, if there is sufficient enrollment, the department offers Psychology 290 during an eight-week period, with the students living and working at the state mental hospital in Morganton, N.C. There students have direct contact with patients and staff members while studying with adjunct lecturer Huddleston. Credit for Psychology 290. Prerequisites: Psychology 231 and consent of instructor. Inquiries may be directed to Department of Psychology, Davidson College.

101 GENERAL PSYCHOLOGY

Staff

Survey of the current psychology of learning, perception, motivation, intelligence, and thinking, with emphasis on the application of scientific methods to psychological investigation and on the biological bases of behavior and experience. Students may be required to participate in experiments or in alternative research experiences. (Fall, Spring)

195 INDEPENDENT STUDY

Staff

Study in an area of psychology not covered by other catalog offerings under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic of the independent study. Students submit a written plan of study to the faculty member prior to the close of Drop/Add in the semester of registration. Prerequisites: Psychology 101 and permission of supervising instructor. Does not count toward fulfillment of major or core requirements. (Fall, Spring)

230 INTRODUCTION TO PERSONALITY

Barton

Review of theories of personality to understand and predict human behavior. Emphasis on traditional models (e.g., theories of Freud, Rogers, Skinner) and applications of these models to contemporary psychological issues (e.g., Type A behavior and health; personality inventories). Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Not offered 2005-06.)

231 ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY

Barton

Characteristics, etiology, and treatment of major patterns of maladaptive behavior (anxiety disorders, depression, antisocial behavior, schizophrenia, etc.). Theoretical and empirical evidence for understanding causality and treatment. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Fall)

232 SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY

Palmer

Social influence upon individual behavior. Attitude formation and change; attitude measurement; conformity; communication processes and persuasion; prejudice; violence and helping behavior; cooperation-competition; group dimensions; person perception; and attribution theory. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Spring)

234 CHILD PSYCHOPATHOLOGY

McElhaney

An overview of the psychological disorders of childhood, including their description, classification, etiology, assessment and treatment. Emphasis will be placed on the theoretical and empirical bases of these disorders, focusing on relevant research methods and findings as well as case history material. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Spring)

241 CHILD DEVELOPMENT

Ault

(Cross-listed Education 241) Individual development of normal children with emphasis on learning, social and emotional development, cognitive and language development. Special study of behavioral, social learning, and cognitive theories of development. Includes observations at local day-care centers. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Not offered 2005-06.)

243 ADOLESCENT DEVELOPMENT

Jackson

(Cross-listed Education 243) An in-depth examination of specific theories, concepts, and methods related to the period of adolescence. Students will explore a wide range of topics including cognitive development, moral development, identity formation, gender role, social relationships, and the effects of culture on adolescent development. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Fall)

245 PSYCHOLOGY OF AGING

Multhaup

Introduction to human aging from a psychological perspective. Adult age-related changes in memory, intelligence, wisdom, personality, etc. Attitudes toward aging and adjustment to aging. Emphasis on the application of scientific methods to the study of aging. Students with credit in Psychology 245 may not subsequently enroll in Psychology 319. (Spring)

250 AFRICAN AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGY

Jackson

Introduction to the study of psychology from an African American perspective. Compares and contrasts theories from traditional European-centered and Afrocentric approaches to explain the life experiences, cognition, and behaviors of African Americans. The historical development of black psychology, black identity development, cultural bias in psychological testing, black communication styles, black self-hatred, and the mental health of African Americans. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Spring)

254 INDUSTRIAL AND ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

Tonidandel

Current theory, research, and practice in the selection, training, and evaluation of employees; management and development of employees as resources for the organization; design and development of the organization as a whole. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Fall)

276 COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

Munger

Introduction to cognitive psychology. Structure and processes underlying cognition including memory, attention, language, problem-solving, imagery, etc. Emphasis on theories and empirical evidence for understanding cognition. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Fall)

282 LEARNING

Smith

Overview of major topics in learning: elicitation, classical conditioning, reinforcement, punishment, problem solving, behavioral economics, and verbal behavior. Focus on empirical data, research methodology, and technologies generated from learning research. Students with credit in Psychology 282 may not subsequently enroll in Psychology 305. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Fall)

284 DRUGS AND BEHAVIOR

Smith

The course examines the effects of drugs on human and animal behavior. Consideration is also given to the physiological effects of drugs on the central nervous system. Methods for preventing and treating drug abuse are also addressed. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Spring)

290 PRACTICUM IN PSYCHOLOGY

Staff

301 PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH—PERCEPTION AND ATTENTION

Munger

Research methods, concepts, and empirical findings in perception and attention are examined in lecture and extensive laboratory experience. Course explores how a physical stimulus impinges on sense organs and is subsequently processed and understood by perceptual systems (e.g., how do we “see” things?). Participation in research as subjects and experimenters is required. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. Recommended completion by Fall, senior year, for majors. (Spring)

302 PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH—BEHAVIORAL PHARMACOLOGY

Smith

Students conduct experiments on the effects of drugs on human and animal behavior. Scientific writing is a strong focus in this course, with students writing research reports on each experiment. Students are required to propose a novel line of research in the form of a research proposal. Studies conducted in other behavioral pharmacology laboratories are discussed and critiqued. Some work with animals is required. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. Recommended completion by Fall, senior year, for majors. (Spring)

303 PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH—BEHAVIORAL NEUROSCIENCE

Ramirez

(Cross-listed Biology 331) Role of the nervous system; sensory and motor mechanism; physiological bases of motivation and emotion; sleep and arousal; and physiological bases of learning, memory, and language. Extensive laboratory training. Work with animals is required. Prerequisites: Psychology 101 or Biology 111 or Biology 112 and permission of the instructor. Recommended completion by Fall, senior year, for majors. (Fall)

304 PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH—MEMORY

Multhaup

Research methods, concepts, and empirical findings in the field of memory are explored in lecture and extensive laboratory experience. Emphasis is on human memory. Participation in research as subjects and experimenters is required. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. Recommended completion by Fall, senior year, for majors. (Fall)

305 PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH—LEARNING

Ramirez

The major learning theories of the 20th century will be explored. Particular attention will be paid to the theories of Thorndike, Pavlov, Skinner, Tolman, Hull, Hebb, and Bolles. The empirical data supporting these theoretical frameworks will be assessed. This is a laboratory intensive course involving animals. Students who have taken Psychology 282 may not enroll in this course. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. Recommended completion by Fall, senior year, for majors. (Not offered 2005-06.)

310 PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH—DESIGN AND ANALYSIS

Barton, Tonidandel

Introduction to psychological research. Descriptive, correlational, and experimental methods of research will be examined. Primary focus on data analysis including descriptive statistics and inferential statistics with emphasis on analysis of variance. Mandatory weekly computer lab. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. Recommended in the sophomore, or no later than junior, year for majors. (Fall, Spring)

314 PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH—CLINICAL

Barton

Research methodologies and statistical techniques used in clinical research. Ethical and practical constraints to the empirical study of clinical problems. Students critique empirical articles in Clinical Psychology and Behavioral Medicine in lecture/discussion and develop skills with multivariate statistics. Required participation in research experiences as subjects and investigators. Prerequisites: Psychology 231 (or permission of the instructor) and 310. Recommended completion by Fall, senior year, for majors. (Spring)

315 PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH—CHILD DEVELOPMENT

Ault

Research methods for studying child development are examined in lecture, laboratory and field settings. Methods include observations, interviews, and experiments with emphasis on ethical implications of research with children and research designs commonly used by developmental psychologists. Course requirements include participation in research as investigators. Prerequisite: Psychology 310. Recommended completion by Fall, senior year, for majors. (Fall)

316 PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH—INDUSTRIAL/ORGANIZATIONAL

Tonidandel

Research methods and statistical techniques used in industrial/organizational psychology examined through lectures, laboratories, and field studies. Students gain knowledge and experience in research methods used in these fields. Students will be expected to apply these techniques and methods to complete individual research projects. Ethical and practical issues in organizational research discussed. Prerequisites: Psychology 310 and 254. Recommended completion by Fall, senior year, for majors. (Spring)

318 PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH—SOCIAL

Palmer

Research methods and statistical techniques used in social psychology are examined through lecture, laboratory, and field research. Students will gain knowledge in formulating research questions, translating them into research methodologies, data collecting, and analysis. Comparative strengths of different methodologies, ethical issues, and scientific writing will be emphasized. Prerequisite: Psychology 310. Recommended completion by Fall, senior year, for majors. (Fall)

319 PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH—ADULT DEVELOPMENT

Multhaup

Research methods, concepts, empirical findings, and ethics for studying adult development (focus on younger and older adulthood) are explored in lecture and laboratory settings. Prerequisite: Psychology 101. (Not open to students with credit for Psychology 245. If holding PSY 245 credit, see the instructor if interested in Psychology 319). Recommended completion by Fall, senior year, for majors. (Spring)

323 ANIMAL BEHAVIOR

Case

(Cross-listed Biology 323) Prerequisite: Biology 112 or Psychology 101. (Spring)

324 ADVANCED NEUROSCIENCE

Ramirez

(Cross-listed Biology 332) Intensive readings in molecular neurobiology, neuroanatomy, neurophysiology, and/or behavior. Students: 1) make classroom presentations of critical analyses of the course readings; 2) conduct laboratory research or hospital rounds; and 3) submit an annotated bibliography and a write-up of the laboratory project or term paper. Prerequisites: Psychology 303 (Biology 331) and the permission of the instructor. (Not offered 2005-06.)

330-349 TUTORIAL

Staff

Intensive readings in a specific area of study under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who reviews and approves the topic of research. Students submit a written plan of study to the supervising faculty member prior to the close of Drop/Add in the semester of registration. Open ordinarily only to advanced majors in psychology. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. (Fall, Spring)

350–380 ADVANCED SEMINAR IN EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

Staff

Topics announced in advance of registration. Recent seminars include:

|---|---|
| Behavioral Medicine and Health Psychology | Behavioral Neuroscience |
| Children and Television | Clinical Psychopharmacology |
| Gender and Identity | High Performance Organizations |
| Reminiscence | Selection and Training in Organizations |

Prerequisite: Consent of instructor. (Fall, Spring)

400 SENIOR THESIS

Staff

Empirical study, designed and conducted by the student, supervised by a faculty member, and reported in writing according to the form approved in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association. Prerequisites: Permission of the instructor and consent of an additional faculty member who serves on the student's thesis committee. For further details, see the department Web page. (Fall, Spring)

401 ISSUES IN PSYCHOLOGY

Ault, Multhaup

Central issues in psychology which cut across previous course boundaries. Specific topics vary year by year. The course begins with a review of major approaches to psychology (e.g., Behaviorist, Biological, Cognitive Evolutionary, Humanist, Psychoanalytic) and ethical principles that apply to a variety of situations that psychologists face. Limited to seniors except by permission of the department. (Spring)

402 HISTORY AND SYSTEMS IN PSYCHOLOGY

Munger

Development of psychological thought in the Western world and emergence of psychology as a scientific discipline. Course begins with ancient Greek philosophers and works through philosophical writings that led to psychology, explores the founding of psychology as a scientific discipline in the late 19th century, and follows its development in the 20th century. Readings include primary sources. Limited to seniors except by permission of the department. (Not offered 2005-06.)

RELIGION

Professors: W.T. Foley, Lustig, Mahony, Plank (Chair)

Associate Professor: Poland, Snyder (On leave)

Assistant Professors: Lee, Wills

Adjunct Assistant Professor: Beach-Verhey

Core Requirements: All courses may be counted toward the fulfillment of the core requirement; the department recommends that the first course be from 100 or 200 level courses.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: Religion 170, 244, 255, 270, 271, 272, 280, 285, 370, 380, and 381 are options for fulfilling the cultural diversity requirement.

Major Requirements: Ten courses in religion (Humanities counts as one course). Courses must include at least five courses at the 300- or 400-level, two seminars, 401, one course in a non-Christian tradition, and one course from each of the following groups:

1. Religion: 130, 222, 223, 230, 231, 232, 320, 321, 333;

SELF-INSTRUCTIONAL LANGUAGES

Associate Professor: Kruger (French), Director

Degree Requirements in Foreign Language and for Cultural Diversity: No course in the Self-Instructional Language Program may be used to satisfy the requirement in foreign language or for cultural diversity.

Please note that the program requires the payment of an additional fee ($100) for each course enrollment.

Highly motivated students with a demonstrated aptitude for language learning may apply for small group instruction in languages not taught in the classroom at Davidson. Students enrolled in the Self-Instructional Language Program (SILP) may not use these courses to satisfy the college's language or cultural diversity requirement. Most students do not begin study in SILP until their second year, after they have successfully completed their foreign language requirement. A minimum G.P.A. of 2.5 is required. Auditing is normally not permitted in SILP courses.

Davidson College adheres to the standards established by the National Association of Self-Instructional Language Programs (NASILP). Each offering is an intensive audio-lingual course utilizing recommended self-instructional materials in combination with regular sessions with a native speaker. Emphasis is placed on the spoken language, although additional skills are also developed. Students spend three hours per week with the drill leader/conversation partner in anticipation of a final examination conducted by a specialist who is usually invited from another institution. The results of the final examination serve as the basis for the course grade. Please note that the Pass/Fail option is not available for SILP courses.

Since SILP courses can only be offered when there is sufficient demand and when a qualified native speaker is available, students are required to obtain permission from the director each semester that they are in the program. Interested students should contact the director as much in advance as possible and submit an application as well as a letter of recommendation from a Davidson language faculty member. Once they have received permission, they may include their request for a SIL course on the Web tree during the course selection period. The director is under no obligation to arrange instruction for students who apply once the semester has begun.

Davidson seeks to provide self-instructional learning opportunities in languages where study will complement course work in the existing academic program. Students wishing to learn a less commonly taught language not found on the list below are invited to contact the SILP director well in advance of the new semester. Requests for other languages will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

SOCIOLOGY

Professor: Sabaratnam (Chair)

Associate Professors: Ruth, Shannon (On leave), Kaufman (On leave)

Assistant Professor: Marti

Core Requirements: Any course in sociology numbered under 370, other than Sociology 260, may be counted toward fulfillment of the core requirements for the social sciences. However, first-year students are encouraged to take 100- and 200-level courses rather than more advanced courses.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: Soc. 205, 305, and 347 are options for the requirement.

Major Requirements: Ten courses, including Sociology 101, 260, 370, 371 and 499, and five other courses (one numbered 200 or above, two numbered 300 or above, and two at any level). No more than two independent research courses may count toward the major.

Honors Requirements: A major desiring to become a candidate for honors in sociology must apply in writing to the department at the beginning of the fall semester of the senior year. Applicants must have an overall GPA of 3.2 and a GPA of 3.5 in all course work taken in the major. In order to receive honors, a student must, in addition to maintaining this level of performance, receive a grade of at least A- on the Senior Thesis (499) as well as departmental recommendation.

101 INTRODUCTORY SOCIOLOGY

Staff

Introduction to the scientific study of human social interaction with particular focus on the mutual influences between individuals and the groups to which they belong; the basic theories, concepts and techniques used by sociologists in their research. Not open to seniors. (Fall)

SOUTH ASIAN STUDIES

Professor: Thomas (History, Director)

Affiliated Professors: Appleyard (Economics), Berkey (History), Hess (Economics), Mahony (Religion), Sabaratnam (Sociology)

Affiliated Associate Professor: Stasack (Music)

South Asian Studies (SOU) is an interdisciplinary program focusing on an important region of the nonwestern world: Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Nepal, Pakistan, and Sri Lanka. The program's courses provide opportunities for students to explore the arts, history, languages, religions, and social structures of a culture other than their own.

Davidson College conducts a Semester-in-India program in the fall semester of even numbered years, which combines a period of residence in Chennai and a time of travel/study to major archaeological and historical sites in India. Participating students may earn four Davidson College course credits. Three courses will be taught by Indian scholars and/or by experts in their respective fields. Davidson College's resident director of the program will teach the fourth course. A more detailed description is given in the Educational Programs section; details are also available from the Office of Study Abroad.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: South Asian Studies (SOU) 310, 385, 395 fulfill the cultural diversity requirement.

Other courses which cross the curriculum and are included in the South Asian Studies program are as follows:

SPANISH

Professors: Hernández-Chioldes (Chair), Peña, Vásquez (On leave, Spring)

Associate Professor: Maiz-Peña

Assistant Professors: Kietrys (On leave), Rivera, Sánchez-Sánchez, Willis

Visiting Assistant Professors: R. Martin, Santamaria

Core Requirements: Any one of the following courses meets the literature requirement for the degree: Spanish 241, 242, 243, 244, 270, 320, 321, 322, 330, 331, 340, 341, 343, 344, 350, 374, 375.

Foreign Language Requirement: Completion of Spanish 201 meets the foreign language proficiency required for the degree.

Cultural Diversity Requirement: Spanish 241, 244, 270, 340, 341, 343, 344, 373, 374, 375, 390, and 391 are options for fulfilling the cultural diversity requirement.

Placement of First-year Students: Students who have taken Spanish in high school and who want to take Spanish courses at Davidson must take a placement test before the beginning of the academic year.

Major Requirements: Ten courses above Spanish 201 including Spanish 490 and 491 and a minimum of one course from each of the following areas:

Area I: Literature and Culture of Spain prior to 1700 (320, 321, 322, 329);

Area II: Literature and Culture of Spain since 1700 (330, 331, 339, 350, 353);

Area III: Civilization of Spain and Latin America (270, 361, 362, 369, 373, 374, 391, 394);

Area IV: Literature and Culture of Latin America Prior to 1900 (340, 349);

Area V: Literature and Culture of Latin America Since 1900 (341, 343, 375).

Courses taken in the Davidson College programs in Mexico and Cádiz, or the program with which the college is affiliated in Alcalá de Henares, Spain, may satisfy one or several of the departmental area requirements. The chair of the Spanish Department determines which areas may be satisfied in this manner.

A research project with oral defense is required in the last semester of the senior year. Study in a Spanish-speaking country is strongly recommended but not required. Also recommended is at least a minimum knowledge of a second foreign language.

Minor Requirements: Six courses conducted in Spanish above Spanish 201 or 203, at least three in residence at Davidson College. Two courses may be at the 200-level. At least four courses must be at the 300-level or above. The department may also require Spanish 303—Advanced Grammar and Composition as one of the four upper-level courses, depending on the student's language proficiency.

Honors Requirements: Twelve courses are required for departmental honors. In addition to the major requirements, two other courses (Spanish 498, 499) are devoted to research and writing of the honors thesis. An oral examination is administered at the completion of the thesis and covers the thesis, its period, and/or the genre of its subject.

Study Abroad: With specific approval of the department chair, up to three transferred courses for one semester or five transferred courses for the academic year may be applied to the Spanish major or minor. No more than three such courses may apply toward the minor in Spanish, no more than five toward the major in Spanish.

Service Learning: Several departmental courses offer the opportunity for service learning. Some may require this component.

Meets the degree requirement for proficiency in foreign language. Prerequisite: Spanish 102 or its equivalent.

203 ADVANCED INTERMEDIATE SPANISH ABROAD Staff

219 INDEPENDENT STUDY: LANGUAGE AND LINGUISTICS Staff
 Study under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who approves the topic(s) and determines the means of evaluation.

241 LATIN AMERICAN LITERATURE IN TRANSLATION Hernández-Chiroides
 Selected works of Latin American literature in English translation. Readings and class discussions are in English. Not for credit toward a Spanish major.

244 U.S. LATINO LITERATURE IN ENGLISH Vásquez
 Reading and discussion of a variety of texts to develop a general idea of the complex experience of people of Latin American background living in the United States. Readings and instruction in English. Not for credit toward a Spanish major.

260 CONVERSATION AND COMPOSITION Staff
 Training and practice to develop fluency, accuracy, and expressiveness in oral and written communication. Strongly recommended for students planning to study abroad. The department recommends that this course be taken before 270. Prerequisite: Spanish 201 or its equivalent. (Fall and Spring)

270 INTRODUCTION TO HISPANIC LITERATURE AND CULTURE Staff
 Reading and discussion of works by Spanish and Latin American writers. Introduction to cultural, historical, and textual analysis of Hispanic literature and culture. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: Spanish 201 or its equivalent. (Fall and Spring)

302 ADVANCED GRAMMAR Staff
 Problems in Spanish grammar and idiom-building, particularly those faced by English-speaking people; problems of translation; an overview of Spanish phonetics; and a brief study of the evolution of the Spanish language. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: Spanish 260, 270 or its equivalent.

303 ADVANCED GRAMMAR AND COMPOSITION Staff
 Review, expansion, and fine-tuning of grammatical knowledge; building and use of a growing body of vocabulary and idiomatic expressions. Prerequisite: Spanish 260 or equivalent.

311 FOREIGN LANGUAGES IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL (FLES) Peña
 Year-long project in teaching Spanish and Hispanic culture to children in a local elementary school. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents; approval of the FLES supervisor and chair.

320 SPANISH LITERATURE THROUGH THE GOLDEN AGE Sanchez-Sánchez, Willis
 Major works from medieval times through the seventeenth century, studied against a background of historical developments and literary currents. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents. (Fall)

321 THEATER OF SPAIN'S GOLDEN AGE Sanchez-Sánchez, Willis
 Development of 16th- and 17th-century Spanish theater, including works by Lope de Vega, Cervantes, Tirso de Molina, Ruiz de Alarcón, and Calderón de la Barca. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents.

- 322 CERVANTES Willis
Advanced study of Don Quijote and the literary criticism it has generated. Other works by Cervantes may be included. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents.
- 329 INDEPENDENT STUDY: SPANISH LITERATURE PRIOR TO 1700 Staff
Independent study under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who approves the topic(s) and determines the means of evaluation.
- 330 MODERN SPAIN Kietrys, Vásquez
Thematic introduction to the culture, literature, and fine arts of Spain since 1700. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents.
- 331 TWENTIETH CENTURY SPAIN Kietrys, Vásquez
Writers of the early decades, the Generation of 1927 and the Spanish Civil War, the Franco and democratic years, into the 1980s, 1990s, and the new century; fil Study and analysis of socio-historical, ideological, and cultural contexts. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents.
- 339 INDEPENDENT STUDY: Spanish literature since 1700 Staff
Independent study under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who approves the topic(s) and determines the means of evaluation.
- 340 LATIN AMERICAN LITERATURE I Hernández-Chioldes, Maiz-Peña, Peña, Rivera
Literature and the arts against a background of history and socio-political developments from 1492 to 1900, with a focus on major currents of thought and world views. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents. (Fall)
- 341 LATIN AMERICAN LITERATURE II Hernández-Chioldes, Maiz-Peña, Peña, Rivera
Ideas, theologies, and aesthetics that have shaped modern Latin American literatures and other arts, from 1900 to the present. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents. (Spring)
- 343 CONTEMPORARY LATIN AMERICAN NOVEL Hernández-Chioldes, Maiz-Peña, Peña, Rivera
Most important works of major contemporary writers from Latin America studied against a background of recent history and relevant ideologies and values. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents.
- 344 LATINO CULTURE IN THE U.S. Rivera, Vásquez
Study of the development of a distinctive Latino culture in the United States; Latino culture as a form of dialogue between the United States and Latin America. Conducted in Spanish.
- 349 INDEPENDENT STUDY: LATIN AMERICAN LITERATURE Staff
Study under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who approves the topic(s) and determines the means of evaluation.
- 353 CONTEMPORARY SPANISH FILM Vásquez
Spanish film from the 1960s through the 1990s and into the new century, focusing on exiles from Republican Spain after the Spanish Civil War and on Spain during the years of democracy. Different themes and approaches to Spain and Western Europe in terms of national identity. Optional times to view films outside of class provided. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents.
- 355, 356, 357, 358 SEMINAR IN SPECIAL TOPICS Staff
An area in literature or civilization outside the content of other core courses. Subject announced in the Schedule of Classes. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents.

- 361 CIVILIZATION OF SPAIN Kietrys, Sánchez-Sánchez, Vásquez, Willis
Reading, discussion, visual representations, and student research on Spain's social, economic, political, and religious life, and the fine arts. May follow a thematic or historical model or a series of theoretical approaches. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents. (Fall)
- 369 INDEPENDENT STUDY: HISPANIC CULTURES Staff
Independent study under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who approves the topic(s) and determines the means of evaluation.
- 374 CARIBBEAN PEOPLES, IDEAS, AND ARTS Hernández-Chiroides, Rivera
Literatures and arts, ideas, and socio-economic structures in the Caribbean islands and rimlands (Cuba, Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico, Venezuela, Colombia, and Central America). Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents.
- 375 LATIN AMERICAN WOMEN WRITERS Maiz-Peña
An examination of genre, gender, and representation in women's writing in Latin America from the 17th century to the present. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270 or their equivalents.
- 390, 391 SEMINARS FOR SUMMER IN LATIN AMERICA Staff
Two courses offered in Latin America during the summer. The courses normally offer language, civilization, literature, and special topics. They are open to 15 or more qualified students regardless of projected majors. Screening of applicants begins during the fall semester. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 and 270. (Offered in alternate years as enrollment warrants.)
- 393 ADVANCED LANGUAGE SEMINAR Staff
(Summer in Spain Program) Advanced language and composition course. Students will take advantage of their immersion experience for their writing and discussion. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 (or permission of the instructor) and concurrent enrollment in Spanish 394.
- 394 ADVANCED SEMINAR IN SPANISH CULTURES Staff
(Summer in Spain Program) An advanced course in Spanish culture studied through film, literature, music, and periodicals with a focus on contemporary culture. Art will be studied from a historical perspective. Prerequisites: Spanish 260 (or permission of the instructor) and concurrent enrollment in Spanish 393.
- 429 INDEPENDENT STUDY Staff
Special topics, themes, a genre, or a single figure in literature, history, or culture, outside the content of other courses under the direction and supervision of a faculty member who approves the topic(s) and determines the means of evaluation. Open to senior majors. Prerequisites: Any two literature, culture or civilization courses, or approval of the chair and the instructor.
- 490 SENIOR SEMINAR I Staff
Intensive course in reading and discussion of theoretical, literary, critical and cultural texts, and student research centered around a theme which will vary each year. Course instruction will be shared by several faculty members. (Fall)
- 491 SENIOR SEMINAR II Staff
Continuation of Spanish 490 concentrating on independent work on the final senior major paper, in consultation with one of the professors of the Spanish Department. (Spring)
- 498, 499 SENIOR HONORS, TUTORIAL, AND THESIS Staff
Research for and writing of the honors thesis begins in Spanish 498 (in the spring of the junior year or the fall of the senior year) and is completed in Spanish 499 during the senior year. Spanish 498 requires a thesis outline and progress reports; Spanish 499 requires an oral examination by a committee of department professors on the completed thesis.

THEATRE

Professors: Costa (Chair) [On leave, Spring], Gardner (Acting Chair, Spring)

Assistant Professor: Green

Visiting Associate Professor: Beasley

Visiting Assistant Professor: Ripley

Adjunct Lecturer: Gabbard

Affiliated Faculty: Fox (English)

Core Requirements: Theatre 101, 121, 201, 221, 245, 335, 355, and 371 may be counted toward the fulfillment of the core requirement in fine arts.

Major Requirements: Ten courses as follows:

1. Theatre 121 or 201 or 221; Theatre 245, 261 (English 261), 335, 355, and 371.
2. One of the following: Theatre 345, 362, 436, or 455.
3. Any additional two Theatre courses at the 300 level or above. These two courses may not include independent studies, Theatre 401 (Theatre Practicum) or 499 (Honors Thesis).
4. One additional course in dramatic literature approved by the department chair. Approved courses outside the department (other than Theatre/English 261) will meet this requirement.

PRODUCTION REQUIREMENTS FOR MAJORS AND MINORS:

Theatre majors are required to work on three department productions for a minimum of twenty (20) hours per show in a capacity other than actor or director. One assignment must be in stage management. One assignment must be completed by the end of the junior year. A student who completes more than fifty (50) hours of work on any one production fulfills two of the three production requirements.

Theatre minors are required to work on one department production in a capacity other than actor or director for a minimum of thirty (30) hours.

Production can be in any of these roles: production stage manager, assistant stage manager, assistant to the designer, properties master, or any work approved by the department chair and the technical director.

Minor Requirements: Six courses, three of which must be taken at Davidson College, consisting of: Theatre 371; two courses from Theatre 201, 221, 245, 261 (English 261), 335, 355; three courses at the 300 level or above; and the production requirement outlined above. Courses taken Pass/Fail may not be counted toward the minor. In addition, minors are required to fulfill a production requirement as described above.

Honors Requirements: A major desiring to become a candidate for honors in theatre must apply in writing to the department at the beginning of the fall semester of the senior year. Applicants must have an overall GPA of 3.2 and a GPA of 3.5 in all course work taken in the major. To receive honors, a student must, in addition to maintaining this level of performance, receive a grade of at least A- on the honors thesis (499), and approval from the thesis committee. The honors program is comprised of eleven courses: Theatre 499 in addition to the ten major courses required of all majors. Theatre 499 requires the writing/production and defense of a thesis before an appointed committee.

Transfer Courses: The Theatre Department accepts up to five courses from other colleges and universities as credit toward the major. In no case will the department preapprove transfer credit. To be granted transfer credits to be applied to the major, students must demonstrate to the department that courses taken elsewhere are comparable to specific Davidson courses in content, contact hours, and rigor. At the conclusion of study abroad or study at another accredited U.S. institution, students should make their requests for transfer credit toward the major to the Theatre

Department chair and submit for evaluation all relevant course materials.

11 (Non-credit) Applied Theatre; first-year students only. (Fall)

12 (Non-credit) Applied Theatre; first-year students only. (Spring)

21 (Non-credit) Applied Theatre; second-year students only. (Fall)

22 (Non-credit) Applied Theatre; second-year students only. (Spring)

31 (Non-credit) Applied Theatre; third-year students only. (Fall)

32 (Non-credit) Applied Theatre; third-year students only. (Spring)

41 (Non-credit) Applied Theatre; fourth-year students only. (Fall)

42 (Non-credit) Applied Theatre; fourth-year students only. (Spring)

45 (Non-credit) Applied Theatre. Topics in Arts Management; Fourth-year students only. (Fall)

46 (Non-credit) Applied Theatre. Topics in Arts Management; Fourth-year students only. (Spring)

101 INTRODUCTION TO THEATRE ARTS

Green, Ripley

Study of materials of creative expression in theatre. Lectures, readings, discussions, videos, field trips, critical writing and laboratory work build understanding of the theatrical event and the fundamental components of stage production. (Fall, Spring)

121 STUDIO THEATRE I

Gardner

Group study of theatre practices intended to expand the student's knowledge of presentational modes. Ensemble exercises and improvisational work contribute to the development of a performance piece which is included in the studio theatre series. (Spring)

201 EXERCISES IN PLAYCRAFTING AND PERFORMANCE

Gardner

Examination and utilization of the creative elements of theatre stressing theory, script development, problem-solving, and critical analysis. Intended for the student with previous training or experience in theatre. (Fall)

221 STUDIO THEATRE II

Gardner

Continuation of group studies and exercises from Theatre 121. Students in Theatre 221 have additional individual responsibilities in ensemble leadership, script development, and production supervision. Open to Theatre majors and students who have completed Theatre 121, 201, or 245. (Spring)

245 ACTING I

Beasley, Costa, Green, Ripley

Study and application of the psycho-physical and emotional bases of performance. Emphasis on relaxation of the actor's body, ensemble improvisation, freeing the natural voice, acting on impulse. The training will culminate in realistic scene work. (Fall, Spring)

261 MODERN DRAMA

Fox

(Cross-listed English 261.) See English Department listing for description. (Fall)

295 INDEPENDENT STUDY

Staff

For the beginning or intermediate student with a special topic to be pursued under the direction and supervision of a faculty member. The topic of study must be reviewed and approved by the faculty member before permission is granted for enrollment. Normally, assigned work and criteria for evaluation will be clearly established by the instructor before the beginning of the semester and in all cases no later than the end of the Drop/Add period. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

335 FUNDAMENTALS OF STAGE DESIGN

Gardner

Introduction, through exercises and projects, to the principles of designing scenery, costumes, lighting, sound, and properties for the theatre. (Fall)

345 ACTING II

Beasley, Costa, Ripley

Study and application of the Stanislavsky acting process. Group and individual exercises designed to promote personalization and emotional fullness in characterization. Advanced techniques for scene and character analysis. Performances of scenes from classical realism, acting for the camera scenes, and Anton Chekhov's plays. Not open to first-year students. Prerequisite: Theatre 245. (Fall)

355 DIRECTING I

Beasley, Costa,

Fundamentals of directing for the stage, focusing on text analysis, blocking principles, the director-actor relationship, the director-designer conceptual process and scene work. Prerequisites: Theatre 245. (Fall)

362 COMMUNITY-BASED THEATRE FOR SOCIAL CHANGE

Green

Course investigates the potential for theatre and performance to be catalysts for social change. Focusing on Community-Based Theatre, the course explores ways in which performance has participated in struggles against oppression and has been integral to community-building. Course combines case studies from various historical and geographical contexts with practical activities. (Meets for extra hours; please consult with the instructor.) (Fall)

371 WORLD THEATRE HISTORY

Gardner, Green

Study of the theory and practice of stage performance throughout the world from ancient Greece to the present. Lectures, readings and discussions, with emphasis on the Western tradition. (Fall)

380–385 SPECIAL TOPICS IN THEATRE

Staff

Group study of selected theatre topics. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

381 ADVANCED ACTING SEMINAR

Staff

Prerequisite: Theatre 245.

386 VOICE AND MOVEMENT FOR ACTORS

Beasley, Ripley

Foundations of vocal technique and movement analysis for the actor. Provides a working knowledge of anatomical and kinesiological principles pertinent to voice/speech production. Prerequisite: Theatre 245. (Spring)

390–398 INDEPENDENT STUDY

Staff

For the advanced student with a special topic to be pursued under the direction and supervision of a faculty member. The topic of study must be reviewed and approved by the faculty member before permission is granted for enrollment. Normally, assigned work and criteria for evaluation will be clearly established by the instructor before the beginning of the semester; in all cases this will occur before the end of the Drop/Add period. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

390 INDEPENDENT STUDY—HISTORY AND CRITICISM

Green

Topics normally involve reading assignments, research projects and papers. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

391 INDEPENDENT STUDY—ADVANCED ACTING

Beasley, Costa

Topics normally involve role research, preparation and/or performance. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

392 INDEPENDENT STUDY—ADVANCED DIRECTING

Beasley, Costa

Topics normally involve background research, script analysis, promptbook preparation, scene and/or play direction. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

393 INDEPENDENT STUDY—ADVANCED DESIGN

Gardner

Topics may concentrate on any area of theatre design, including scenery, lighting, costumes, makeup, properties or sound, and normally involve design exercises and projects. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

394 INDEPENDENT STUDY—DRAMATURGY Staff
 Play analysis and interpretation in a performance-related context. Topics normally involve research in analytical methodologies as well as participation in production as an assistant to a faculty or guest director. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

395 INDEPENDENT STUDY—STAGE MANAGEMENT Staff
 Practicum in play preparation and oversight responsibility for mainstage or studio production, including rehearsal assistance, promptbook preparation, backstage communications and performance management. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

396 INDEPENDENT STUDY—PLAYWRITING Staff
 Topics normally involve writing exercises and a fully-developed original play script. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

397 INDEPENDENT STUDY-PRODUCTION MANAGEMENT AND ADVANCED DESIGN Staff

399 ADMINISTRATION OF THE NOT-FOR-PROFIT ARTS ORGANIZATION Gabbard
 Issues of administration, operations, evaluation, education, public cultural policies and funding as they relate to the visual and performing arts. Readings, papers, and discussions, including regular sessions with executive directors of Charlotte-Mecklenburg arts organizations. Recommended for juniors and seniors with interest in the arts, contemporary American culture, public policy, and/or relevant economic issues. (Fall of odd-numbered years.) Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

401 THEATRE PRACTICUM Staff
 Field work and study in production, administration or dramaturgy in an off-campus program approved by the department and supervised by a department faculty member. Preparatory readings, research, and written work relevant to the area of study are required. Grading for this course is Pass/Fail. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

436 LIGHTING DESIGN AND TECHNICAL PRODUCTION Gardner, Higdon
 Advanced study, through exercises and projects, of the tools, principles and techniques of designing and executing stage lighting, with parallel study of related technical areas. Prerequisite: Theatre 231. (Not offered 2005-06.)

445 ACTING III Beasley, Costa
 Advanced study of one or more production styles involving in-depth research and resulting in class performance. An effort will be made to tailor course content to promote the individual actor's development. Prerequisites: Theatre 245, 345 and permission of the instructor. (Spring of even numbered alternating years.)

455 DIRECTING II Beasley, Costa
 Study and employment of directing principles, culminating in presentation. Each student will direct a one-act play for the Studio Theatre Series. Prerequisites: Theatre 355 (251) and permission of the instructor. (Not open to first-year students.) Limited to juniors and seniors only. (Spring)

499 HONORS TUTORIAL AND THESIS Staff
 Required for graduation with honors in Theatre. For Theatre majors only with a 3.5 GPA in the theatre major and an overall GPA of 3.2. Prerequisite: Approval of topic by October 15, 2005 by the thesis committee. (Spring)

CONCENTRATIONS

The curriculum includes the opportunity for students to pursue a concentration as well as a major. A student may choose a concentration to complement the major, but concentrations are not required. Davidson offers concentrations in Applied Mathematics, Asian Studies, Computer Science, Education, Ethnic Studies, Film and Media Studies, Gender Studies, Genomics, International Studies, Medical Humanities, Neuroscience, and Southern Studies.

APPLIED MATHEMATICS CONCENTRATION

The Applied Mathematics Concentration offers an introduction to the process of modeling natural or social phenomena by mathematical systems. The goal of the concentration is to foster skills in the development of an appropriate variety of mathematical tools, to acquire an appreciation for the limitations of a given mathematical model and for modeling as a dynamic process, and to experience this process within a specific domain of application. The concentration has two tracks: a natural science emphasis and a social science emphasis. Either track is open to all students, regardless of major.

Requirements:

Natural Science Track

1. MAT 135 Calculus II: Multivariable Calculus
2. MAT 150 Linear Algebra and Mathematica with Applications
3. One course selected from:
 - MAT 235 Differential Equations and Infinite Series or
 - PHY 201 Mathematical Methods for Scientists
4. Physics 130, 230 General Physics with Calculus: 2 courses
5. One elective selected from:
 - BIO/CSC 310 Bioinformatics
 - BIO 341 Biostatistics and Experimental Design
 - CHE 351 Physical Chemistry: Thermodynamics
 - CHE 352 Physical Chemistry: Kinetics and Quantum Mechanics
 - CHE 401 Inorganic Chemistry
 - CSC 325 Numerical Analysis
 - MAT 210 Mathematical Modeling
 - MAT 235 Differential Equations and Infinite Series
 - MAT 335 Vector Calculus and Partial Differential Equations
 - PHY/CSC 200 Computational Physics
 - PHY 310 Electronics and Instrumentation
 - PHY 330 Intermediate Mechanics
 - PHY 350 Electricity and Magnetism
 - PHY 360 Quantum Mechanics I
 - PHY 400 Statistical and Thermal Physics

Social Science Track

1. MAT 135 Calculus II: Multivariable Calculus
2. One course selected from:
 - MAT 110 Applications of Finite Mathematics with Computer Programming or
 - MAT 150 Linear Algebra and Mathematica with Applications
3. One course selected from:
 - MAT 210 Mathematical Modeling or
 - MAT 235 Differential Equations and Infinite Series
4. One course selected from:
 - ECO 105 Statistics
 - PSY 310 Psychological Research—Design and Analysis
 - SOC 260 Social Analysis

5. Two electives selected from:

- ECO 205 Basic Economics
- ECO 215 Mathematical Economics
- ECO 236 Economics of Population
- ECO 317 Econometrics
- ECO 319 Game Theory and Strategic Behavior
- ECO 336 Economic Growth and Sustainable Development
- ECO 338 International Finance
- MAT 210 Mathematical Modeling
- MAT 235 Differential Equations and Infinite Series
- PHI 210 Games and Decisions
- SOC 371 Methods in Social Research

A student in the social science track whose major is mathematics must include at least one elective from a department other than mathematics.

The collection of elective courses an applicant plans to use to satisfy the concentration requirements may be amended subject to the approval of the Applied Mathematics Advisory Committee. A seminar or independent study involving substantive application of mathematical techniques may satisfy an elective requirement upon the consent of the Applied Mathematics Advisory Committee.

No more than two courses from those courses which constitute a student's major may be applied toward the concentration in Applied Mathematics. With the approval of the Applied Mathematics Advisory Committee, a student may substitute an additional elective course for a required course in the student's major.

At least one elective course must be taken during or after the spring semester of the junior year. A grade of "C" or higher is required in all courses applied toward the concentration.

Application Procedure:

The Applied Mathematics Concentration is administered by the Applied Mathematics Advisory Committee. The faculty liaison is Dr. Donna K. Molinek. A student must submit a written application to the Applied Mathematics Advisory Committee by the last day of class of the spring semester of the junior year. Earlier application increases the opportunity for coherence and flexibility in planning the applicant's course of study. Appropriate progress toward satisfying the required portion of the concentration should be made by the end of the sophomore year. Certification of completion of all the requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon the recommendation of the Applied Mathematics Advisory Committee.

ASIAN STUDIES CONCENTRATION

The Asian Studies Concentration provides students with a coherent, interdisciplinary introduction to the history, cultures, economics, and politics of this dynamic region. The concentration offers students a choice of three tracks: East Asian Studies, South Asian Studies, and Middle Eastern Studies. Concentrators will work with a faculty advisor to design a coherent program which may include some courses outside the chosen track.

Requirements:

Six courses distributed among at least three departments and as follows:

1. Completion of one of the following:

- CHI 120 Introduction to Chinese Culture
- HIS 171 India
- HIS 175 Islamic Civilization and the Middle East, 600–1500
- HIS 176 Islamic Civilization and the Middle East since 1500
- HIS 181 China
- HIS 183 East Asian History until 1600
- HIS 184 East Asian History—1600 to the Present

2. Completion of five other courses in Asian Studies. (Check with the Registrar's Office for a list of eligible courses.)

3. Study of a language appropriate to the student's chosen track. (The language and level of competence required will depend on the student's program and on the resources available for language instruction.)
4. An international experience in Asia.

Note: A grade of "C" or higher must be earned in all graded courses applied towards the concentration. No more than two 100-level courses may be included in the concentration; no more than two of the six courses may be applied both to the concentration and to a major.

Application Procedure:

The Asian Studies Concentration is administered by the Asian Studies Advisory Committee. The faculty liaison is Dr. Fugi Lozada. A student must submit a written application at the beginning of the junior year to the Asian Studies Advisory Committee. If a substitution for any of the courses is to be considered, the applicant must explain in writing the reason for the request and show how such substitutions would enhance the proposal. Certification of completion of all the requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon the recommendation of the Asian Studies Advisory Committee.

COMPUTER SCIENCE CONCENTRATION

The Computer Science Concentration, jointly sponsored by the departments of Mathematics and Physics, provides a solid foundation for further study in the subject of computer science. Requirements:

Six courses distributed as follows:

1. Either CSC 121 Programming and Problem Solving, or PHY/CSC 200 Computational Physics;
2. MAT 221 Discrete Methods; and
3. Either CSC 231 Data Structures or CSC 223 Introduction to Object-Oriented Programming.
4. Two courses chosen from:
 - CSC 325 Numerical Analysis,
 - CSC 331 Design and Analysis of Algorithms,
 - PHY 310 Electronics and Instrumentation,
 - If CSC 231 fulfills requirement 3 above, then either CSC 223 or 323 Object-Oriented Programming; if CSC 223 fulfills this requirement, then either CSC 321 or 231 Data Structures.
5. One elective course selected from one of the courses allowed in item 4 above that was not used to satisfy that requirement, or CSC 310 Bioinformatics or CSC 482 Computer Science Seminar or an approved independent study or seminar at the 300- or 400-level (normally CSC 395, CSC 396, or PHY/CSC 397).

No more than two courses from those courses which constitute a student's major may be applied toward the concentration. A grade of "C" or higher is required in all courses applied toward the concentration.

The Physics Computation Center in Dana Science Building and the Genomics, Applied Mathematics, and Computer Science laboratory in Chambers provide high-powered computing environments for students in advanced computer science courses. Students wishing to balance their academic experience in the Computer Science Concentration with more practical experience in computing are encouraged to investigate an outside internship, for example, with Davidson's Information Technology Services.

Application Procedure:

The Computer Science Concentration is administered by the Computer Science Advisory Committee. The faculty liaison is Dr. Michael Mossinghoff. A student must submit written application to the Advisory Committee by the end of the first week of classes in the fall semester of the senior year. Since some courses in the concentration have several prerequisites and some courses are offered in alternate years, early planning is advised. Certification of completion of all requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon the recommendation of the Computer Science Advisory Committee.

EDUCATION CONCENTRATION

The concentration in Education prepares students to enter the field of teaching. The concentration has two tracks: 1. the traditional student-teaching (licensure) track leading to North Carolina Teaching Licensure in English, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, Latin, French, or Spanish; and 2. the interdisciplinary track designed for students who are interested in education but not currently interested in pursuing teaching licensure—these students might be preparing for graduate school, for teaching at an independent school where licensure is not required, or for obtaining a lateral-entry position in a discipline for which Davidson does not offer licensure (e.g., Art, German, Music, Russian, Theatre).

Requirements:

Licensure Track: Students should meet with the Chair of the Education Department during their first year to plan their schedules and discuss application procedures.

Completion of:

1. four courses before the final semester of the senior year: PSY 101 and EDU 121, 242, and 243 with a grade of “C” or higher;
2. in the final semester of the senior year, complete the student-teaching block by taking EDU 400, 410-411, and 420 concurrently; and
3. prior to student-teaching:
 - a. achieve designated minimum scores on the Praxis 1 series,
 - b. earn a minimum overall GPA of 2.5,
 - c. provide recommendations from the Dean of Students, the departmental advisor, and one other faculty member regarding the student’s interest and suitability for teaching; and
 - d. be approved by the Teacher Education Committee.

Interdisciplinary Track:

Completion of six courses with a grade of “C” or higher to include:

1. EDU 121 History of Educational Theory and Practice;
2. three supporting courses from the clusters below;
3. EDU 302 Field Placement in Education in the final semester;
4. a 300- or 400-level course other than an independent study in the major that would have particular value to the candidate’s teaching, with prior approval based on an essay demonstrating an intellectual link between the course and education; and
5. no more than two courses which are also part of the a student’s major.

Cluster 1 (Learning, Cognition, and Development) One course selected from the list below.

- EDU/PSY 241 Child Development
- EDU 242 Educational Psychology and Teaching Exceptionalities
- EDU/PSY 243 Adolescent Development
- PSY 276 Cognitive Psychology

Cluster 2 (School and Society) Two courses from one sub-cluster, or one course from a sub-cluster and an additional course from Cluster 1. Two different departments must be represented.

- a. African American, Asian American, Hispanic, and Native-American Cultures
 - ENG 282 African American Literature
 - ENG 384 Native American Literature
 - HIS 302 African American History to 1887
 - HIS 303 African American History since 1887
 - HIS 350 African American Intellectual History
 - PSY 250 African American Psychology
 - SPA 244 US Latino Literature in English
- b. Communication and Language

Application Procedure:

The concentration in Education is administered by the Teacher Education Committee. The faculty liaison is Dr. Richard Gay. A student must submit written application to the Teacher Education Committee by the last class day of the fall semester of the junior year. The proposal must specify the courses to be used to satisfy the concentration requirements. Certification of completion of all requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon the recommendation of the Teacher Education Committee.

ETHNIC STUDIES CONCENTRATION

The Ethnic Studies Concentration provides students with an understanding of the forces that have made African Americans, Native Americans, and Latinos integral, and yet distinct, groups in American society. This interdisciplinary course of study, offered by departments in the humanities and social sciences, introduces analytical skills that are required to understand the cultural, economic and political factors, both historical and modern, that have shaped these ethnic groups.

The inclusion of theories of ethnicity and race assists students in developing the critical tools necessary to understand and evaluate issues of democracy and cultural pluralism in a complex country and world. The concentration also encourages comparative study of ethnicity, thus emphasizing that the study of ethnic identity and relations is a part of understanding the human experience.

Requirements:

1. Completion of six courses to include:
 - a. ANT or SOC 205 Ethnic Relations
 - b. Three courses from one track and one course from a second track. At least two of these four courses must be at the 300 level or higher. An approved independent study course may substitute for one of these four courses.

- c. One course from among the following electives that emphasizes comparative ethnic studies or a course from one of the above tracks provided that no more than three courses are chosen from a single track). An approved independent study course may substitute for this requirement.

Electives:

ANT 208 Early Cities and States
 ANT 257 The African Continuum
 ANT 350 Art, Society, and Culture
 ENG 281 Literature of the American South
 ENG 284 Ethnic American Literature
 HIS 340 Colonial America
 HIS 343 The Old South
 HIS 344 The South Since 1865
 MUS 141 World Musics
 SOC 245 The Family in Comparative Perspective

- d. Of the six courses applied to the concentration no more than three may also satisfy the student's academic major. The six courses must also represent no fewer than three academic disciplines.
2. An approved essay based on a first-hand experience directly related to the student's special focus—Africana, Native American, or Latino. Topics may be related to participation in an internship, field research, or international study. The essay is due to the faculty liaison no later than the fifth week of classes in the semester following the completion of the first-hand experience. Standards for the paper are established by the faculty liaison.
 3. A grade of "C" or higher is required in all courses applied toward the concentration.
 4. Only one course in any track can be taken pass/fail, and this depends on GPA.

Application Procedure:

The Ethnic Studies Concentration is administered by the Ethnic Studies Advisory Committee. The faculty liaison is Dr. Brenda A. Flanagan. Students shall submit a written proposal to the Ethnic Studies faculty liaison by the last day of the fall semester of the junior year. The proposal must specify the courses to be used to satisfy the concentration requirements. Certification of completion of all the requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon the recommendation of the Ethnic Studies faculty liaison.

FILM AND MEDIA STUDIES CONCENTRATION

The Film and Media Studies Concentration promotes the development of multimedia literacy among our students, providing an interdisciplinary understanding of the history, theory, language, and cultural aspects of film and other audio-visual media. Combining introductory and advanced courses in film and media studies with electives from the humanities and the social sciences, the concentration seeks to create critically sensitive readers of film and media while fostering insight into one of the principal forms of art and communication in the contemporary era. Courses incorporate aesthetic, thematic, and theoretical analysis and include a variety of national cinemas in addition to the Hollywood tradition, promoting the multicultural sensitivity essential to mature world citizenship. Experience in film or video production helps to prepare students to function more effectively and participate more actively in the ever-developing multimedia culture of the 21st century.

Requirements:

1. Satisfactory completion of six courses to include:
 - a. CIS 220 Introduction to Film and Media Studies
 - b. CIS 420 Seminar in Film and Media Studies (Prerequisite: CIS 220)
 - c. Four electives selected from the following courses:
 - ANT 382 Anthropology of Visual Culture
 - CHI 207 Engendering Chinese Cinema
 - CHI 405 Ideology, Narrative, and Apparatus in Chinese Cinema
 - ENG 293 Film as Narrative Art
 - ENG 393 Studies in Literature and the Visual Arts
 - ENG 395, 396 Independent Studies in Film
 - ENG 493 Film Art
 - FRE 365 French Film (in French)
 - GER 231 Fascism on Film (in English) or Gender on Film (in English)
 - GER 231 Gender on Film (in English)
 - GER 421 German-American Relations in Film (in German)
 - GER 455 Angst and Desire in German Cinema (in German)
 - HIS 383 Asian Nationalism and Martial Arts Film
 - MUS 228 Film Music
 - MUS 380 Hermann & Hitchcock
 - SPA 353 Contemporary Spanish Film (in Spanish)
 - SPA 356 Contemporary Latin-American Film (in Spanish) OR
 - Plural Spain in Film and Literature (in Spanish)

Some departments offer seminars or permit independent studies in film and media. Check with the faculty liaison for specific approval (prior to enrollment) to include one of these in the concentration.

2. No more than two production courses may be included in the concentration.
3. Only one independent study may be included in the concentration.
4. No more than two courses in the concentration may also be in the student's major field of study.
5. No more than two courses taken away from Davidson may be counted toward the concentration.
6. A grade of "C-" or higher must be earned in all graded courses applied toward the concentration.

Application Procedure:

The Film and Media Studies Concentration is administered by the Film and Media Studies Advisory Committee. The faculty liaison is Dr. Alan Singerman. Students submit a written application to the Advisory Committee by the last day of the fall semester of the junior year. The application will specify the courses to be used to satisfy the concentration requirements. If one of the proposed electives is an independent study, the student shall provide for the Advisory Committee's approval a complete description of that course prior to the term of enrollment. Certification of completion of all the requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon the recommendation of the Film and Media Studies Advisory Committee.

GENDER STUDIES CONCENTRATION

A Gender Studies Concentration offers students the opportunity to explore traditional disciplines through an interdisciplinary perspective that focuses on the significance of gender as a social construct. Students study the unique contributions of women and men to society, science, humanities, and the arts; the importance of gender and gender roles in a variety of social and historical contexts; and new scholarly methods and theories arising from interdisciplinary study. The concentration encourages students to examine historical and contemporary representations of women and men in religion, in the arts and literature, in social and political theory, and in the sciences. It fosters scholarly investigation that recognizes gender as an empirical reality. While the immediate goal of Gender Studies is to stimulate intellectual curiosity and to provide new strategies for investigation, the long-term goal is to help Davidson men and women function freely and fairly in the world.

Requirements:

1. Satisfactory completion of 5 courses to include:
 - a. one introductory course from: SOC 217 Gender and Society; ENG 295 Women Writers; HIS 306 American Women to 1870 or 307 American Women 1870 to the Present;
 - b. one 400-level seminar or a department seminar to be designated by the Advisory Committee;
 - c. three electives, one of which must be at the 300- or 400-level. Electives are selected from any course in section a. above as well as the following group:
 - ANT 343 Gender, Power, and Culture
 - ART 222 Painted Women - Women Painting
 - CHI 207 Engendering Chinese Cinema
 - ECO 227 Gender and Economics
 - ENG 282 African American Literature
 - ENG 392 Studies in Literature by Women
 - FRE 223 Childhood and Youth
 - FRE 225 Male and Female
 - FRE 320 The French Novel
 - HIS 225 Women and Work: Gender and Society in Britain, 1700-1918
 - HIS 422 Gender in Early Modern Europe
 - REL 142 Autobiography and Religion
 - REL 248 Christianity and Nature
 - REL 320 The Genesis Narrative
 - REL 355 Woman and the Body in the Christian Tradition
 - REL 365 Women in American Religion
 - SOC 246 American Families
 - SPA 375 Latin American Women Writers

In addition many departments, English in particular, offer special topics courses that are or can be approved as electives for the Gender Studies Concentration. Please check with the faculty liaison for a complete listing and approvals when planning a program of study.

2. A maximum of one elective may be an independent study, tutorial or practicum.
3. Only two courses in the concentration may be in the student's major field of study.
4. A grade of "C-" or higher is required in all courses applied toward the concentration.

Application Procedure:

The Gender Studies Concentration is administered by the Gender Studies Advisory Committee of the Faculty. The faculty liaison is Dr. Ann Fox (Fall semester 2003, see Dr. M. McCarthy). Students shall submit a written application to the Advisory Committee by the last day of fall semester of the junior year. The application will specify the courses to be used to satisfy the concentration requirements. If one of the proposed electives is an independent study, tutorial, practicum, or internship, the student shall provide for the Advisory Committee's approval a complete description of that course prior to the term of enrollment. Certification of completion of all the requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon the recommendation of the Gender Studies Advisory Committee.

GENOMICS CONCENTRATION

In 1953, two young scientists published the structure of DNA, a Nobel Prize winning discovery that gave birth to the interdisciplinary field of genomics. Beginning in 1990, scientists around the world embarked upon the Human Genome Project, with the goal of determining the composition of the entire human genome. The project is now complete, but there is so much more to learn from the genome: how our bodies function, how to prevent diseases, what makes different species unique, and even how life evolved on earth.

To ensure that future scientists, physicians, and policymakers are prepared to take full advantage of the genomic revolution, the National Research Council (NRC) issued a report (Bio2010) calling upon academic institutions to alter the way undergraduates prepare for post-baccalaureate education. The genomics concentration fulfills NRC recommendations to provide undergraduates with a strong foundation in biological, mathematical, physical, and information sciences. The diverse academic background provided by this concentration in the context of a liberal arts education will help prepare students of all majors for exciting fields such as drug discovery, pharmaceutical industry, biomedical sciences, patent law, and ethics.

Requirements:

The Genomics Concentration requires six courses that meet the criteria below, with no more than two courses “double counting” for the concentration and a student’s major. No more than three of these six courses may be listed under any single department or prefix (e.g., CSC). No more than one of these six courses can be taken pass/fail. A maximum of one transfer course credit can be applied towards the concentration if approved by the advisors.

1. Three required courses: CSC 310 Bioinformatics; BIO 309 Genomics, Proteomics and Systems Biology and 343 Laboratory Methods in Genomics.
2. Three courses from the list below. Only two of these three courses can come from a single course prefix (department or CSC). This requirement fosters additional diversity in a student’s curriculum. Because of their similarity, either CSC 121 or PHY 200 can be applied towards the concentration, but not both.

- BIO 301 Genetics
- BIO 302 Microbiology
- BIO 303 Biochemistry
- BIO 304 Molecular Biology
- BIO 306 Developmental Biology
- BIO 308 Cell Biology
- BIO 333 Cellular and Molecular Neuroscience

PSY 302 Psychological Research—Behavioral Pharmacology
 PSY 303 Psychological Research—Behavioral Neuroscience
 PSY 304 Psychological Research—Memory
 PSY 310 Psychological Research—Design and Analysis
 PSY 324 Advanced Neuroscience

Application Procedure:

Students interested in pursuing the Genomics Concentration should contact one of the two primary advisors (Dr. Malcolm Campbell or Dr. Laurie Heyer) as early as possible to discuss curriculum options. Those who decide to pursue the concentration must submit a written application to either of the primary genomics advisors no later than the last day of the spring term in their junior year. Certification of completion of all requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon the recommendation of the Genomics Advisory Committee

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES CONCENTRATION

Given the international focus of contemporary problems, students have the possibility of studying how different disciplines contribute to understanding and formulating effective solutions to these global challenges. The International Studies Concentration offers a student the opportunity to pursue a coherent, multi-disciplined program in international studies.

Requirements:

1. Six courses chosen from the list of approved courses in international studies. Three courses shall be of a general international or multi-cultural nature; three courses shall be related to one particular geographic area. The six courses, at least two of which must be at or above the 300 level, shall be distributed among at least three departments and may include no more than two courses from the department of the applicant's major. A grade of "C" or higher must be earned on any graded course in order for the course to count toward the concentration. The approved list of courses is updated annually by the faculty liaison.
2. Proficiency in a modern foreign language, according to standards set by each language department or by the director of the Self-Instructional Language Program (SILP). This proficiency is to be at a level significantly above that required for graduation. Students should consult the chair of the relevant department or the director of SILP prior to submitting applications.
3. A summer, semester, or year during the student's college career spent in study or work outside the United States. Each candidate shall submit a reflective and substantive paper based on the experience abroad to the chair of the International Education Committee by early April of the senior year, according to standards specified by that committee. Note: In those individual cases in which financial limitations cannot be overcome and thus prevent an international experience, the International Education Committee may assign a substitute experience.

Application Procedure:

The International Studies Concentration is administered by the International Education Committee of the faculty. The faculty liaison is Dr. Dennis R. Appleyard. Students shall submit a written application to the Committee by the conclusion of the late Drop/Add period of the fall semester of the senior year. Certification of completion of all the requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon the recommendation of the International Education Committee.

MEDICAL HUMANITIES CONCENTRATION

Davidson's Medical Humanities Program promotes an interdisciplinary understanding of medicine and health care. It enables students to appreciate the strengths and limits of the natural sciences, social sciences and humanities as they seek to explain and to achieve a measure of control over disease, illness and suffering. It helps students to grasp the institutional character of health care delivery, especially how legal and political institutions influence the production, distribution and delivery of services.

Medical Humanities courses emphasize the role ethical values play in defining problems as “medical,” worthy of scientific study, calling for mobilization of social as well as individual resources. The courses help students to develop the analytical skills that permit clear thinking and writing about the complex tradeoffs involved in developing, using and paying for health care.

The Davidson/CMC Connection. In 1990, Davidson College and the Carolinas Medical Center joined in a formal agreement “to cooperate and share resources toward the common betterment of health care, the education and training of physicians, and improved understanding of the relationship between medicine and society.” Under the auspices of this agreement, Davidson students enjoy access to an expanded range of educational opportunities that only a large teaching hospital can provide.

Requirements:

1. Philosophy 130 Medical Ethics; required of all.
2. Five electives, only two of which count toward the major. No more than two electives may be taken from any one department or from those listed by the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies. Electives are selected from:

- ANT 340 Medical Anthropology
- BIO 304 Molecular Biology
- BIO 307 Immunology
- BIO 310 (MAT 487) Computational Biology
- BIO 331 Behavioral Neuroscience
- CIS 303 History of Medicine
- CIS 365 Literature and Medicine
- CIS 380 Issues in Medicine
- CIS 390 Health Care Ethics
- CIS 397 Primary Health Care in the New Millennium
- ECO 222 Health Economics
- PHI 215 Ethics
- POL 314 Public Policy
- POL 316 Civil Liberties
- PSY 231 Abnormal Psychology
- PSY 245 Psychology of Aging
- PSY 303 Psychological Research—Behavioral Neuroscience
- PSY 304 Psychological Research—Memory
- PSY 314 Psychological Research—Clinical
- PSY 315 Psychological Research—Child Development
- PSY 319 Psychological Research—Adult Development
- PSY 324 Advanced Neuroscience
- REL 256 Religion, Ethics, and Medicine
- SOC 360 Medical Sociology

With the written approval of the program director, departmental seminars from biology, philosophy, political science, or psychology may also be included as electives for the concentration.

One of the electives may be an independent study, tutorial, or practicum arranged with a member of the Medical Humanities faculty. Students planning to do this must meet with Dr. Lance Stell.

Application Procedure:

The Medical Humanities Steering Committee oversees and guides the Medical Humanities Concentration which is administered by Dr. Lance Stell, the program director. Students interested in completing the concentration should obtain an application form in Preyer 105 and arrange to meet with Dr. Stell to review the application and proposal for the concentration. If one of the proposed electives is an independent study or practicum, the student shall ordinarily provide for approval a complete description of that course prior to the term of enrollment. Any changes to the courses used to fulfill the concentration must be submitted in writing to the director for his approval. Certification of completion of all requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon the recommendation of the Director of the Medical Humanities Program.

NEUROSCIENCE CONCENTRATION

Life scientists have come to recognize that an understanding of how the brain, the “organ of consciousness,” functions and endows human beings with the capacity to know, to feel, and to value, requires a multidisciplinary research effort. The Neuroscience Concentration introduces students to a field of science that has experienced an explosion of information and technological innovation. It provides students with a model for understanding how the conventional boundaries separating disciplines appearing to be incompatible can evaporate when new intellectual challenges confront us. In keeping with the liberal arts tradition, the concentration provides students with an opportunity to explore another dimension of our humanity—the biological substrate of all our moral and mental faculties.

Requirements:

The Neuroscience Concentration requires a minimum of six courses and involves two components:

1. Required courses:

- a. BIO 331 / PSY 303 Psychological Research—Behavioral Neuroscience
- b. Students must take at least one of the following two courses (taking both is highly recommended): PSY 324 / BIO 332 Advanced Neuroscience or BIO 333 Cellular and Molecular Neurobiology

2. At least three electives chosen from a list annually reviewed and approved by the Neuroscience Advisory Committee (one from outside student’s major and one—and only one—must be independent study/research):

- ANT 102 Humankind Evolving
- BIO 301 Genetics
- BIO 303 Biochemistry
- BIO 304 Molecular Biology
- BIO 306 Developmental Biology
- BIO 307 Immunology
- BIO 308 Cell Biology
- BIO 309 Genomics, Proteomics, and Systems Biology
- BIO310 Computational Biology
- BIO 311 Comparative Anatomy
- BIO 312 Animal Physiology
- BIO 323 Animal Behavior
- BIO 341 Biostatistics and Experimental Design
- BIO 351 Group Investigations
- BIO 361–362 Seminar
- BIO 371–373 Research/Independent Study
- CHE 303 Bioorganic Chemistry
- CHE 308 Chemistry of Biomedical Polymers
- CHE 309 Medicinal Chemistry
- MAT 210 Mathematical Modeling
- PHI 130 Medical Ethics
- PHI 217 Philosophy of Mind
- PSY195 Independent Study
- PSY 276 Cognitive Psychology
- PSY 282 Learning
- PSY 284 Drugs and Behavior
- PSY 301 Psychological Research—Perception and Attention
- PSY 302 Psychological Research—Behavioral Pharmacology
- PSY 304 Psychological Research—Memory
- PSY 305 Psychological Research—Learning
- PSY 330–349 Tutorial
- PSY 350–380 Advanced Seminar in Experimental Psychology

No more than two courses in the concentration may also be counted toward the major.

A grade of “C” or higher is required in all courses applied toward the concentration.

Application Procedures:

The Neuroscience Concentration is administered by the Neuroscience Advisory Committee. The faculty liaison is Dr. Julio Ramirez. Students shall submit a written proposal to the Advisory Committee by the last day of the spring semester of the sophomore year. The proposal should specify the courses that will be used to satisfy the concentration requirements. If any of the courses are to be independent studies, research courses, or seminars, the student must provide the Advisory Committee with a complete description of that course before the semester of enrollment. Certification of completion of all requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon recommendation of the Neuroscience Advisory Committee.

SOUTHERN STUDIES CONCENTRATION

A concentration in Southern Studies offers students the opportunity to explore traditional disciplines through an interdisciplinary perspective that focuses on the significance of the American South and societies in the western hemisphere that directly affected its development as a region comprised of different cultures and peoples. Students study the American South and its history, politics, religious traditions, visual and musical images, languages, archeological past, natural environment, as well as its future. This concentration encourages students to examine the myths and realities of life in the South and to foster scholarly investigation of this unique and fascinating region in order to understand its place and role in the nation. While the immediate goal of a concentration in Southern Studies is to stimulate intellectual curiosity and to provide strategies for investigation of this region, the long term goal is to help Davidson students understand the universal by examining the particular and come to a greater understanding of the larger world.

Requirements:

1. Satisfactory completion of five courses or their equivalent to include:
 - a. One introductory course: HIS 343 The Old South; HIS 344 The South Since 1865; ENG 281 Literature of the American South.
 - b. At least one 300- or 400-level seminar: HIS 440 Slavery in the Americas, 451 African American Cultural History, 455 Law and Society in American History; ART 402 Visual Traditions of the American South; ENG 486 Faulkner and Welty; or department seminars to be designated by the Advisory Committee..
 - c. Three electives chosen from the approved list of courses below. One elective may be an independent study (390s), practicum, or summer internship undertaken with the approval of the Advisory Committee.
 - ANT 205 Ethnic Relations
 - ANT 222 African Civilizations
 - ANT 257 The African Continuum
 - ECO 221 Economic History of the United States
 - ENG 281 Literature of the American South
 - ENG 282 African American Literature
 - ENG 383 Caribbean Literature
 - ENG 486 Faulkner and Welty
 - FRE 361 Francophone Africa and the Caribbean
 - HIS 302 African American History to 1877
 - HIS 303 African American History Since 1877
 - HIS 340 Colonial America
 - HIS 343 The Old South
 - HIS 344 The South Since 1865
 - HIS 346 The Civil War and Reconstruction
 - HIS 357 The Civil Rights Movement in the United States
 - HIS 440 Slavery in the Americas
 - HIS 451 African American Cultural History
 - HIS 455 Law and Society in American History
 - MUS 122 Music of the United States

REL 361 Religion in the American South
SOC 205 Ethnic Relations
SPA 374 Caribbean Peoples, Ideas, and Arts

2. Only two courses in the student's major may be counted toward the concentration; no more than two courses in any one department may be counted toward the concentration; and no more than two courses focusing on the Caribbean may count toward this concentration.
3. A grade of "C-" or higher is required in all courses counted toward the concentration.
4. In addition many departments offer special topics courses that are or can be approved as electives for the Southern Studies Concentration. Please check with the faculty liaison for a complete listing and approvals when planning a program of study.

Application Procedures:

The Southern Studies Concentration is administered by the Southern Studies Advisory Committee. The faculty liaison is Dr. Sally McMillen. Students shall submit a written application to the Advisory Committee by the end of fall semester of their junior year. The application will designate the courses to be used to satisfy concentration requirements. Any internship or course taken at another institution must be approved by the Advisory Committee. Certification of completion of all requirements for the concentration is made by the Registrar upon the recommendation of the Southern Studies Advisory Committee.

OFFICIAL RECORD, 2005-06

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES (as of January 2005)

Davidson College is governed by a Board of Trustees. Twenty-four of the Trustees represent the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), sixteen of which are confirmed by the presbyteries within the State of North Carolina, and eight at-large from the national membership. Twelve are elected at-large by the Trustees themselves and eight by the alumni. In addition, five members of the Board serve ex officio, including the President-elect and President of the National Alumni Association, the Chair and Past Chair of the Board of Visitors, and the President of the College.

CURRICULAR ENRICHMENT

In addition to classroom and laboratory instruction, Davidson faculty and students have a variety of opportunities to enrich their academic environment and experience. Some of these include support for research and internships both on and away from campus. Others include support for special projects, visiting speakers, awards, seminars, and instructional materials.

The endowed funds listed below have been established to enhance the academic curriculum in specific ways.

George L. Abernethy Endowment—Established by Robert Abernethy, son of this Richardson and Dana Professor of Philosophy from 1946–1976, to strengthen the intellectual life of Davidson by funding programs and projects related to the areas of Professor Abernethy's principal interests and life-long work—philosophy, ethics, politics, economics, public health, world affairs, and comparative religion.

Barron Fund—Established by Dr. F. Hutton Barron, Class of 1961, to support meritorious faculty projects, providing opportunities for personal and professional growth.

Richard R. Bernard Society for Mathematics—Honoring Professor Emeritus Bernard, membership in the Bernard Society is extended to mathematics majors. The Bernard Society supports the traditional Math Coffees, visiting speakers, and other special projects to enhance the study and teaching of mathematics.

Frank Bliss Memorial Photography Fund—For students interested in photography who wish to pursue a non-credit project; established by family and friends in memory of Professor Frank Bliss.

Henry and Daisy Bridges Earth Lecture Series—Established by Henry P. Bridges, Jr., Class of 1950, to provide perpetual funding for programs and activities which will increase the discourse about our planet and inform others of important concerns about its ecology.

Joel Conarroe Lecture Series—Established through the generosity of an anonymous donor to honor Joel Conarroe, Davidson College Class of 1956 and President Emeritus of the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation, this lecture series is to enhance the literary experience of Davidson students.

HONOR SOCIETIES

Phi Beta Kappa—This nation's pre-eminent honor society recognizes outstanding achievement in the study of the liberal arts in the United States. The oldest of the American Greek-letter societies, Phi Beta Kappa was founded in 1776 at the College of William and Mary and now has 270 chapters at colleges and universities across the country. The Davidson College Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa received its charter as Gamma of North Carolina from the United Chapters (now the Phi Beta Kappa Society) on March 1, 1923. Since then, the local chapter has elected more than 2,200 students to membership-in-course. Seniors at Davidson who maintain an overall average of 3.6 or above on at least eighteen graded, countable courses are ordinarily considered for election, which is by ballot of faculty and staff of the local chapter. Election to membership, however, is not automatic on the attainment of a certain grade average. In accordance with the constitution of the national Society, students elected must have qualifications of "high scholarship, liberal culture, and good character." Not more than 12.5 percent of a senior class may be elected. Elections take place during the spring semester.

Omicron Delta Kappa—This national leadership society recognizes eminence in five phases of campus life: scholarship; athletics; social and religious activities; publications; and forensics, dramatics, music, and other cultural activities. O.D.K. has three purposes: (1) to recognize persons who have attained a high standard of efficiency in college and collegiate activities, and to inspire others to strive for conspicuous attainment along similar lines; (2) to bring together the most representative men and women in all phases of collegiate life and thus to mold the sentiment of the institution on questions of local and intercollegiate interest; and (3) to bring together members of the faculty and student body on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

Omicron Delta Epsilon—The economics honor society has as its objective the promotion of scholarly achievement in economics, fellowship among those in the profession, and understanding of key economic issues and problems.

Alpha Epsilon Delta—The Davidson chapter of this national honor premedical fraternity is North Carolina Alpha.

Delta Phi Alpha—A nationally organized honor fraternity that recognizes achievement in German. The society seeks to promote greater understanding of German life, culture, and language.

Alpha Phi Omega—This national service fraternity is composed of students who wish to carry through college days the ideal of service to college, community, and nation.

Alpha Psi Omega—A national honor dramatic fraternity restricted to juniors and seniors who have demonstrated a particular interest in theater through participation in the college drama program.

Eta Sigma Phi—An honor society founded at the University of Chicago in order to stimulate interest in the history, art, and literature of ancient Greece and Rome, and to promote closer relationships among students interested in classical study.

Gamma Sigma Epsilon—A national fraternity recognizing excellence in chemistry. The chapter at Davidson, founded in 1919, is the mother chapter.

Omicron Gamma Chapter of the Order of Omega—A national Greek Service and Leadership Honor Fraternity for men and women who are outstanding within their own organization. Annual initiation to the Order of Omega is open to the top five percent of the Greek population on campus. As a member in this organization students are charged with taking an active role in campus wide leadership and participation as a group in service activities.

Phi Beta Delta—An international honor society open to juniors, seniors, faculty, and staff. It recognizes exceptional achievement in international studies or service and promotion of international awareness.

Scabbard and Blade—A national military honor society designed to recognize excellence in the study of military affairs and to promote interest in military education. Lifetime membership is by election as an outstanding ROTC student in the junior or senior year. The Davidson chapter, B Company, 5th Regiment, has been in continuous existence since 1923.

Sigma Delta Psi—An honor athletic fraternity open to all students who can perform all 14 prescribed athletic feats.

Sigma Pi Sigma—The national Physics Honor Society. Founded in 1921, the chapter at Davidson is the mother chapter.
